Supper was served at 6.30 o'clock followed by a program, consisting of numbers by Master Poole, Mrs. C. N. Whitney and Mr. Whitney and others.

—Edward Ethier of Nonantum has been missing from his home on Adams street since April 9. He had been out of work for some time and left home in search of employment. He was despondent when last seen and his friends fear he has committed suicide. He is a carpenter, 29 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height, dark hair and light mustache. He wore a dark coat and vest and light striped trousers.

—The West End Company on Wednesday began distributing paving stones, ties, and other material for the widening of streets, and is to begin at once laying double tracks along those streets, to connect with Oak Square. Cars must be running within three months, and it is said that the company will not wait for Boston to widen the end of Tremont street. The widening in Newton has progressed so far as to allow of the tracks being laid at once.

—By direction of Sergt. Purcell, Terrance Mahan, Arthur McGonigle, Chas. McGonigle and Joseph Mahan were arrested yesterday morning at their homes at Nonantum, charged with the larceny from a building at West Newton, and their cases was heard Friday morning. It was charged that they entered two new houses on Kensington street at West Newton, and carried away the copper boilers, brass faucets, and lead pipe they contained. The value of the stock taken will aggregate $100. After a lengthy trial Judge Kennedy found the guilty and sentenced them to the Concord Reformatory, where they must serve not less than nine months or more than two years.

—Thursday evening the members of Waban lodge, I. O. O. F., celebrated the 25th anniversary of the organization of that lodge. It is the oldest lodge of Odd Fellows in the city. The celebration took place in Dennison hall at Newtonville, and after the business meeting, which was held at 7.30, there was a concert by Spring's orchestra, and Miss Maud Scott of Brighton gave some interesting recitations and songs. Representative of the Supreme Lodge Pinkham of Worcester was present, and gave a short address on the order. A collation followed, after which the floor was cleared for dancing. There were 225 present, and the event was a notable one in Odd Fellow history in Newton. It was stated that Waban Lodge had the honor of having the oldest past grand in the country, Mr. L. D. Boies of Newton, who was unable to be present on account of illness.

—Mr. J. E. Lawrence and family have removed to Winthrop for the summer.

—Mrs. Harriet King, formerly of South Boston, has taken a house on Maple street.

—Messrs. D. Fletcher Barber and Charles Lawrence attended the meeting of the Methodist Social Union in Boston, Monday evening.

Hovey-Sanborn.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING AT NEWTON CENTRE ATTENDED BY MANY GUESTS.

Miss Sara H. Sanborn, daughter of the late Hon. John H. Sanborn, and Mr. Frederick H. Hovey, youngest son of Rev. Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D., president of the Newton Theological Institution, were married Wednesday evening at the First Baptist church, Newton Centre.

It was a notable wedding, uniting two well known and esteemed Newton families. Over 1000 invitations had been issued, and the spacious church was thronged long before the hour set for the ceremony. Representative people of the Newtons, Brookline, Cambridge and Boston were numbered among the guests. Delegations were present, also, from New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Hovey, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. Russell H. Conwell of Philadelphia, the bride's cousin. The maid of honor was Miss E. Winifred Nickerson of West Newton, whose engagement to Mr. Fred S. Pratt of West Newton has just been announced, and the bridesmaids Misses Helen R. Rice, cousin of the groom, Melora C. Thomas of Newton Centre, Edith H. and Jeanette A. Sanborn of Boston, Agnes E. Cornell of Philadelphia, cousin of the bride, Grace M. Rowe, Alice H. Sylvester of Newton Centre and Marian Mandell of Newton. They were gowned in white muslin over green silk, and carried bouquets of white pinks. Each also wore a handsome crescent pin of pearls, the gift of the bride.

The ushers were all well known tennis players—Messrs. Malcolm G. Chase of Providence, Arthur E. Foote of New Haven, Leon M. Conwell of Philadelphia, cousin of the bride, George E. Warren, Jr., of Newton Centre, Allan Hubbard of Boston, Edward R. Coffin of Lynn, Joseph Wiggin of Malden, Carl T. Keller of Newton, William T. May, Frederic C. Rising and Appleton W. Swift of Newton Centre and Frederick S. Pratt of West Newton.

The chancel was handsomely decorated with palms and potted plants, relieved by white lilies, and the aisle posts were entwined with laurel, tied with white ribbons.

Mr. George A. Burdett, organist at the Central church, Boston, presided at the organ. The bridal party entered the church at 7.30 o'clock, and the bride, escorted by her brother, Mr. Walter L. Sanborn, was met at the chancel by the groom and the best man, Mr. William H. Rice of Newton Centre.

The service was simple and impressive, being an adaptation of that used in Episcopal churches. The bride was given away by her brother. As the benediction was pronounced, Mr. Burdett struck the first note of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and the newly wedded couple and bridal party passed out by way of the centre aisle.

Mr. and Mrs. Hovey were immediately driven to the home of the bride's mother on Institution Hill, where until 10 o'clock they received their many friends. The reception party comprised Mr. John H. Sanborn, handsomely gowned in pearl gray broadcloth silk, trimmed with duchess lace; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Hovey and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Alvah Hovey. The bride's gown was ivory-white satin, trimmed with duchess applique, and pearl trimmings. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, and wore a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Alvah Hovey wore black and heliotrope broadcloth silk, handsomely trimmed with jet and lace.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hovey will reside at "The Burrs," Chestnut terrace, where they will be at home June 4 and 11. Their new home is located on a portion of the Hovey estate, and is named in consequence of a large chestnut tree which stands on the lawn, and of which the grandfather of Mr. Hovey was justly proud.

Mrs. Hovey is a decidedly pretty and graceful girl, a blonde, and, like her husband, is a great lover of field sports. She was educated at the Newton High and private schools. She is an excellent horsewoman, belongs to various clubs and is quite a society woman. Mr. Hovey is best known as a tennis player in this, as well as foreign countries, and now holds the national lawn tennis championship of the United States. He is president of the Newton Athletic Association, and is a member of the Newton Tennis Club, Longwood Tennis Club, Newton Centre Golf Club (of which he holds the championship), and also of the executive committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association. He is a graduate of the Newton High school, of Brown University and the Harvard law school. Soon after graduating at the law school in 1887, he entered upon the practice of law, and is considered among the brightest of Boston young attorneys.

Expensive for the Gas Company.

All these changes that are being made in the streets, the moving of houses and other buildings, are rather expensive for the gas company as a force of 15 men has been kept at work for several months, cutting and repairing wires, moving poles, and restoring order. If electric wires are cut during the day, they must be repaired before nightfall, or the patrons of the company will know the reason why.

It has been a difficult task to keep things going, but the company has managed to keep its patrons supplied with light, and has done even better than could be reasonably have been expected.

The company are doing an extensive business in fitting up residences with electric light, and some of the new patrons are Francis Blake and Francis A. Fisher of Weston, Marshall A. Rice and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong of Newton Highlands, and A. Fred Brown of Newtonville, besides a great number of new houses.

A Cafe on the River.

Mr. Gustav Neuenfeldt has opened a first class cafe on the river at Grey and Frosts boat house and intends to give boating parties this summer the advantage of his long experience in that line. He has had 30 years experience at first class hotels and has been connected with Lasell Seminary for last ten years. Anyone visiting his cafe will be assured of satisfaction and good attendance.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE ADAMS SCHOOL—WIDENING PARK AND TREMONT STREETS—THE STONE OLD MEN'S HOME.

Monday evening, at City Hall, was held a special meeting of the board of aldermen, Mayor Cobb presiding.

An interesting event in connection with the other business of the evening transacted by the board, was the bringing up of the question of the old Adams school by the appearance of a petition signed by several hundred citizens of Newtonville, requesting that the old building and land be sold. The petition and the signers will be found on another page.

Alderman Greene, who read the petition, moved that a hearing be given the petitioners, but his motion was voted down, and the matter was referred to the tender mercies of the public property committee.

The refusal of a pole location to the telephone company on Ward street, Newton Centre, was a discouraging blow to the salting of streets by various corporations in the Garden City.

The company was represented by Mr. Horton Allen, who explained to the board that the company desired the location on Ward street for the purpose of placing a telephone in the residence of Mr. Bowen, at the corner of Ward street and Commonwealth avenue.

Mr. Eben H. Stearns of Brookline and Mr. J. Wiley Edmonds of Newton Centre, both appeared in protest against the granting of the petition on the ground that the placing of the wires on Ward street, was not only undesired and unnecessary, but a great injury to their property and that of other residents of the street.

Alderman Degen also spoke his mind pretty freely on the matter, and stated that he was surprised at the action of the company in presenting such a petition. Mr. Bowers' residence was some distance from the corner, fronting on the boulevard, and as there was a line of poles on the boulevard already, he could not see the reason for erecting another line of poles on a street, where none of the residents were subscribers of the company.

Mr. Allen stated that there was no agreement between his company and the street railroad company, as to the joint use of the poles on the boulevard. Besides the trolley wires were on the same poles, they could not give satisfactory answers to their patrons, and also it would be dangerous in case the wires broke or became crossed.

Alderman Degen said when the agreement was made with the street railroad, it was understood that all the wires of the different companies should be run on the same line of poles. The city had first decided to have the poles made of iron but it being represented to them that these would not be satisfactory for the placing of other wires, they had allowed the erection of a line of unsightly wooden ones.

A communication was received from the directors of the board of Associated Charities, representing that by the will of the late Joseph L. Stone, a fund of $80,000 was available for the care of the aged, infirm and of a home for worthy and indigent old men and women in Newton, and that it was desirable that steps be taken to secure the immediate erection of the home. On motion of Alderman Degen the board appointed Aldermen Degen and Allen, Councilmen Wing, Hutchinson and Bailey to consider and take action on the matter.

The final steps towards securing rapid transit to Boston was taken by the passage of an order appropriating $80,000 for the widening of Park and Tremont streets from the Brighton line to Washington street, to provide for the tracks of the West End.

Howard B. Coffin of Newton notified the board that he would claim damages to his real estate to the amount of $300 on account of the discontinuance of the Bellevue street bridge over the Boston & Albany. His communication was referred to the committee on grade crossings.

Other communications were received from the West End Street Railway accepting locations for double tracks on Tremont, Park and Washington streets; from the school board asking that the sum of $3000 be added to the general appropriation.

Hearings were given on the petition of Daniel McNamara for a stable on Chapel street, Henry Dugan and Timothy O'Connor appearing in protest, the matter was referred to the license committee; also on the petition of Susan E. Barry for a stable on Commonwealth avenue, no one appearing the hearing was closed.

Petitions were received from M. C. Meagher for grading of sidewalks on Needham street, referred to the highway committee; from G. E. Gates for concrete sidewalks on Sterling street, referred to the highway committee; from W. E. Hickox for a sewer in Judkins street, Ward Two, referred to the sewer committee; from Wm. K. Knowlton asking for the removal of Woodland road from Grove street to Auburn street, referred to the highway committee; from citizens living in the vicinity of Charlesbank road, protesting against its widening, referred to the highway committee; from Mary Sheatt for concrete sidewalks on Park Way, referred to the highway committee; from Mellen Bray for a stable on Chapel street, hearing given for May 4; from the telephone company for leave to attach wires to gas company's poles on Woodward street, hearing set for May 18; from C. B. Potter for a license to move a building from Washington street to a location further down the same street, granted; from H. H. Hunt for a license to move a building across Watertown street, referred to the license committee; from J. Richard Carter for a license to move a building from Clifton terrace to Austin street, granted; from Dennis Leahy for license to move a building from Washington to Pearl street, granted; from Wm. Cahill for a license to move a building from Walnut Park to West street, granted; from D. O. Driscoll for a license to move a building from Lincoln street to Woodland street, granted; from G. H. Pratt for four street lights on Walcott street, referred to the street light committee; from the telephone company for locations for the sewer street near Durant street, hearing set for May 18; from C. O. Tufts for a concrete sidewalk on Prescott street, referred to the highway committee; from C. S. Strout for edge-stones on Highland avenue, referred to the highway committee.

Reports were received from the sewer committee recommending that petitions for sundry sewers on Commonwealth and Woodward avenues be granted; from the sewer committee recommending that the sewer be continued from its present end in Rowe street, Ward Four, to Auburndale avenue, filed.

Orders were passed appropriating the sum of $72,000, for the expenses of the city for April, also appropriating the sum of $300 to meet the expenses of the city solicitor's office; also that a hearing be given May 18 and 25 to C. Leatherbee and others on their petition for the continuance of Austin street; that street lights be placed on Lenox, Centre, Forest, Dedham streets and Highland avenue and Kirkland road; that sewers be continued in Gardner, Woodbine, Marshall and Watertown streets; that the telephone company be granted permission to erect poles on Middlesex road; that the telephone company be granted the right to attach its wires to gas company poles on Kingsbury street; that four street lights be placed on Los Angeles street; that the petition 1742 of Gray and others for a sewer in Beacon street be granted; that 600 feet of sewer be constructed in Freeman street and that Alice White and others interested, be notified of a hearing on the same May 18th.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

A proclamation was received and read from Lieut. Gov. Roger Wolcott, setting apart April 25, as Arbor Day. H. S. Crowell of Newton was appointed auctioneer. By request Mrs. Charles Brown was given a hearing on the moving of the Merritt house. Mrs. Brown stated that both she and her lawyer had tried to come to some understanding with Mrs. Merritt, but had been unable to do so. Mrs. Merritt would say neither yes nor no to any proposition. Mrs. Brown said she was willing to buy the house or make any arrangement to settle the matter, if the city would in turn grant her rights, whose husband had signed her (Mrs. Brown's) petition. After the hearing the license committee were instructed to make some arrangement if possible between Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Merritt and report. The board then went into a long executive session.

After the executive session the licenses were granted to all of the 18 druggists applying for them, with the exception of Sherman E. Sears of Lower Falls, and A. R. Gardner of Newton Centre, whose applications are held for further investigation. Those receiving licenses were Arthur Hudson, William F. Thorn, Joseph G. Kilburn, Walter E. Mars, William C. Gaudelet, John F. Payne, George H. Ingraham, Isaac H. Snow, Albert F. Wright, Elliott W. Keyes, John H. Green, John J. Waterhouse, B. B. Buck, John J. Noble, Fred A. Hubbard, William F. Hahn.

The order granting the Newton & Brookline Street Railroad Corporation a new track location in Cypress, Dudley, Boylston, and Jackson streets, between Newton Centre and Brookline, was again taken up from the table and discussed in a heated manner between Aldermen Noyes and Degen, and again tabled, with the understanding that the question of securing the releases on land along Boylston street for the proposed widening be considered jointly by the highway and street railway committees.

A petition received from A. C. Walworth and others protesting against the widening of Centre street from Commonwealth avenue to Grafton street, was referred to the highway committee.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre.

Newton A. A., 10; Tufts, 9.

Newton A. A. defeated Tufts in an interesting base ball game on the Cedar street grounds, Saturday afternoon, 10 to 9. Both teams were rather off in fielding. The batting honors were carried off by Bustard, Dowd and Merrifield for Newton, and Crawford for Tufts. The chief features of the game were Dowd's all round work, Draper's backstopping, Maguire's stop of a hot grounder from Bowen's bat and Bustard's batting and fielding.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

HENRY SLOAN OF PORTLAND, ME., LOSER HIS LIFE NEAR THE CENTRE STREET CROSSING.

A passenger train on the Boston & Albany railroad, which left Boston Monday morning at 8.57 o'clock, struck and instantly killed a man just east of the Newton station, between Centre and Washington street.

An inward passenger train and an outward express train had just passed, and the man had become confused, and was crossing just in front of the approaching train.

The engineer whistled, but too late. The body was picked up, carried to the Newton station, and it was found that the man was Henry Sloan of Portland, Me. He had just engaged to go to work for the railroad company, a short distance from where he was killed. He was ex-pected to go to work Tuesday morning. He had been at work recently at West Newton. He leaves a child 6 years of age.

This is the third accident at Newton since the work of depressing the tracks of the Boston & Albany railroad was begun. The first one took place at the St. James street bridge, where a man was crushed under a falling block of granite, and the second at the Lemon brook sewer, under the Washington street crossing, where a man was injured by a falling wall.

The remains of Mr. Sloan was viewed by Medical Examiner Mead just before noon, and it was found that he was struck in the head, and also received internal injuries. The remains were placed in charge of Undertaker Bush and taken to the morgue at the Newton Hospital.

A Cure for Muscular Rheumatism.

Mrs. R. L. Lamson, of Fairmont, Illinois, says: "My sister used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for muscular rheumatism and it effected a complete cure. ## THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

AN ACCOUNT OF SOME OF THE WORK NOW GOING ON.

Superintendent Ross is a very busy man, this season, with all the street improvements that are on hand, in addition to the usual spring repair work, and his team is kept busy, going from one place to another.

The railroad authorities complained some time ago that they were delayed by the Newton department, as all the buildings were not removed, and the necessary changes made, but now there is a clear sweep from West Newton to the Boston line, except for Howes block, which the railroad has to dispose of. The railroad also appears to be doing nothing with the ledge near St. James street, but it can not longer claim to be kept back by Newton. The outer track has been laid for a good part of the distance, and has been used for filling in Washington street, near Church street.

The city on Wednesday had four gangs of men at work on Washington street at different points, and two steam rollers have been at work the past week, helping to settle the new location of the street railway tracks, and some of the new land taken for the street. Yesterday one of the gangs was transferred to Tremont street, where a small force on Tuesday morning began an attack on the hill in the rear of ex-Mayor Ellison's residence, and another gang has been at work widening Park street between Vorn and Elmwood.

Another large gang of men is at work on the 9th section of the Commonwealth avenue boulevard, near Charles river, which it is hoped to finish before very long.

Another force of city men are at work deepening Lemon brook, a work that has been going on for several weeks, and is yet a long way apparently from being finished. The extension of Bellevue street is also engaging the attention of a large gang of men, but the job is such an extensive one that every day's progress appears to have been made, although a large amount of work has been done.

Besides all this, there is the usual force of men engaged in giving the streets their spring cleaning, during the holes made by the winter's rains, and getting the road beds into good shape, so that they can be taken care of by the section men, who go on duty the first of June.

City teams and men have also been engaged in hauling gravel out of the excavations for the new blocks at the corner of Centre street and Centre place, and on the old Trowbridge estate, as the gravel is of fine quality and can be had for the taking. With all the men and teams employed, the weekly pay roll is of a character to make citizens feel pride in belonging to a city that can afford such expense.

Death of James J. Walworth.

Mr. James J. Walworth, late president of the Walworth Manufacturing Company, who died in Boston, April 28th, was for the greater part of his life a resident of Newton. Born in New Hampshire in 1808, he came to Boston when about twenty-one years old, and was engaged in the hardware business until 1841, when he became interested in the business of warming buildings by hot water and later by steam, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Joseph Nason, being the founders of that business in the United States, which now comprises thousands of firms and millions of capital, while the firm of Walworth & Nason has grown to a corporation employing nearly a thousand hands.

Mr. Walworth came to Newton, as did Mr. J. Wiley Edmonds and Gardner Colby, very soon after the construction of the Boston & Worcester Railroad rendered the town available as a place of residence for business men. About 1847 he purchased a tract of one hundred acres in Auburndale and built the house now known as the "Edwards Hardy."

Edward Hardy. In 1854 he removed to Boston, but his attachment to Newton brought him back in 1860 to Newtonville, where he purchased the James Hardy place of 64 acres, near the centre of which the house of Mr. H. B. Parker now stands, and later on he acquired most of the property bordering on Billough's pond. Having been brought up in the country, he was fond of farming and country life, and enjoyed nothing more than going into the woods with his keen axe and, like Mr. Gladstone, cutting his own firewood. He was actually a member of the Jersey Club and took an interest in all the public affairs and interests of the town, which he was sent to represent in the legislature in 1870 and 1871. In politics he was one of the early anti-slavery men and free-soilers, and was one of the defenders of Lovejoy's press in Alton, Ill., at the time of the murder of that fearless reformer by a pro-slavery mob. He was also greatly interested in the temperance reform in its early days and president of one of the first societies.

Having become a professing Christian in his youth, he was always active in the practical side of church work and was one of the founders of the Mt. Vernon church, Boston, and afterwards of the Auburndale church, and of the Central church, Newtonville; his piety was of the unassuming kind and was expressed as much by deeds as by words. During a long and active career as a manufacturer he was brought into relation with thousands of employees, and they were all his friends for they knew that he was their personal friend; there were no labor troubles in his shops.

What always retained his high dignity was his habit of going to work every day, he had an affable smile, a kind word and a warm grasp of the hand for every workman or subordinate who greeted him; in all his dealings he seemed to represent the ideal Christian gentleman.

Mr. Walworth was of the fifth generation of his family in this country, a grandson of Capt. Charles Walworth, a soldier of the Revolution and an honored jurist. He leaves but one child, Mr. Arthur C. Walworth of this city, and six grandchildren, the eldest of whom, a graduate of Yale in 1886, bears his name.

DR. WHITTEN IN AUBURNDAL.

THAT NEW HAVEN CASE AGAINST HIM SOLLED IN SUPERIOR COURT.

The Dr. George E. Whitten murder case was nolleed in the Superior Court at New Haven, Ct., Tuesday. The grand jurors stated that they had no intention of indicting him along with Dr. Lee in the Schloss murder trial.

Dr. Whitten returned to his home in Auburndale later in the day. When seen by a reporter, he stated that the case had been kept before the public for about two years. He was greatly rejoiced at its happy termination, as he feels it vindicates him in the eyes of his friends in Newton and Auburndale.

The doctor related several peculiar incidents, which, he claims, tend to show a feeling of animosity toward him on the part of certain officials in Connecticut. As a result of this sentiment, he says, he was handed over to the Connecticut authorities. But when it becomes known that that state had again begun proceedings against him, the members of the grand jury informed District Attorney Doolittle that they had never authorized any indictment against Dr. Whitten. The entire 18 grand jurors later signed a paper to that effect.

Habeas corpus proceedings were then twice instituted. In spite of these, however, and subsequent legal proceedings, the Supreme Court of Connecticut sustained the action of the lower court. Dr. Whitten then, through his lawyer, petitioned for a writ of error. Some delay was occasioned, however, by the resignation and death of District Attorney Doolittle. But his successor, William H. Williams, at once investigated the matter, found no ground for holding him and requested his discharge. He said in regard to the matter, "I have found that the indictment, so far as it is a technicality, is a technicality, and a misunderstanding and a misapprehension on the part of the grand jury."

"My idea of the administration of justice is that the state ought not to attempt to rely upon a technicality to do an injustice to any one, and that the state, under the circumstances, knowing that a mistake had occurred, would be doing a wrong to Dr. Whitten in holding him on the indictment. Therefore, I ask permission of your honor to enter a nolle in the case. I believe that this course is due to Dr. Whitten and to the dignity of the state."

Two weeks ago Dr. Whitten brought suit against the estate of the late State Attorney Doolittle, claiming $100,000 for false imprisonment and malicious prosecution, and it was said today by the doctor's friends here that the suit would be prosecuted to the bitter end.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NEWTON ASSOCIATION AND SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The annual meeting of the Newton Civil Service Reform Association was held on Monday evening, and the following officers were elected:

President, Henry Lambert; vice-presidents, Edwin B. Haskell, Edwin P. Seaver, Nathaniel T. Allen, Joseph R. Leeson, Fisher Ames, Francis G. Curtis, Geo. H. Ellis, chairman executive committee, R. L. Bridgman; directors, D. C. Heath, Thos. B. Fitzpatrick, Geo. E. Gilbert, Edwin F. Kimball, F. F. Raymond, 2d; treasurer, H. E. Bothfield; secretary, Jas. P. Tolman.

The secretary's report and the address to the Congressional committee, which has charge of the postal appropriation bill were as follows:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

During the year that has elapsed since our last annual meeting the progress of our reform has met with some very serious and disappointing setbacks. But on the other hand there have been such very great enlargements of the scope of the competitive principle, and such support has been given to the movement by high executive officials and by the courts, that the summing up for the year must be considered as highly favorable to the reform, and as offering great encouragement for continued activity.

The opposition that has been active has generally been of a nature to emphasize its own weakness and selfishness, and to encourage its own down fall.

THE NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION.

The record of the administration at Washington has been of constant improvement, and of a recognizable tendency to operate the public service for the public good; removing it by frequent steps from being used either as a hospital for political decrepitude, or as a cesspool for congressional incompetents who hold their positions by the strength of their fences instead of by force of their brains.

The two new appointments to the cabinet, Messrs. Harrison and Wilson, are announced Civil Service Reformers, and Mr. Wilson has acted from the beginning on the understanding that the best service he can perform lies in the improvement of the organization of his department.

Longer service in their positions seems to conform to the other members of the cabinet in their adherence to the reform principle, and from Secretaries Smith and Morton particularly, there has been very active and efficient aid. Even Secretary Carlisle has this year refrained from the course of criticism which was so marked a year ago.

The appointments of Messrs. Rice and Harlow to the civil service commission, to succeed Messrs. Roosevelt and Lyman, were entirely in the line of long service principle of the reform; and no one could have heard the three members of the commission, Messrs. Proctor, Harlow and Rice, when they returned, and a meeting in Boston, without recognizing that all of them were actually engaged in promoting an idea, with which they were in hearty accord.

The additions made to the classified lists, and competitive schedules have been greater than under any previous administration. By orders of May 24, a great variety of positions in the Department of Agriculture were classified to the number of 718.

The same date a number of high positions were transferred from excepted to non-excepted class. These were largely experts, statisticians, and chiefs of assistant chiefs of division, numbering 136.

June 13, The Government Printing Office was classified, number of positions 2710.

June 25, Engineers and Assistants in the Departments at Washington, were put into the competitive class, 40.

July 15, There were put into the Classified Service, Pension Agents, Clerks and Firemen, about 400.

Same date, Scientific Employees of Geological Survey, were transferred to non-excepted class, 137.

August 16, Compositors and Pressmen in departments were transferred to competitive class, 90.

September 5, Bookbinders in Departmental Service were transferred to non-excepted class, 11.

March 20, A great variety of positions in the Indian Service were classified, numbering about 743.

April 2, Assistant Attorneys, Law Clerks, and Board of Pension Appeals were transferred from excepted to competitive class, 31.

There are separate orders during the year, each one marking a distinct advance in organization of the government work. The number of places affected during the year is about 3221, and the number since this administration came in, about 15,500.

In addition to the above list of places coming under the Civil Service Commission, other improvements have been made in several places.

The rules of the Navy Department have been extended to cover appointments of clerks in the navy yards, and the Fish Commission are now appointing their laborers from the competitive class.

A system of rules has been adopted concerning the selection of nominees for Consular Appointments. This is only a beginning, but as being administered it is securing a wonderful improvement in the character of our Consular appointments.

By order of Nov. 8th, a great change was made in the Postal Regulations, by which it was expected that the whole trying question of fourth class post-masterships might be solved. It was an admirable solution of a very difficult problem, and seemed to accomplish in a single order, what existing law, much had been vainly sought by the paths of legislation, but which no legislative proposition had seemed to fully meet.

Great has been the disappointment that the solution in Congress have failed to prevent by means of provisions in the appropriation bill that consolidation of post offices which would have been an immense improvement in the business management of the department, while at the same time it would have brought the smaller post offices gradually under the competitive system in the appointment of officers.

The matter is now in conference, and it is still possible that the improvement may go on.

It is gratifying to be able to record that the senators from this state have given the most active support to the reform proposition. Senator Lodge introduced an amendment to the post office appropriation bill, intended to meet Secretary Wilson's plan, and Senator Hoar supported the amendment in a stirring speech, and in debate.

On Dec. 24th our executive committee adopted a vote of recognition to President Cleveland for the extensions he has made in the classified and competitive schedules. It is now expected that within a very few days the President will issue still another order extending the Civil Service Rules to "everything in sight," by which practically every position in the executive departments will be under the rules, excepting only those positions requiring action by the Senate.

MASSACHUSETTS.

In our state service the story is less satisfactory. At our last annual meeting we adopted a remonstrance against the passage of "The Veterans' Preference Bill," which was then pending in the legislature. Upon its passage your executive committee, May 31st, petitioned Gov. Greenhalge to interpose his veto; and upon his return of the bill with his veto your secretary wrote the acknowledgements of this association for his manly course in so doing. The bill was however passed over the veto.

In practice it has proved unfortunate for the service, and has not been of such benefit to the veterans as was anticipated by its advocates. There have been grave doubts concerning its constitutionality, and it has been argued by able counsel before the full bench of the Supreme Court, on a case of genuine injury arising under the law. The case was carried to its conclusion by the Massachusetts Civil Service League, and as a large expense was involved, the members of the association were, with others, given an opportunity to join in a special subscription for defraying the cost.

The arguments were made about six months ago, and within the last three days the decision of the court has been announced, declaring the law to be unconstitutional, and fully maintaining the position of the Civil Service Reform Association.

Our State Legislature of the present year has also shown its opposition to the reform by refusing to appropriate the necessary means for extending the registration labor system to all cities of the Commonwealth as the commission was prepared to do, and as the experience of the cities who have adopted the system would warrant and encourage.

OTHER PLACES.

New York State has come under a new constitution requiring all appointments where practicable, to be made by competitive examinations.

Gov. Morton has made an unsatisfactory appointment on the 1st of May, and many officers who were attached to the old spoils system have made appointments in violation of the constitution. In several instances the controller has refused to authorize the payment of salaries to officers wrongly appointed, and has been sustained by the courts in those cases where decisions have been rendered. Among other results of the new constitution it has been decided by the courts that their Veterans' Preference Law of several years standing is abolished.

The city of Chicago came under Civil Service Rules last August, and the cities of Seattle and Tacoma have just decided by popular vote to adopt a similar system.

On the whole the progress of the reform is very gratifying, and we have cause for congratulation on the results of the year.

ADDRESS ADOPTED AT ANNUAL MEETING.

To the Conference Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives in the matter of the Postal Appropriation Bill, Messrs. Allison, Blackburn, Pettigrew, Loud, Smith and Kyle.

Gentlemen: The Newton Civil Service Reform Association, in annual meeting assembled, respectfully urges that in making your report the matter of the Lodge amendment shall be substituted for that of the Pasco amendment.

There is no way of deceiving the public in this business. If the Pasco amendment is retained; if the request of the Postmaster General be not allowed; it is done for spoils. It is not for economy. It is not for purity of administration. It is to give congressmen a greater hold upon the offices for their personal and partisan ends. The day has passed when members of Congress can afford to trifle with the intelligence and with the rights of their constituents. The matter rests with you.

The responsibility of making or preventing a great administrative reform lies with Messrs. Allison, Blackburn, Pettigrew, Loud, Smith and Kyle.

To offer a Reward of 100 Dollars

for a case of catarrh that cannot be cured, creates the suspicion that the article so advertised is a humbug. Do you know of any such reward being paid? Ely Bros. do not promise rewards in order to sell their well-known "Cesam Balm." They offer the most effective medicaments, prepared in convenient form for use, and at the lowest possible price, 50 cents per bottle. An honest and effective remedy, which is absolutely free from mercurials or other harmful drugs.

Are They for Cobb or Sprague?

To the Editor of the Graphic: Your article last week gives a very clear idea of the situation in Newton and of the duty of Newton men, but I think you take the Cobb managers too seriously. So far I have not been able to find a man who believes that they are really working for the success of Mayor Cobb. Some of them are known to be very friendly to Senator Sprague, and the situation in this district is such that for Newton to send Cobb delegates would be to help Mr. Sprague just so much.

The only candidates Mr. Sprague has to fear are Hon. J. R. Leeson and Wilbur H. Powers of Hyde Park. Anything that will take Newton delegates from Mr. Leeson will help Mr. Sprague just so much, and this will become more evident as the campaign goes on.

Mayor Cobb himself does not take his friends seriously enough to trust them with any money to aid in his campaign, as he is too shrewd a business man to make any such wild investment as that.

Gen. Draper could give some interesting figures as to the cost of securing a list nomination in this district, and a man who is not conspicuous for ability and character gained in public life, could not hope to get the prize without expending a great sum of money. Senator Sprague is known to have several millions back of him, and will attract to his side all the floating vote that is not already pledged to Mr. Leeson or to Mr. Powers of Hyde Park.

The question is whether Newton will join this Sprague movement by supporting Mr. Cobb, or whether it will honestly and patriotically strive to advance its own interests by endorsing unanimously Mr. Leeson. His reputation is such that he will have many supporters outside of Newton, from men who believe that character and ability still ought to be considered in nominations to Congress, and it is high time that Newton politicians gave up their worse than folly, of going to conventions with divided forces, and with a part of the delegation ostensibly supporting an impossible candidate.

When Hon. Levi C. Wade was a candidate several years ago, he was defeated only because Newton sent a divided delegation, and it looks now as if the same tactics were to be repeated. Republicans of Newton ought to take hold of this matter in earnest, and if their leaders have not enough local patriotism to work for the interests of the city, they ought to send them to the rear and get some new ones. It is generally conceded that if Newton would unite on Mr. Leeson, it would secure his nomination, and that no other Newton candidate has the slightest chance. The question is shall we send candidates who favor an outsider, or those who favor a Newton man?

We might tell you more about One Minute Cough Cure, but you probably know that it cures a cough. Every one does who has used it. It is a perfect remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness. It is an especial favorite for children, being pleasant to take and quick in curing. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

THE ADAMS SCHOOL.

A REQUEST THAT THE OLD BUILDING AND LAND BE SOLD.

To the Honorable, the City Council of Newton:—We, the undersigned, citizens of Ward 2, respectfully petition you to sell, under the authority of the revised city charter, the old Adams school property, corner of Watertown and Crafts streets, for the following reasons:

First. The new brick school building just erected at the corner of Watertown and Walker streets, is ample for the accommodation of the pupils of this district.

Second. The request and the appropriation for the new building were made with the distinct understanding that it should replace the old building.

Third. As tax-payers we strenuously object to the additional expense of maintaining the old building.

Fourth. The new brick school building just erected at the corner of Watertown and Walker streets, is ample for the accommodation of the pupils of this district.

A man's health carries him through the world. He depends on it for enjoyment, for happiness, for success, for the achievement of anything he has in hand. Americans take big chances. They risk everything in business. They have confidence in their brains and their ability. The American business man is active, flexible, elastic. Knock him down with failure and he is up again in a minute. As long as he keeps his health, failure doesn't mean anything to him. He will go on to success. He feels sure of that, and yet his health is the very thing that he neglects more than anything else. His health is the rope by which he climbs to success. It behooves him to keep the rope in good condition, and not neglect broken strands. When the rope of health breaks even a little bit, it should be mended at once. It is easier to keep health than it is to regain it. When a man feels himself running down, when he realizes a loss of vitality and energy, he must call a halt. He is on a down grade. The strands of his rope are parting rapidly.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped thousands of men in just this condition. It makes health, it makes pure, rich blood, it forces out impurities and kills germs. It doesn't force any difference what name you call your trouble by—dyspepsia—kidney disease—rheumatism—consumption—skin disease, the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it absolutely. None of these diseases can retain hold on the body when it is full of rich, pure blood.

Every man who cares to keep his health should have Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—a finely illustrated book of 1008 pages. Sent to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

INCONSISTENCIES IN POLITICS.

Rev. Leighton Parks of Emmanuel church, Boston, made a searching criticism in his sermon, last Sunday, of the inconsistencies of life, especially as exemplified in politics, where so-called Christian men think it no sin to violate all the principles of morality and he made use of the following illustrations:

"Here is a man who has had every advantage which training and association can give to make him a statesman, but he is the veriest demagogue. The great State of New York is as truly governed by an irresponsible despot as is Turkey. Pennsylvania dare not pass a law until the boss approves it. Maryland has just thrown off the yoke of a tyrant, and now begins to regret it. How do these men get their power? Simply by corruption. And note that no one of these men is accused of putting into his own pocket the funds placed at his disposal. Any one of them, I suppose, might safely be trusted with the inheritance of the fatherless or the widow. What is the explanation of this moral monstrosity? It is this, that a man will encourage another to do what he would be ashamed to do himself. And justifies himself on the ground that every man ought to be left free to do what he believes to be right. Thus, if I were to go to Washington and offer certain senators a large sum of money to secure desired legislation, I believe they would refuse it. But they would use an equal sum to bribe a legislator."

"I have a friend who broke into a house and stole a few pounds of lead pipe. He was sent to the State Prison. But you have friends who have broken the law far worse than that, and you will send them to Chicago or to St. Louis to name the next President of the United States! The political brigands of whom I have been speaking are, certainly two of them, and I think three, attendants of the Christian church, if not technically members of it. They are the curse of Christian civilization, under their patronage vice flourishes, and they are in alliance with crime, yet they call themselves the disciples of Jesus and, for all I know, believe themselves to be such."

GEN. DRAPER evidently holds the original American ideas on the subject of the currency. The Indians when this country was discovered used strings of wampum for their money and Gen. Draper thinks we could get along with a lead or copper currency if we only had a tariff high enough, as he thinks the latter is the essential requisite to prosperity. Such a declaration, coming from an otherwise intelligent man, has caused great surprise, and there will be less regret at his retirement from Congress. His ideas are more dangerous than those of the extreme silver fanatics, as they only propose to scale down the dollar one-half. It would be interesting to have him give his views on the currency question at greater length, and tell us what he would do with wages, when he had got a dollar worth five cents or less. Would he pay the same nominal rate as now, or would he increase the wages he pays, some twenty times, to enable his employees to purchase the same things as they can now with a dollar worth one hundred cents?

THERE is said to be a petition in circulation for the city to take Armory Hall and all the land down to Centre street, for the Washington street widening, and to build a new Armory Hall. This would be a very nice thing, but it would be well for the signers to consider the cost. Judging from what was paid for the little slice of Cole's block, $80,000 would be required for that; $33,000 is asked for Howes' block. The owners of the four houses between the hall and the block would want about $10,000 each, judging from the price paid for the Bigelow property; this would make a total of $143,000. Then a new Armory Hall would cost something like $100,000 and possibly more, making a total of nearly a quarter of a million for this little strip. If the bank grounds was included, as some desire, this would be increased by a large sum, as the bank is said to want $2 a foot for their land and the cost of the building besides. Evidently the city is in no condition to indulge in any such expensive scheme at present, for merely sentimental reasons.

THE Newton Street Railway has been laboring under difficulties for some weeks, owing to the removal of the tracks on Washington street, to the northerly side of the street, wherever the tracks adjoin the railroad. The stretch in front of the car house, between West Newton and Newtonville has just been completed, and also a long stretch opposite the Church street crossing, where the tracks have had to be raised, as well as moved. The company are now at work between Harvard and Adams streets, and these changes have caused transfers and irregular running of cars, which have been annoying, but unavoidable. The company is having an opportunity now to get rid of a large amount of surplus.

THE directors of the Associated Charities are deserving of great credit for their efforts to have the will of the late Joseph L. Stone carried out. He left $60,000 for an Old Folks Home in Newton, and the legal time allowed for settling the estate has elapsed. Such an institution is needed in Newton and there are many people who are said to be desirous of remembering such a Home in their wills. It could be started in a small way as such Homes in other cities have been started, and a suitable house for the beginning could be secured for $10,000, leaving almost enough from Mr. Stone's bequest to pay the running expenses for the first few years. This appeal made to the City Council should be acted upon.

CHIEF RANLETT in his annual report recommends that in regard to Washington street, that two lines of wires be run, one on the north side for high tension wires, and one on the south for low tension. This is the practice followed in other cities, where it is considered dangerous to have both high and low tension on the same poles. The alderman, in their action Monday night, with regard to having all the wires on Commonwealth avenue on the trolley wire poles, apparently do not think there is any danger in this method, but many think differently, especially the telephone linemen.

A CORRESPONDENT wants to know whether the men who are talking up Mayor Cobb for Congress are not really in favor of Senator Sprague. Evidently he is one of those troublesome people who will persist in burrowing beneath the surface for concealed motives. All we know about the matter is that Senator Sprague has some warm friends in Newton, who openly say that the Cobb movement is an excellent thing, as it will divide Newton's vote, and injure Mr. Sprague's most formidable competitor, Mr. Leeson, just so much. But perhaps the voters will turn out to the canoes and elect a solid Leeson delegation.

THE census of the State for 1895 shows that in the past ten years Newton has gained 7,831 in population, an increase of 30.6 per cent. The figures state that there are now in the city 12,355 males and 12,235 females, the sexes increasing in about equal proportion. In the immediate vicinity of Boston, or within the twelve mile limit, there are 787,822, or 31.5 per cent of the entire population of the state. The increase in this district in the last ten years, is 213,573, or 37.19 per cent. The total population of the state is now 2,500,183, and the number of legal voters 560,802.

THE order appropriating $80,000 for the widening of Park, Tremont and Washington streets, from the Newton line to Nantum Square, has passed the board of aldermen and the great improvement is now a certainty. Work ought to be begun at once, so as to have the streets all ready for the West End tracks, and to secure a five cent fare to Boston as early in the season as possible. The West End Company have accepted the location granted them and are said to be all ready to begin work.

EX-MAYOR BOTHEFIELD has been appointed, at the request of the Boston & Albany Railroad Co. and also of the city, to settle the question of grade crossing damages, arising from a change of grade in the streets, and the taking of land for street widening and also the damages from the change of grade and widening of water courses. The matter could not be given into more capable hands, and both the city and the private interests involved will be considered fairly and impartially.

THE Newton Civil Service Reform Association held their annual meeting this week, and the report of the secretary, printed on another page, calls attention to the great advance the reform has made under President Cleveland, and also points out the necessity of constant vigilance to defeat the efforts of the spoils-seekers.

THERE will be a hearing on the petition for the sale of the old Adams school property, at City Hall, on the evening of May 8th, at 7.45 o'clock.

Single Tax Class and Club.

The regular meeting of the Single Tax Class and Club was held at 230 Bellevue street, Tuesday evening. The subject of the previous meeting was continued, viz: Chapter I, "Condition of Labor," by Henry George.

Mr. Fillebrown spoke of talking Single Tax at Woonsocket, with Mr. Win. Lloyd Garrison, Prof. Gardner of Brown University speaking in opposition. The mayor, ex-mayor, president and forty or fifty members of the Business Men's Association, two-thirds of the city government, six lawyers, three doctors, a dozen mill agents and superintendents, ministers, bank men and merchants were present. Liveliest interest prevailed and no one moved to go home until 11.30, after voting to continue the discussion in the early fall. Hon. Lathimer Ballou, 84 years of age, now and for fifty four years superintendent of the Universalist Sunday school, cashier of one bank and president of another, came and stayed until near midnight.

Newton was also made of a similar meeting at Melrose last Saturday evening, it being the fourth consecutive weekly meeting devoted by the Young Men's Congress of the Y. M. C. A., to the subject of the single tax, with same subject to be continued two weeks later and in a larger hall.

The very pertinent question was asked why should Woonsocket and Melrose be more hospitable to new truth than Newton. There were five original papers read, and attention was called to an article which appeared in the Review of Reviews for April in reference to the condition of labor in Russia, and the following quotation was read: "Every peasant who is a member of the village commune has an interest in a plot of ground originally reserved for his benefit by the State, and which it is forbidden him to dispose of. The Russian unemployed, therefore, can always fall back on this as a last resource, and hence it is impossible for him to be reduced to that state of utter penury and wretchedness which is only too often seen among the unemployed in other countries."

The following words of Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence, were quoted in support of the single tax, "Wherever there are in any country unutilized lands and unemployed poor, it is clear that the laws of property have been violated, for the earth is given as a common stock for men to labor and live on."

The last meeting of the season will be held at 230 Bellevue street, Tuesday evening, May 12th, with the timely subject, Book V, Chap. I, "Progress & Poverty," "Primary Cause of Recurring Paroxysms of Industrial Depressions." Short papers solicited. All welcome whether members of the Class or otherwise.

Slow Progress.

The slow progress of the work on the Boston link, connecting Commonwealth avenue in Newton with the avenue in Brighton, is a source of much regret to land owners and others in Newton. This city has finished its part of the boulevard as far as Auburn street in Auburndale, and the street cars are running on it, carrying from 1000 to 1200 people a day. Were the Boston end finished it would be possible for passengers to go from Auburndale to Boston by car, while now they have to be transferred by barges over the uncompleted part. This whole territory is in a measure dependent for development on the completion of the roadway and the running of cars to the terminus of the West End road. This delay of Boston is in great contrast to the rapid way in which Newton pushed through its five miles of work.

Mrs. Bailey of Newton read an interesting paper on affairs in England, including an account of the recent Shakespearean banquet in Stratford on Avon. Mrs. Carrie Anders, than whom no other is better fitted, had Germany for her subject. She gave a personal reminiscence of Emperor William, whom she saw in Leipzig the last summer, and whom she heard speak on the occasion of the dedication of a building for educational purposes. She also gave the correct translation of his speech before the Reichstag in January last, which has caused so much diverse criticism. Mrs. G. D. Gilman of Newton followed with a talk on the Sandwich Islands. Miss Barry's concise and able transcript of the doing of the 34th Congress gave an excellent idea of the subjects coming up for discussion by the representatives. Mrs. Burrisson, on recent Questions, included the discovery of the X rays, and the benefits to be derived, especially in Surgery. Mrs. Moore of Newton gave a bright and enjoyable talk on American Art, with a personal experience of a Sunday afternoon in the Boston Art Museum. Mrs. Charles Davis gave a comprehensive but necessarily brief account of charities, mentioning the bequests of the year. Mrs. Loring White interested all in the Cuban affair, and the attitude of our country in relation to it, and the impetuosity to Spain of keeping so rich an island as a dependency. Mr. Rice and the Misses Trowbridge delighted all with music, Mr. Rice giving for an encore a charming song with piano and violin accompaniment.

Lasell Notes.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Caswell, secretary of the Massachusetts Y. W. C. T. U., gave another interesting temperance talk to the girls, assisting them also to organize a temperance society, the outcome, in reality, of her recent lecture at Lasell, on the subject of temperance.

Franklin Von der Kall escorted the symphony party to Music Hall on Saturday evening.

Among those who listened to the spirited music of Sousa's famous band on Monday afternoon, was a considerably large party from Lasell.

The concert Monday evening, was a very enjoyable one indeed, and the gymnasium was filled with an audience of music lovers, who were enthusiastically appreciative of the high standard provided for them. The concert was given by the instrumental department, Professors Hills and Goldstein, and several of their pupils, taking part. The school quartet sang two or three songs, and Messrs. Ruppel, (cello), and Ablescher (zither), of Boston, also assisted.

Miss Charlotte W. Hawes lectured before the school Thursday evening on "Harmony." The quartet sang "The Lost Chord."

The L. M. C. '97 met with Miss Helen E. Newell of Newton Upper Falls, last Friday afternoon.

Mr. Russell C. Gibbs has been elected class statistician of the senior class to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. Burton Cotting.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association held last week, C. Burton Cotting resigned from the captaincy of the track athletic team, and Harold W. Burdon was chosen for the position.

Newton High defeated her old rival Brookline, at Newton Centre last Tuesday afternoon, by a score of 14 to 8. The playing on both sides was good, the feature of the game being a triple play by Newton.

The lecture on "Cambridge University," which was to have been given in the drill hall last Wednesday evening, had to be postponed owing to the inability of the lecturer to be present.

A very successful leap year sunlight dance was given in the drill hall last Friday afternoon, by the young ladies of the senior class. About 30 couples were present and enjoyed dancing from 3.30 till 7. The patrons were Mr. Ezra W. Sampson and Mr. S. Warren Davis.

At the meeting of the Lyceum held on Saturday evening, the following speakers were chosen for the Brookline debate: Arthur W. Hollis, E. M. Chase, Ernest H. Wilkins. Alternate, Waldo G. Leland.

NONANTUM.

—Morgan Mahoney is intending to erect two new houses on the vacant land next to the Hose station.

—Gen. Davidson attended the Grant banquet of the Middlesex Club held in Boston, Monday evening.

—James Brady of Pearl street had his leg bitten by a dog while walking on Cook street, Sunday evening.

—Mr. A. H. Bedell, formerly of this place, but now a resident of Waltham is very ill at his home on Cushing street, that city.

—Mr. M. H. Dargon and family have moved into their house, which they purchased and moved to their lot on West street.

—Antonio Mullard, on Italian resident of Murphy's court was removed to the Newton Hospital Sunday morning, suffering with heart trouble.

—It is reported that some of the objectionable houses now being erected in this place are being built without a permit. If this is so, the citizens ask, what is the value of a permit.

—Attorney D. J. Gallagher has opened an office at the corner of Chapel and Water-town streets, where he can be found Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, between 7 and 9 o'clock.

—William Thompson, who was lodged at Station 2, Friday evening, was found to be suffering with pneumonia the following morning, and was immediately removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

—The committee on safety of the Nonantum Improvement League has been investigating the condition of the Eliot and the Jackson school houses. The league will hold a meeting in the Athenaeum next Tuesday evening.

—Eight little girls of the Buelah Baptist Mission held a sale in St. Elmo hall, Tuesday evening. These little maids received a liberal patronage from their parents and friends and netted a tidy sum, which they will devote to some charitable object.

Those wishing to obtain free of charge, young trees, plants, and shrubs, should apply to the tree committee of the Nonantum Improvement League, which includes the following: John Giering, Daniel Sullivan, Joshua Holdsworth, Joseph Connors and John Keefe.

—The meeting at the Buelah Baptist Mission last Sunday was addressed by Mr. Francis Tolman of Watertown, who took for his subject, "God's Symphony." Mr. Warren Davis of Waltham spoke. The meeting next Sunday will begin five minutes earlier or at 2.55 o'clock, and the speaker will be Mr. Peter Crov, a young Scotch Evangelistic preacher of Boston.

—Late Thursday evening of last week James O'Grady while riding his bicycle on Pearl near Watertown street, was run into by a party of cyclists coming in the opposite direction, and besides having his wheel badly damaged sustained severe injuries. Dr. Stevens was called, and the injured man removed to his home on Nevada street, where he remained unconscious for several hours. Upon examination it was found that one of his eyes was badly cut and it is feared that he will lose the sight of it. The young man was well known in this place, and very popular among his associates.

—A two weeks mission will be begun at St. John's church, May 10th.

—Mr. Geo. C. Folsom and family have taken up their residence here after spending the winter season in Boston.

—P. J. Gleason has the contract for putting through the new streets of the property along Washington street near Beacon to be opened for building purposes.

—It is stated Mr. Henry Xyett has purchased Mr. W. B. Atherton's cottage near the school house, in addition to quite a strip of land included in the sale.

—The carding and spinning departments of the Dudley Mills will suspend operations Saturdays, until other departments have surplus stock ahead worked up.

—Officer Tainter has been off duty a few nights by reason of an ulcerated sore throat. Officer Johnson of Waban covered his beat with his own during his absence.

—Mr. D. F. Varren, expressman, has put a new and handsome light delivery wagon on the road. He has now the finest facilities for doing business of anyone in this line of work.

—Wednesday evening, April 22, the church at this place gave their returning pastor, Rev. O. R. Miller, a most hearty reception. A large number were present. The pastor was met with a purse of $25, and the pastor's wife was given a large and beautiful clock. A collation of ice cream and cake was served.

NOTES OF THE TUFTS GAME.

Fred Draper's catching in the Tufts game was one of the features, and more than made amends for his hard luck at short-stop in the Harvard game. Few catchers can equal him in throwing to bases.

For so early in the season Ed. Dowd is putting up a fine article of ball. He leads the nine in batting and fielding, an unusual record for a pitcher. Newton has certainly strengthened her weakness of last year by securing his services in the box.

Bustard, ex-champion of Brown, is making a fine record at first.

Fred Hovey will be missed greatly at second while he is away on his honeymoon. In the meantime his position will be filled by Merrifield, of the Harvard Law School.

Hubbard at short is fast getting in shape, and there will be few "goose eggs" opposite his name on the batting score.

Jack Abbott is third in one of the finest all round players on any amateur nine, and is one of the hardest workers on the team.

"Mel" Cushing is catching better than ever before, and is a sure catch on difficult flies.

The outfielders are all putting up a strong game, and with warmer weather, and a little more practice and team work, the nine ought to win 75 per cent. of the games scheduled.

THE CUBAN GIANTS.
The "Truly Great" and Wonderful Cuban Giants, the Colored Champions of the World, will be the attraction Saturday on the Newton A. A. grounds, and while the coaching of this team is extremely funny, the exhibition of ball playing is at the same time equal to that of almost any club in the country.

Their record of victories is one to be proud of, having met and defeated some of the best college, professional and athletic clubs in the Eastern States. Whenever an exciting situation occurs during a game the whole team are on their feet cheering the runners, and no umpire has been found yet who has been able to hold them in check after they have once started.

A little ill, then a little pill. The ill is gone the pill has won. DeWitt's Little Early Risers the little pills that cure great ills. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Blood purified, disease cured, sickness and suffering prevented—this is the record made each year by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and building up medicine leads everything ever produced. It is positively the best. Others may make the same claim. But there's this difference: We prove it. Not by antiquity, but by Merit. Not by what we say, but by what Hood's Sarsaparilla does. It has a record of Cures unequalled in medical history. It positively, perfectly and permanently cures when all other medicines fail. That the keen discrimination of the people recognizes its merit and the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, is shown by the fact that they Sarsaparilla in preference to the exclusion of all others.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a larger sale than all other blood purifiers. It wins confidence everywhere because the statements in its advertising and testimonials are verified by all who take it. No other medicine has ever received such praise, or so many voluntary testimonials of wonderful cures. No other medicine possesses the peculiar combination, proportion and process used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla, and which give it merit peculiar to itself. This is the secret of its wonderful power, of its wonderful sales, of its wonderful hold upon the confidence of the people. This is why it cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh, Rheumatism, all Humors, Kidney and Liver troubles, Dyspepsia, That Tired Feeling, builds up the nerves, creates an appetite and strengthens the whole system. Its merit, its sales, its

THE STORY OF Puritana.

Prof. Dixi Crosby, M. D., LL. D., who for thirty-two years was at the head of Dartmouth Medical College, belonged to the famous Crosby family of physicians, which for several generations has furnished more distinguished medical men than any other family in America. His father was Dr. Asa Crosby, of Dartmouth, who procured the charter of the State medical society, of which he was for thirty years a conspicuous member; another brother, Dr. Josiah Crosby, invented the invalid bed and the method of making extensions of fractured limbs by adhesive strips; another brother, Dr. Elias R. Crosby, was chief surgeon in Columbian College Hospital during the war, and later professor of animal and vegetable physiology at Dartmouth College; while Dr. Dixi Crosby himself was the inventor and discoverer of various important improvements in medicine and surgery, including a new and unique mode of reducing metacarpophalangeal dislocation, opening of abscess at hip-joint, etc., etc.

At the early age of twenty-four his extraordinary skill and success in overcoming disease had already attracted the attention of medical men throughout the world, and won for him the highest honors. His greatest achievement was the discovery of an original method for perfecting and compounding in permanent form what has become known as his "prize formula," and which, under the name of Puritana, is legally protected.

The foundation of this remarkable medical discovery consists of simple New England roots and herbs, and the original family recipe for it has descended to the long line of Crosby physicians from their Puritan ancestors. Its peculiar vegetable composition rendered it necessary to brew it whenever needed in the early days of its history, and after the scattering of the Puritan families to remote localities, where the necessary ingredients were not to be found, many attempts were made to put it up in permanent form, all of which failed until Dr. Dixi Crosby discovered means and methods, the result of which is: Nature's Cure compounded in the laboratory of Common Sense.

—"Newton evening" was observed last Monday by the Boston Baptist Social Union, and President Hovey, Prof. Jesse B. Thomas, Prof. J. M. English, Daniel Cory Snow of the graduating class, and others were present. Daniel Cory Snow, representing the graduating class, spoke on the topic, "View from the Hill." He spoke of the field of labor before the class which is soon to go out into the field. Prof. Jesse B. Thomas, D. D., represented the faculty of the Newton Theological Institution, told of the importance of New England in national life. The theological element has been partially responsible for this, he said. Today, New England needs steadiness and maturity as it never did before. The feature of the theology of New England is that it is determined in a great measure by the people. Religion without theology is spelling without the alphabet.

—Mr. G. E. D. Paine of Boston is to occupy the house on Beacon street soon to be vacated by Mr. W. H. Pulsifer and family.

—The will of John Staples has been filed at the probate court, and leaves $500 to the First church, and the rest of his estate to the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

—After extensive alterations and improvements the photograph studio of Mr. Odlin Fritz, No. 358 Centre street, Newton, is again open for business. Mr. Fritz's success in the art is well known and no doubt he will receive his former extensive patronage.

—Mrs. Wm. Giles of Parker street celebrated her birthday last Tuesday. Her relatives from Woburn and Sharon gave her a very pleasant surprise by coming to spend the day with her, and they did not forget to supply the wants of the inner man. Hardly had they left for home when the house was again invaded by a number of neighbors, who also took her surprise. A very social evening was spent; music was furnished, followed by refreshments.

—Last evening in the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. and Mrs. Luther Freeman were given a most cordial reception by the members of the congregation. The church was very prettily decorated with flowers and filled with members throughout the evening. Rev. and Mrs. Freeman were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Huntington and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dezen. A number of vocal selections rendered by Mrs. L. M. Spear, Mr. Herbert Thayer and Miss Elizabeth Pierce added much to the evening's enjoyment. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Spear and Mrs. N. H. Flanders, and the following young ladies poured: Misses Sanderson, Fowle, Chubbourn, Brown, Spear, Barnes and Rand.

—Allen Edgar Rhodes, a 15-year-old boy of Boylston street, Oak Hill, fell 35 feet from a tree near his home, Wednesday afternoon, while climbing for a squirrel's nest and died at the Newton Hospital between 2 and 3 o'clock, Thursday morning, from the injuries he received. His skull was fractured, an arm broken and other injuries received, and Drs. Loring and Porter worked over him in vain for several hours. He was the son of Mr. A. F. Rhodes, and was a boy of remarkable promise. At the time of the accident he was accompanied by another schoolboy, who notified the ambulance of the Newton Hospital was sent for and the unconscious lad was removed to the hospital. He never regained consciousness.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—The West End Literary Club will meet May 4, with Mrs. Blanchard, Eliot.

—Mrs. Crafts has leased her house on Boylston street to Mr. Sanderson.

—Mr. H. S. Hiltz has leased his new house on Bradford road to Mr. Parker.

—Wire screen doors, also wire netting for windows, at Sherman's hardware store.

—Mr. and Mrs. Winslow of Bath, Me., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cook.

—The next meeting of the Monday Club will be with Mrs. G. M. Stone, Walnut street.

—Rev. Lawrence Phelps will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church next Sunday.

—Miss M. L. Brackett of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Greenwood.

—Mr. John J. Smith has bought and is occupying the new Spooner house on Bradford road, Eliot.

—The South Side Whist Club met for the last time this season on Wednesday evening, with Miss Madams.

—Mr. Jagger has moved from the corner of Lincoln and Woodward streets, and taken a tenement in Newhall block.

—Mr. Andrew Davis has moved from the house on Walnut street, opposite St. Paul's church, to the Lane house on Floral avenue.

—Monday, May 6th, the C. L. S. C. will meet at Mrs. J. F. C. Hyde's. It is especially desired that members should be present promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

—Mrs. Moors, and her granddaughter, one of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Shumway, have gone to Groton for a short visit, and later on will go to Whitman.

—The bicycle that gives the greatest satisfaction to its riders must be the best; no one ever saw a rider of the "best" who was not sure that he had the best wheel made.

—Mr. E. P. Small has moved from Dorchester to Eliot, and has taken the house purchased by him of Mr. H. M. Beal. Mr. Small was formerly a resident of the Highlands.

—Rev. Mr. Havens has been granted a leave of absence until September, and has gone to make a visit to his father in New York state. His family will remain at the Highlands.

—House painting is now in order. Mr. F. W. Manson, Mr. J. H. Watson, Mrs. H. Foster, Mrs. F. S. Richards, and Mr. H. W. Taylor are having their houses painted.

—Mr. D. W. Spooner has let his house, near Woodward street, on the Weston lands, to Mr. Smith, builder, who will occupy at once, and will build a house close by, in the near future.

—Mr. H. S. Hiltz, station agent at Eliot, has let his fine new house, opposite the residence of D. W. Spooner, on the Weston lands, to Mr. P. S. Parker of Longwood. Mr. Hiltz will build another house on a lot of his near by.

—A lot of land on Centre street, on the property known as "Rockledge," containing 11,000 ft. has been sold to Mrs. H. E. Mead of Boston, who will build a house for her occupancy. The sale was for cash, and the price 20 cents per foot.

—Holy Communion will be administered at the close of the morning service at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday, the pastor officiating. The theme for the evening will be, "Messages of Spring."

—The West End Literary Club and their guests spent a very pleasant evening at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Thayer, Wednesday. It was the occasion of the annual entertainment given by the club. A very enjoyable program was presented, followed by refreshments and dancing.

—The Methodist church held a reception last evening in honor of the pastor and his family. After a supper and an interesting musical program, speeches were made by representative officials of the church, who expressed hearty appreciation of the pastor's work during the past year and extended cordial welcome for the coming year. The pastor responded sympathetically, after which the entire company united in a verse of "Blest be the tie that binds," and then all went up and shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Bonner, and extended their personal words of love and welcome. The society enters upon the new year with bright prospects and increasing strength.

—The Warsaw Gold Mining and Tunnel Co., with an office at 113 Devonshire street, Boston, whose adv. appears in this issue of the GRAPHIC, offer to investors in mining properties a genuine investment. Mr. Hazeltine of the firm of Clark & Hazeltine, real estate, is well known as a conservative business man, and is at the head of the financial management of the Co.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Rev. T. J. Danahy is recovering from injuries received last week by falling from his horse.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Mary Donovan, Mr. Stanwell, George Ashme and J. Hempsom.

—Mr. W. O. Colburn of High street is recovering from his recent severe illness and is able to be out occasionally.

—Mr. Oscar B. Truesdell of Fiskdale, agent for the Fiskdale mills of that place, was in town the early part of this week on business.

—A large number from this place attended the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Union held at Newton Centre, Monday evening.

—Mr. M. H. West of Boston conducted the meeting of Y. P. S. C. E. at the Methodist church, Tuesday evening. His subject was "Choose the Good Part."

—Fire alarm box 52 called out the department Monday afternoon to extinguish a brush fire on vacant land opposite the City Farm owned by the Framingham bank and others.

—Mrs. Patrick Hartigan, one of the oldest residents of this place, died at her home on Eliot street, Tuesday morning. She had a large circle of friends and was held in high esteem by all that knew her. The funeral was held yesterday morning at St. Mary's church.

—As a rule there is never anything remarkable about the life and death of a cat but the longevity of this animal is somewhat worthy of more than passing notice. Mr. John Thompson, one of the best known residents of this place, was, until Monday, the possessor of a feline which was fourteen years old. He had owned "Jumbo" as he called him, since he was a year old, and was very reluctant at parting with him.

WABAN.

—Mr. J. P. True is settled in his new house on Winsor road.

—Mr. W. S. Carr has taken possession of his new house on Winsor road.

The Woodland Park Art Gallery.

The opening of a permanent Art Gallery at the Woodland Park Hotel is an important and interesting acquisition affording much enjoyment to the guests and their friends. Two rooms on the first floor have been especially fitted up for this purpose. Electric lights have been introduced and in the evening the art gallery, the walls of which are being hung with beautiful paintings, present a very attractive scene. Mr. E. H. Thayer, manager, connected with the Hotel, has been for many years closely identified with art and artists, and many of these pictures are from his own collection, and include a great number of choice originals. In the main room are to be found the oil paintings, whilst the smaller room is devoted to water colors. These pictures are offered for sale at much lower prices than could be obtained at art stores, and all are productions of first class artists. A great number of small, choice, interesting pictures, suitable for wedding presents, are to be found in this collection, also original sketches, black and white, and many unframed water colors. The pictures are catalogued and prices affixed thereto. Gallery opened daily and evening. Public invited. During the year Mr. Marden will have several special exhibitions, announcement of which will be made later.

Vacant Lot Cultivation.

All interested in the cultivation of vacant lots will be pleased to know that several acres of land have been secured on Bridge street for this purpose. Those who desire a piece to cultivate can secure it by applying with reference to Geo. W. Billings, 201 California street or to Rev. Daniel Greene, 210 Bridge street. Those willing to aid by giving money will please leave it with Mrs. Mary R. Martin, at the Associated Charities, or with Miss Cornelia W. Jackson, 527 Washington street, or with Rev. Daniel Greene, 210 Bridge street. As this is the first of the kind in Newton, it is hoped that all who wish to cultivate the land will apply at once and that there will be generous contributions of money to make it a success.

Ladies' Bicycle Suits.

The great question now is what kind of a bicycle suit to wear, and Chandler & Co. appear to have solved the problem, in their "Ladies' Bicycle Suits," which combines both utility and modesty. It was invented by Mrs. C. O. Vintrop of Washington and has been adopted by many of the lady riders of Washington and New York. The wheeled women, send call at Chandler & Co's, on Winter street, Boston, and see this suit.

REAL ESTATE.

A. H. Roffe has sold a new house and 10,000 feet of land on Ashton Park, Newton Centre, to P. Parsons.

A piece of property at the corner of Crescent and Norwood avenues, Newton Centre, comprising a dwelling house, stable and 13,000 square feet of land, has been sold to H. M. Armstrong, on private terms.

Nathan D. Parker has sold a corner lot, situated on Centre street and Woodside road, Newton Highlands, on the property known as "Rockledge," containing 11,220 square feet, to Mrs. H. E. Mead of Boston, who will shortly build a house for her own occupancy. This makes fourteen lots already sold by Bowker & Willis since the first of November on this property. The sale was for cash at 20 cents. The trustees of Woodlawn Park land, at Woodlawn station on the Boston & Albany road, have sold seven lots of land, aggregating 31,600 square feet, on Beacon street and Hardingham road to Patrick J. Gleason of Newton. Mr. Gleason will immediately begin the building of a house for his own occupancy. This land is now being developed, and promises to be a very important move in building up this section, which is nearly opposite the Newton Cottage Hospital.

Bowker & Willis were the brokers in this transaction. L. F. Verges of Boston has just purchased, through the same brokers, a colonial house and 13,000 square feet of land, on Glen road, Wellesley Farms, for his own occupancy. The terms of the sale are private.

E. S. Merchant, agent of the Gloucester Steamboat Company, has purchased the house on Seavall street, on West Newton Hill, owned by Mr. Hatch, cashier of the West Newton National Bank. It is a new house, with 13,340 square feet of land, and in part payment Mr. Merchant gave the large lot of land on the corner of Berkeley and Princeton streets, on which he originally intended to build.

Geo. A. Ward has sold for Hon. Alden Spear 19,800 square feet of land on corner of Alden and Centre streets, to Edward McLehlan of McLehlan & Brigham Co., Boston, who will erect a $100,000 house and stable for his own use. This is part of the Andrew Weir estate and the site of the Girls' Home which was burned several years ago. Mr. Ward has also sold for the Alden syndicate two 10,000 foot lots on Wessex road, just off of Ward street, to James E. Floyd of Haverhill, Mass., who will erect two $5000 houses for sale.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington street.
—Mrs. Olea Bull Vaughn has purchased a fine estate at Sharon.

—Cane chairs re-seated. Address, A. P. B., No. 10 Emerson street. 28 ft.

—Mr. Albert Cutler has leased his house on Church street to Mr. Stearns.

—Mr. H. W. Wellington and family are expected home soon from their extended trip.

—Mr. T. H. Tyler, Jr., of Magnolia street has removed to his new residence at Waban.

—Miss Helen Grant took part in the Watertown Unitarian May festival, giving a Spanish dance.

—Fine French and wall clock repairing. All its branches at W. A. Hodgdon's, French building. 28 ft.

—The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium will be closed during the months of May, June, July and August, while necessary repairs and changes are being made to the building.

—That foundation wall for the new block, corner of Centre place and Centre street, was laid in a week and a day, the quickest work done in the city, and it is a very substantial wall too, solid enough for a five story building.

—By order of Road Master Charles B. Lenthall of the Boston and Albany railroad, Louis Crowe, Saturday morning, began the work of tearing down Howes' block, preparatory to the occupation of the site by the temporary tracks of the railroad, while the road is being depressed.

—In the police court, Saturday morning, Judge Kennedy held an inquest upon the death of William H. Sloan of Gilead, Me., who was killed instantly Monday morning of last week near the Centre street crossing by a train on the Boston & Albany railroad, while he was walking along the tracks. The witness included Henry Neekins, the gate tender at the Centre street crossing, Frank Scully, carpenter employed near the place of the accident, Officer Richard B. Conroy, Charles Chambers, who is employed at the Newton station, Engineer Merrill and Fireman Howland of the locomotive, Dr. F. W. Webber and M. C. Laffie.

—Malcolm Stanton, 10 years old, son of Mr. Louis C. Stanton, of Bacon street, met with a bad accident while riding his bicycle Saturday morning. He was coming down Centre street, near Church, and was watching another bicyclist who was crossing Centre street and did not notice a hack coming in the opposite direction. The hack turned into Church street and before the boy knew it he collided with the vehicle. He was taken to his home where he remained unconscious for three quarters of an hour, and Dr. Frisbie was called. Young Stanton is recovering from his injuries and is able to be out again.

—At the Church of Our Lady, Tuesday morning, Archbishop Williams administered the rite of confirmation to 180 candidates. The altar was tastefully decorated with Easter lilies and roses, and the large number of children presented a very pleasing appearance, the girls attired in white dresses and veils and the boys in black. A pretty innovation was the costume of two little boys and two little girls as angels, each carrying a lighted taper and wearing beautiful paper wings and wreaths of smilax. The music was finely rendered by a choir of mixed voices. After the rite was administered, in which the archbishop was assisted by Rev. Dolan and Gillette, in a brief address to the children, Archbishop Williams took for his subject the duty of obedience, and urged them to imitate the example of Christ, who is subject to his parents, during the thirty-three years He lived with them. This was the only safe way to reach happiness and to live a life that was pleasing to Almighty God.

—Mrs. Stearns, formerly of Roxbury, has taken the Cutler house on Maple avenue near Church street.

—Mr. G. R. W. Scott has begun the erection of a handsome house on the Dana estate on Waverley avenue.

—Remember the corner stone laying of the Methodist church, Thursday at 2:30 p. m., corner of Centre and Wesley streets.

—Mr. Carl T. Kellar was one of the ushers at the wedding of Miss Minna Wesselhoeft to Mr. George R. Gilden, in Boston, Wednesday evening.

—The First Baptist Society of Brewer, Me., has voted to extend a call to Rev. W. E. Lombard of Newton. He has preached there on trial and gave excellent satisfaction.

—Sergeant Clay and Officer Conroy had a chase after a horse thief over Brighton hill, Sunday afternoon. Although they captured the team the thief jumped out, running across the fields, and escaped. It was found that the team belonged to John Walsh, a lamp lighter of Brighton. It had been left unguarded on a street.

—The Maher house has been moved this week to Channing street, which leaves only two houses and stable on Washington street, yet to be moved. The appearance of so many old houses on the street, seeking new locations, has occasioned a good deal of kicking, and many claim that the city ought to have refused to let any of them be moved, and had the whole lot torn down.

—Mrs. F. H. Tucker will give a lecture in the chapel of the Immanuel Baptist church, Monday evening, May 11th, at 7:45 o'clock, in aid of the Young Fund of the Young Woman's Mission Club. Subject, "Patriotism, Its Origin and Development." That are its Principles. How shall they be maintained? The Young Fund of the Young Woman's Mission Club. Subject, "Patriotism, Its Origin and Development." That are its Principles. How shall they be maintained? The Young Fund of the Young Woman's Mission Club. Subject, "Patriotism, Its Origin and Development." That are its Principles. How shall they be maintained?

—Many residents of the Nonantum district have been badly taken in the last few days by a man who represented himself as an assistant engineer on the Concord & Fallowfield. He exhibited samples of cloth, which he claimed were smuggled, and sold a number of pieces to be made up into suits. It was found later that the cloth was of inferior article, and the price charged exorbitant.

—Mr. Samuel Albert Gregg of Watertown died Monday evening. He was born in Watertown, Nov. 24, 1854, and entered the employ of his father, Alexander Gregg, in 1872, and remained with him until 1895, when he went into business, succeeding to the business when his father died a few months since. He was a member of Lafayette Lodge, 31, I. O. O. F.; of Abraham Lincoln Commandery, U. O. G. C.; of Watertown Lodge, A. O. U. W., and Quinabon Lodge, A. L. H.

—There was a good deal of kicking at the N. A. A. ball game last Saturday, when the spectators found on arriving at the grounds that they had to pay 50 cents, instead of the usual 25 for admission to the game with the Cuban giants. The kickers claimed that the advance in price ought to have been advertised in advance, instead of getting the people there and telling them of the increase, but the N. A. A. does not believe in advertising.

—The removal of the gates at the railroad crossings of Centre and Washington streets makes these places very dangerous, although additional flagmen have been provided. People have become so accustomed to the gates, that they pay no attention to the flagmen, and seeing the gates are not down, attempt to cross without regard to trains. Accidents have been narrowly averted in several instances this week, and the public are cautioned to pay attention to the signals of the flagmen.

—A large number of Newton friends attended the funeral of Capt. John Fisk at East Cambridge on Wednesday. Rev. Dr. Calkins, the former pastor of the deceased, assisted. Rev. Robert Walker in the services and delivered a very feeling eulogy. Dr. Utley and Mr. E. O. Childs of Newton were among the pallbearers. Postmaster Geo. A. Morgan and Station Agent John L. Calkins, brothers-in-law of the deceased, accompanied the family and the funeral party to South Framingham, where the remains were placed in the Edgell Grove cemetery.

—A concert and subscription dance under the auspices of the Ladies' Charity Club, was given Tuesday evening in Denison hall, Newtonville. The floor was under the direction of Mr. John E. Briston, assisted by Mr. R. L. Walker and Mr. J. J. Gallagher. The concert program included music and selections by the humorist, E. H. Frye, readings by Miss May Elcock, cornet solos by Charles Chapman and other selections. Supper was furnished by the ladies, and the arrangements were in charge of Miss Josephine Stuart, with a number of assistants.

—There was a runaway on Galen street Sunday evening. A single horse ice cart, driven by a boy, was going westward toward Watertown when an electric car frightened the horse. He ran down the hill at break-neck speed, and tried to turn the corner of Water street to his stable. At this critical point the reins broke. The horse dashed around the corner, turning the empty cart upside down and throwing the boys against a fence. The boys, named Edward Morsmann, Edward Murphy and James Hughes, were all more or less hurt, and Hughes is thought to be injured internally.

—The insulators from the telephone and electric light wires that are broken and thrown into the street, cause a great deal of trouble and the workmen should be forbidden to throw them into the street. The thick glass is liable to cut the feet of pedestrians, and several persons are reported as cutting of rubber tires. One lady had her tire cut near Hudson's drug store and came near having a bad fall, besides ruining the tire. The companies throwing this glass into the street can be held responsible, probably, for all damages, and this ought to make them keep a more careful watch over their men.

—The Denver, Col., Times of April 24th, has the following in regard to a reception given Mrs. N. P. Coburn at Colorado Springs. It says: "One of the events of the week was the reception given by the trustees and faculty on Wednesday evening to Mrs. N. P. Coburn of Newton, Mass., widow of the generous donor of the library. President and Mrs. Slocum received the guests, and introduced them to Mrs. Coburn. The main hall of the library, which is especially beautiful in the evening under the electric lights, was elaborately decorated with palms, ferns and other plants. Large bowls full of anemones stood on the tables, and the portrait of Mr. Coburn, which hung over the entrance, were roses and ferns, against a background of green. The students arrived early, in order to have the better opportunity of meeting Mrs. Coburn, and there was a large attendance of citizens. Refreshments were served down stairs, and people went and came all the evening. A singularly pleasant feature of the evening was the singing of the 'Cecilia Glee Club,' the name lately assumed by the young women's club, under the direction of Mrs. Tucker. Standing in the balcony, they sang two evening selections with much grace and charm. The whole affair was a brilliant success socially, and as a testimonial to the grateful honor in which Mr. Coburn's memory is held by all who are in any way connected with the college."

—Mrs. R. A. Reid is spending some weeks in New York.

—Services of the Methodist society Sunday morning and evening at Eliot lower hall. The pastor's morning service will be "Sermons from Stones," evening theme, "Remember those in bonds."

—H. M. Trowbridge will conduct the Y. M. C. A. boys' meeting, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. At 4 o'clock Mr. C. W. Davidson of Newtonville will conduct the men's meeting, H. D. Williams cornetist.

—The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at West Newton on May 22, when Miss Lucie Ames and prominent gentlemen will speak on "Beautifying our City," and the club presidents will speak of the special work of their own clubs.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Lead us heavenly Father." Magnificat, H. B. Day. Solo, "One sweetly solemn thought," Ambrose. Anthem, "Seek ye the Lord," Roberts. Recessional, "I heard the sound of voices."

All seats free.

—From the McVey plunder Inspector Fletcher has taken about $150 worth of jewelry and knick-knacks stolen from the residences of Messrs. Henry Wellington, Melville Fano and Dr. Perkins. McVey claims that he only broke into the houses of Brookline, and that he does not know how these articles came into his collection.

—The Boston & Albany has finally made arrangements for the excavation of the ledge, near St. James street, and work began this morning. Mr. Cram of New York has the contract. This ledge and Howes block are the only obstructions now to the laying of the extra track through Newton.

—In responding to an alarm from box 241 Wednesday afternoon, engine one and hose one were obliged to drive in a very circuitous direction. There was a large house in the way on Washington street and Adams street, and the engine and hose were compelled to drive through Centre, Richardson, Church, Washington, Crafts and Lincoln streets, which took them about twice as long.

—The corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal church will be laid on Thursday night, May 8th, at 7:45 o'clock, and there will be no effort to raise money. Fraternal addresses will be made by the Rev. Drs. Shinn, Davis, Hornbrooke and the pastor will be assisted in the service by Rev. Luther Freeman of Newton Centre, Rev. F. E. E. Hamilton of Newtonville and Rev. O. W. Hutchinson of Watertown. Everybody welcome.

—The alarm from box 241 shortly after 5 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, was for a fire at Adams street owned by Michael Mullon and occupied by John Burns. The occupants were absent at the time and had left a pot of something boiling on the stove. It had suddenly boiled over, and the smoke was noticed by the neighbors, some of whom broke into the door to ascertain the cause, while others rang in an alarm.

—It is proposed to organize a society of the Sons and Daughters of Maine, in this city, and the first meeting of the Pine Tree State are cordially invited to a preliminary meeting to be held at the residence of Mr. Daniel S. Emery, 70 Waverley avenue, on Wednesday evening, May 13th, at 7:45 o'clock, or if unable to be present to send their names with address to either of the following members of the canvassing committee: Mrs. F. E. Stanley, 113 Franklin street; Mrs. Daniel S. Emery, 70 Waverley avenue, George Agry, Jr., 5 Hovey street.

—Mrs. Mary S. M. Kenrick, mother of the late City Treasurer John A. Kenrick, died at the old homestead on Waverley street, on Monday at the age of 80 years. She had been in failing health for some months and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Kenrick had lived at the Kenrick homestead all her married life, and was well known to all the older residents of the city for her social nature, always cheerful and ready to sacrifice herself for others, and to her last years retained her mental faculties in her old friends, and her devotion for their society. She had been a prominent member of Channing church, as long as she was able to attend its meetings, and she was greatly loved by all who knew her. Two daughters, Mrs. Taylor and Miss Anna Kenrick, and six grandchildren survive her. The funeral services, held at her late residence on Thursday afternoon, were very largely attended, and Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke officiated. The interment was in the Newton cemetery.

—Newton people are finding out that extensive public improvements have serious drawbacks. The widening of Washington street has practically closed that street for traffic, although it is of course possible to get through, though not with any comfort. Since the West End took possession of Park and Tremont streets, Park street is a narrow, crooked, and dangerous street, and Tremont street as far down as Waverley avenue, and the whole street will be closed before many days. The city workmen are practically shut out from working on the widening of the streets until the car tracks are laid, but this is expected to be by June 1st, as the contractor is said to have bound himself to have everything ready for the laying of the tracks in 21 days. The rushing of work by the West End is being favorably commented on, and evidently that company is shrewd enough to wish to get the summer travel, and take advantage also of the disturbed condition of the tracks & Albany, during the depression of the street. Besides these two great obstructions, Church street is being dug up near the corner of Adams street, and there are sewer connections and other excavations being made on many streets, so that the city will be in a great state of upheaval this summer. It is said that the summer exodus will be much larger than usual on this account.

—Taylor & Whitman, who are building several fine buildings here in Newton, are fitting up the entire second floor from the hotel to the extreme right in the handsome new Nonantum building, for the exclusive use of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association. The location is unsurpassed for an association of this nature. The entrance of the building is 138 feet and the depth 85 feet. In this vast space, every facility for the proper execution of the Y. M. C. A. work will be provided. The parlors, reading room, recreation room, library and class rooms will be very pleasant as the large plate glass windows directly overlook what will soon be the handsomest portion of our city. The gymnasium will be completely renovated; ten feet added to its length, windows raised and the walls sheathed to the ceiling. Ample locker room will be provided for at least 400 lockers, while the bathing facilities will also be increased. The entrance will be light and attractive; the rooms finished in ash and the floors polished to a mirror. A kitchen for the ladies and game room for the juniors will greatly aid the work. The buildings have already begun alterations and it is expected that by September 1st the rooms will be ready for furnishing. Mr. J. E. Whitman, one of the builders, is a resident of Newton and a sustaining member of the Y. M. C. A. The buildings now in process of construction by these enterprising builders will greatly beautify this portion of Newton.

HANDSOME NEW QUARTERS.

THE NEW BANKING HOUSE OF THE FIRST NATIONAL AT WEST NEWTON.

The new quarters of the First National Bank are without doubt the handsomest to be found in any suburban city, and they would even compare favorably with those of any Boston bank. They have been fitted up under the supervision of Cashier Hatch, whose taste in such matters is amply demonstrated by the results. They are located on the corner of Washington and Cherry streets, so that they have an abundance of light on two sides, and the entrance has been placed at the corner of the building, recessed so that customers entering are protected from the weather. On one side of the entrance is a large plate glass window, taking up the whole front, and on the Cherry street side are three smaller windows.

The inside fittings are of quartered oak, with grill work of lacquered steel, the walls are painted a light pink, while the ceiling is finished in white and gold, so that the general effect is very bright and cheerful. The floor is of mosaic tile in light colors, to correspond with the other fittings.

At the left of the entrance is a room for the lady customers of the bank, partitioned off with steel lattice work, containing a table standing on a handsome rug, easy chairs, and a broad cushioned window seat, which will make business as pleasant an affair as shopping.

The oak counter is surmounted by grill work, with windows for the cashier and teller, and at the end of the lobby is another steel lattice work, partitioning off a room for the president.

Through the President's office is the entrance to the bank vaults, to be used by the patrons of the safe deposit boxes, which are in the front of the vault. The rear half is partitioned off by a strong steel lattice work, for the exclusive use of the bank, and in this is a ponderous safe.

The bank vault is made perfectly fire and burglar proof, as an inspection of the ponderous inner and outer doors would show. No expense has been spared in making this as perfect as possible, and while the other walls of the vault are of brick, the inner lining is of steel, through which the most skillful burglars would find it impossible to penetrate. The outer door itself weighs about seven tons, and is fitted with the Damon Safe Co.'s latest inventions in the way of automatic locks, and once locked the door will remain fast until the time set by the clock for releasing it.

An inspection of the attachments on the inside of the door will give one an idea of the protection afforded.

The working department of the bank is entirely separated from the vault entrance by a strong steel lattice work, so that the bank clerks can not be interfered with by patrons of the safe deposit boxes. For further protection there are several electric buttons, which ring a bell in the police station, and the police would respond in a minute, if their presence was needed.

The desks and wood work were furnished by the Derby & Kilmer Desk Company of Boston, and the vault was built by the Damon Safe Company, also of Boston.

The ceiling is something unique in Newton, as it is made of steel plates, fitted together, and painted white and gold. It was put up by the New York Metal Steel Ceiling Company.

The railings and grill work were furnished by Oliver Whyte & Co. of Boston, and are of steel and lacquered brass. The floor was laid by the Boston Mosaic Tile Company.

Back of the banking rooms is the directors' room, a very cheerful place, which occupies all that corner of the building. It is handsomely fitted up with a directors' table and easy chairs, and here the directors will meet to consider the applications of would-be borrowers and other matters.

The quarters of the bank will be occupied by the West Newton Savings bank, and communication between the two can be had by means of a double door, one of which is of steel bars.

The West End co-operative bank will take the rooms vacated by the Savings bank.

The National bank is the first institution to make its quarters correspond with the Washington street improvements, and they have now banking rooms of which the whole city may well feel proud, and it speaks well also for the prosperity of Newton.

REAL ESTATE.

Lucius A. Murdock has sold to Emily M. Knapp his residence on Orris street, Auburndale. The estate consists of 900 square feet of land and is taxed at $200.

Bowker & Wills have sold on Regent street, on West Newton Hill, a modern 11-room house, 600 feet of land. The buyer is N. D. Barker of Boston. The same brokers have sold for Henry L. Whittelsey, the lot corner of Chestnut and Berkeley streets, opposite the Neighborhood Club, on West Newton Hill, to Albert H. Roffe, who will erect a handsome residence on it.

Bowker & Wills have leased Mr. A. S. Williams' house on Griffin avenue, Newton Highlands, to Mr. John L. Bailey of Newton for three years.

Henry W. Savage sold the estate on the corner of Griffin avenue and Norman road, Newton Highlands, consisting of a large modern frame house of 13 rooms and 15,000 square feet of land for Mrs. Lucy L. Peabody to Henry E. Williams of Leicester, Mass., who buys for a home. The terms of sale were private. The total assessed valuation of the estate is $12,900.

Geo. A. Ward has sold for Gertrude E. Knapp a lot of 7000 feet on Commonwealth avenue to John P. Stevens of Boston, who will build a dwelling, costing $2000 for his own use. Also a lot of 6000 feet, Grafton street, to Marion Brown of Brookline, who will build for her own occupancy.

NEWTON CLUB.

A series of promenade concerts is being arranged for by the executive committee of the Newton Club. These concerts have promised to be the most popular entertainment given in the city. They will be held on Wednesday evenings during this and next month.

Electricity is doing wonders in every direction. After years of earnest patient study R. G. Marshall, the well known eye specialist of Waltham, has perfected a treatment by electricity, that strengthens weak eyes, absorbs cataracts, relieves immediately all kinds of headache, neuralgia and invigorates the whole system. ## THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

MAYOR COBB VETOES THE SALE OF THE POOR FARM—A RESERVE POLICE FORCE—SOME ALDERMEN OBJECT TO THE WAY BUSINESS IS RAIL-ROADED THROUGH—MINOR HEARINGS.

The board of aldermen held a busy session last Monday evening, Mayor Cobb presiding. Considerable business of importance was transacted and the board was hardly surprised at Mayor Cobb's action in vetoing the poor farm order.

The first business was a hearing on the laying out and acceptance of Groveland street and Willard avenue, which, as no one on either side appeared, was closed.

A hearing on the laying of a concrete sidewalk on Lake avenue in front of the estate of Mary Farnum was opened and Mr. Farnum appeared in remonstrance. He said that he was willing to concede his portion of the sidewalk if that part in front of the land of Mr. Charles S. Davis and Prof. English was also done. He described the condition of the sidewalk, which was right in the centre of the village, and thought that this ought to be conceded before his land, which was in a less thickly settled part. He was perfectly willing to do what was right, and would be glad to concede his part when the same was done to the portion he referred to. As no one else appeared the hearing was closed.

Hearings were opened and closed for the widening of Walnut street, corner of Newtonville avenue, and the laying of a main drain and common sewer on Washington terrace. A hearing for the laying of a main drain and common sewer on Winchester road from the east side parkway to Langdon street was opened.

Mr. Potter, who appeared, represented a number of the land owners on this street who, he said, were willing that the sewer should be laid providing that the street be laid out and accepted before it was done. The road was in proper condition and the proper petition to the board had been made. The land owners and abutters were anxious that it be completed and he agreed with them. The hearing was then closed.

A hearing on the petition of John Dolan to erect an addition to his barn on Concord street, was then opened.

Mr. Clifford appeared and remonstrated in behalf of Mr. Seaver, who lived next door to Mr. Dolan. He described the place and thought the building should be moved further back to the end of the lot. He also thought it somewhat injurious to the health of the family of Mr. Seaver, and that Mr. Dolan was keeping one more horse than the law allowed.

Mr. Seaver complained of the noise of the horses at night, but didn't object if it was moved back. Aldermen Green and Allen were in favor of the proposed addition.

Mr. Dolan stated that Mr. Clifford was mistaken about the dimensions and that the stable was not so near Mr. Seaver's property as he had stated. He was not going to build the stable to keep more horses but wanted room to build a box-stall, upon advice of his veterinary, and a place to keep harnesses and grain. The horses would be further away from Mr. Seaver's property. He did not know Mr. Seaver objected to it before and thought his objection was acted by a dislike for him, which all the neighbors were aware of. He said he desired to do everything to please his neighbor.

Mr. Seaver and Mr. Clifford made further remarks to the same effect as their previous ones. The hearing was closed.

A hearing on the petition of Mellen Bray to erect a stable on Chase street and Albany avenue was opened. Mr. Edmunds appeared in favor, and stated the necessity for the stable, and thought there was no objection to it.

Mr. S. L. Pratt said he didn't wish to oppose a neighbor, but asked that the board consider it, and treat him fairly. Hearing closed.

Upon motion of Aldermen Downs the reading of the records of last meeting were dispensed with.

A proclamation from Acting Governor Roger Wolcott was read, establishing the Middlesex Insane Asylum for the treatment of the chronic insane, saying that it would be opened after May 1st. The communication was placed on file.

The mayor's veto of the order authorizing him to sell to William C. Strong a tract of land from the poor farm for $14,500 was then read by him as follows:

I return to you, without my approval, and with a request that you further consider it, Order No. 19899, authorizing the mayor to convey 30 acres more or less of the Poor Farm to William C. Strong, for the sum of $14,500.

I find on examination that the tract to be conveyed includes a very valuable gravel pit, which is indispensable to the Highway Department, a fact which was evidently overlooked by you, and because of this and in view of the following considerations, I very much desire that before further action be taken, you make a careful examination of the property, and judge for yourself whether it is advisable at this time to complete this transaction.

I submit for your consideration, that the public health demands that the whole section in the midst of which this property lies, should be properly drained, and that a roadway be built from Washington street through to Beacon street, would be of considerable value to the travelling public; these improvements could be made under the betterment act, and when completed would not cost the city more than 2-1/2 of a cent per foot, and should not the city reap the advantage thus derived?

Also it is the evident intention of the city to gradually obtain control of the natural water ways, and the plan I suggest would be a step in that direction.

Very respectfully submitted.

HENRY E. COBB, Mayor.

Alderman Tolman said in the property 15 of the 28 acres were low land and that he had been trying to get at the true valuation of the property since the question of selling it had come up. He had communicated with City Assessor C. A. Miner and read a letter from that gentleman, who thought that the property was worth about $13,500, as a whole. He had since seen Mr. Jackson, who considered this a fair price. Continuing, the alderman said that there were about 18 paupers in there at present, and the average number was about 18 or 20. He thought that allowing the poor farm there, retarded the growth of Waban.

He stated that the poor farm was an expensive luxury, and that it would be in the interests of the city to sell it. It embraced many acres which should be added to the taxable valuation. The sum of $4700 was expended for the maintenance of 18 paupers, who could be boarded at $8 per week. The products of the land had netted $600 the past year. The land if sold to Mr. Strong would be graded and streets cut through and he would be glad to see it go. The amount offered by Mr. Strong being considered a fair price.

Alderman Downs wanted to know what the other bidder wanted it for and his offer.

Alderman Tolman said that he wanted it to use as a shooting range, which the city would never allow, and made no offer.

Alderman White said that Mr. Strong was willing to give the gravel pit to the city.

Alderman Tolman said this was true and that Mr. Strong had been much disturbed by the article in the Graphic saying that the aldermen were unaware of the location of a gravel pit on the land.

Alderman Downs thought that more bids should be considered and said he would vote to sustain the veto.

Alderman Tolman thought the opinions of Mr. Miner and Mr. Jackson worthy of consideration.

Alderman Downs thought it ought to go for the highest market value.

A short discussion followed in which opinion was pretty evenly divided. Alderman Degen favored the sale of the poor farm and thought that a great deal of the sickness of Waban had emanated from the undrained portion.

Alderman Green did not believe in real estate speculation, and thought the matter ought to be considered in a reasonable manner and he would vote to sustain the veto.

Alderman Noyes had carefully considered the plan and was anxious that it should be referred to the public property committee. This was out of order and the question of selling the land was put to vote. Yeas, Aldermen White, Degen and Tolman nays, Aldermen Downs, Green, Allen and Noyes.

The resignation of Driver George M. Curtis of Hose 8 was read, and he was granted an honorable discharge.

Alderman Allen said he was much in sympathy with Alderman Downs in the matter of voting upon orders and petitions, without giving them proper consideration. He did not approve of the plan and thought something ought to be done to overcome it. He thought the aldermen should know what was coming up before them, and introduced the following order, which was favored by Aldermen Downs. An order that a committee of three aldermen be appointed by the mayor to consider the rules and orders of the board of aldermen and the board of mayor and aldermen. The order was passed.

An order authorizing the fire committee to purchase hose for the department use at a cost not exceeding $500. Passed.

A petition for the placing of four incandescent lights on Allison and Los Angeles streets. Referred to the street light committee.

A petition for the laying out and grading of Winchester road in front of the estates of J. C. Lord and others. Referred to the highway committee.

A petition from Ransom C. Taylor and J. E. Whitman asking that the trees in front of the old Nonantum block be removed, referred to the highway committee; a hearing on the petition of Watertown Gas Light Co. for location of poles on Crescent avenue to Beacon street was granted for May 18 at 8 o'clock; a hearing on the petition of the same company for the location of poles and wires on Central and Fern streets was granted for May 18; a petition from residents of Nonantum asking that the construction of the unsafe buildings to be used as tenement houses, now being erected in Nonantum block be referred to the building committee; a petition for the laying of a main drain and common sewer on Montvale road was referred to the joint standing committee on sewers; a petition for the laying of a sewer was referred to the same committee.

An order accepting chapter 314 of the acts of the General Court of Massachusetts to establish a reserve police force was passed. Also an order establishing the pay of these men at $2.

The mayor then appointed Aldermen Allen, Tolman and Downs as the committee to consider the rules and orders of the board of aldermen and the board of mayor and aldermen. An order that sidewalks be laid on Winthrop, Boardman, Hyde, Sterling and Crescent streets was passed.

An order compelling the residents of Park, Washington and Tremont streets to remove their trees, fences and other obstacles in the path of the improvement, within 15 days was passed; an order authorizing the mayor to release to Elizabeth N. Radcliffe land on Commonwealth avenue, passed; an order for the issue of 80 coupon bonds for the widening of Park and Tremont streets at $1000 was adopted; an order for the issue of a main drain and common sewer in Jenkins street, Tudor terrace and Auburn street, adopted.

Express licenses were granted to Philip Gibson, Robert J. McAuliffe and Martin Mahoney, and a junk dealers license was granted Peter Monahan.

A petition from Mrs. Mary Sullivan to move a house from Charlesbank road to Bridge street was presented. Alderman Downs said that this was the famous Merritt house and urged that the petition be granted. It was granted.

A petition from E. P. Leavitt to move a house from one side of Pearl street to the other, was granted.

A petition was received from George W. Cram to store dynamite, the amount not exceeding two tons, at a place on the B. & A. in Ward Seven. This was a surprise to the board and the members were not slow in saying so. It was explained that the goods were not combustible until mixed together and they would be mixed only in small quantities, and when required for immediate use. The petition was granted.

At this point the board went into executive session for about twenty minutes. The junk license of Samuel Jageman was revoked and Anthony R. Gardner granted a sixth class druggist license.

Alderman Green said in regard to refusal of the petition of telephone company to locate wires on Ward street and the suggestion that the company use the poles of the city, that he had talked with a representative of the company, who would address the board.

Mr. Allen, while he took a very modest position regarding the use of the street railway poles, explained the impracticability of the plan. He told of the danger the linesmen were exposed to in repairing the wires and said companies usually disliked to use trolley poles in such a manner. By such a plan it would be impossible for the company to give perfect service, which was their aim, and he thought the only alternative was the laying of a new set of poles. He read an extract from Chief Randall's report for 1895 which cautioned against the use of trolley poles in this manner and agreed with it. Mr. Allen was questioned by the aldermen regarding the use of the underground system, which he thought was not practicable in this case. After a brief discussion the matter was referred to the street light committee.

The Associated Charities.

The directors of the Associated Charities held their monthly meeting in their office in Central block, Newtonville, on Thursday, April 30.

The report of the committee on the Stone Institute, that they had presented a memorial to the city council, was accepted, and the committee continued. It was voted to co-operate with those having in charge the enterprise of vacant lot cultivation at Nonantum. The secretary reported that the sale of stamps by the Penny Savings System had amounted in the six months from Oct. 1, 1895, to Apr. 1, 1896, to $556.74. Great satisfaction was expressed with the recent scheme of the city authorities regarding tramps, and its very successful working.

How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife, second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre.

Death of Capt. J. M. Fiske.

Capt. John M. Fiske, keeper of the jail, master of the house of correction and special sheriff of Middlesex county, died at his residence on Thornton street, East Cambridge, Sunday morning, at 4 o'clock. Death came suddenly. He attended the Grant dinner on Tuesday night, where it was thought he contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia, resulting in his death.

Capt. Fiske was one of the most widely known men in the state, and he had the sincere love of a large circle of personal friends. There is scarcely a town or city in the state which he had not visited. In Middlesex county, where he was deputy sheriff for about 12 years, he was held in high esteem. He had visited every municipality in the county in his official capacity.

Deceased was born in Framingham, Sept. 28, 1838. He was the son of Moses M. and Harriet H. Fiske, and nephew of Eben W. Fiske, who was high sheriff of Middlesex county, and who was succeeded by Sheriff Cushing, the present incumbent.

When a young man of 22 he moved to Newton and entered the employ of W. H. Brackett, a provision dealer, with whom he remained a few years, when he was elected constable of Newton. For years he was the only policeman in that large city, and his services were in constant demand. He was possessed of great courage, and was fearless where danger was concerned.

His courage, fearlessness and attention to duty drew the attention of High Sheriff Kimball, who appointed his deputy sheriff in 1872. Upon the death of his uncle, Eben W. Fiske, Sheriff Cushing, who was then keeper of the East Cambridge jail, was elected high sheriff. He appointed Mr. Fiske keeper of the East Cambridge jail. He entered upon the duties of his office in May, 1884.

Under his keeping, the jail won the reputation of being the best managed institution of its kind in the county in the United States. He was very kind to the prisoners placed in his care, looking after their interests, and treating them in as humane a manner as possible. Their food was the best, and they were kept in plenty. Their quarters were neat and clean and well lighted. He managed the institution economically, and on strict business principles.

Mr. Fiske received his education in the public schools of Framingham, graduating from the High School. Early during his residence in Newton he evinced an interest in politics. He was one of a few men who had much to do with the management of town and city politics for many years. He was loyal to his friends, big-hearted, generous and genial.

He was prominent in many of the secret societies, being a member of Dalhousie Lodge, F. A. M., of Newton; Newton Royal Arch Chapter, R. M.; Council of Commandery, K. T.; Waban Lodge, I. O. O. F. Newton. He was also a member of the Colonial Club, the Middlesex Club, and many other social organizations. A few weeks ago he was elected a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. He was a 2nd degree Mason.

Mr. Fiske was one of a family of eight children, but two of whom are living, Mrs. Horatio Gardner of East Holliston, and Mrs. Willard Howe of Framingham. He was married about 35 years ago to Miss Caroline E. Morgan of Dedham. His wife was a devoted and efficient mother, and a daughter, the wife of George D. Ford, deputy master of the house of correction, survive him.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, from his late residence, and the interment was at Framingham.

Many anecdotes relating to Capt. Fiske's experiences as a policeman are related by his old friends. He was a detective of no mean ability. Once the residence of Lawyer Smith of Walnut park, Newton, was burglarized, and much valuable property stolen. Mr. Fiske worked on the case. Learning that the burglar probably took the horse cars for Boston, he interviewed every conductor on the road, and finally found one who remembered that a man with a large bag and a sword cane, on the morning of the burglary, rode to South Boston. Capt. Fiske found the man, and recovered $15,000 worth of property. He was highly complimented by the chief of the Boston police force for his good detective work, and offered a position on the Boston staff, which he, however, declined.

Another time he was driving a man charged with manslaughter to Cambridge. He had not taken the precaution to handcuff him, and while on the way, the prisoner, a heavy man, tried to make his escape, and the driver, Mr. Fiske, from the carriage, Mr. Fiske grappled with him, and both rolled out of the buggy, while the horse cantered away. Mr. Fiske held on, and finally conquered the man.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liverman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; J. H. Green, Newton Highlands; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre.

Newton Centre Golf Schedule.

The following golf matches will be played over the Newton Centre Club's links during May, June and July, all at 2.20 p. m., with the exception of the four-somes May 30, scratch, June 17, and handicap July 4, which will start in the forenoon:

May 16—Open day for record, 9 holes, 2 trials, medal to hold.
May 25—Men's handicap, 18 holes, medal play.
May 30—Men's foursome, 18 holes.
June 3—Men's longest drive, 6 trials, prize ribbon.
June 17—Ladies' competition, 9 holes, scratch.
June 18—Ladies' longest drive, 6 trials, prize ribbon.
June 19—Open day for record, 9 holes, 2 trials, medal to hold.
June 20—Men's foursome, 18 holes.
June 27—Mixed foursome, 9 holes.
July 4—Men's handicap, 9 holes.
July 4—Men's longest drive, 6 trials, prize ribbon.
July 11—Ladies' handicap, 9 holes.
July 18—Open day for record, 9 holes, 2 trials, medal to hold.
July 25—Men's competition, scratch, 18 holes.

An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged for each event, payable to Capt. Allen. No prizes will be given if less than six contestants take part.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. ## The Stone Home.

Following is the text of the memorial addressed to the City Council by the Associated Charities:

TO THE CITY COUNCIL OF NEWTON.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, a committee of the Associated Charities of Newton, have been instructed to present for your consideration the following facts relative to the "bequest" by the late Joseph L. Stone for the foundation of a Home in Newton for aged and indigent people. Mr. Stone died in December, 1889, and the following extract from his will relates to the gift before mentioned:

"If my wife should not survive me, I give to Spencer W. Richardson and Charles A. Hand, the balance of my property in trust, and I direct the remainder of my estate, after paying the above mentioned legacies, to be applied to the erection of one or more buildings in said Newton, to be perpetually maintained as a home or homes for aged and respectable men and women in indigent circumstances, and to the formation of a fund, the income of which shall be applied to the maintenance, repair, or renewal of such buildings and to the comfortable support of such aged men and women. To be called the Stone Institute. My wish is that one half of said remainder shall be expended in the purchase of land and in the erection of the building or buildings, and the balance to be kept at interest and the income expended in keeping in repair and in the maintenance of the institution. I sincerely hope that other benevolent persons may contribute towards this institute."

I authorize my said trustees, Spencer W. Richardson and Charles A. Hand, and their successors to sell and convey any or all of said trust estate whenever they may think best, and to do all or any other thing with the property that in their judgment may be beneficial to the carrying out of my wishes."

The amount of property left for the purpose, approximately $60,000, and there is present and continued need of an institution of the kind, and your petitioners are moved to bring this matter to your notice by applications from persons interested in obtaining the benefit of this home for needy and worthy persons.

As yet, however, the trustees under the will have taken no steps toward the establishment of the institution, preferring as they say, to wait until the endowment part of the plan, and it is the opinion of the directors of the Associated Charities and of many citizens that such a small beginning as might be maintained by the income of the present endowment portion of the legacy, would be of great advantage to the city, a proper and wise beginning of the enterprise and a fulfillment of the wishes of the testator.

Therefore, in behalf of the Associated Charities and representing the wishes of many citizens, beg to bring this matter to the attention of your honorable body in the hope that you may devise such action as will result in the early establishment of this beneficent institution.

Is Newton Patriotic?

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Why has not our national flag been displayed on all our school buildings every fair day, as the statutes of our state require? More than a year ago a law was passed requiring the school committees in all the cities and towns of this Commonwealth to have the national flag displayed on all the public school houses in their respective towns. By referring to the "Blue Book" of the legislature for 1895, chapter 181, we find that the following is the text of the bill which passed the legislature and was signed by Gov. Greenhalge, March 27, 1895:

"AN ACT REQUIRING SCHOOL COMMITTEES TO FURNISH THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WITH NATIONAL FLAGS."

Be it enacted, etc., as follows: Section 1. It shall be the duty of the school committees in the several cities and towns of the Commonwealth to provide for each school house in which public schools are maintained within their respective cities and towns not otherwise supplied, of United States flag of silk or bunting, not less than four feet in length, and a suitable flagstaff or other apparatus whereby such flag may be displayed on the school house grounds or on the school house buildings every school day, when the weather will permit, and on the inside of the school house on other school days.

Section 2. This act shall take effect on the first day of September in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-five.

Now, the above bill passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 100 yeas, and in the senate it passed with practical unanimity, the yeas and nays not being called. Why for over a year has no effort been made by our school board to carry out the provisions of this law? They cannot be ignorant of the law, for they had not heard of it otherwise surely our two honored representatives in the House of Representatives would have presented and voted for the bill, would have informed the school committee of the existence of the law; and I am also reminded that one of these honored Representatives is a member of the Newton school board, and further is chairman of the same, so that it is impossible for them to have neglected it through ignorance. Why then has not this matter been attended to? We hear but two reasons for its neglect: (1) It would require some expense, and the city cannot afford it. Think of it! Newton, which boasts of her wealth, her millionaires, her many distinguished persons; Newton, which can spend thousands for her parks, and millions for her boulevards, but too poor to buy a few bunting flags with which to honor the children of our city? If that is the difficulty, let us start a popular patriotic subscription and raise the small sum necessary for this purpose. I will start it with $100. (2) They other excuse we have heard offered for disregarding this law is that there is no penalty attached for non-compliance with it. I say shame on our school committee if such an argument is used to neglect their duty. My local school committee member, (Mr. E. M. Beck), brought this matter before the school board last fall, but a prominent member of the board, who is now an aside saying, "Oh, there is nothing compulsory in that law, there is no penalty for disregarding it." But are the people of Newton satisfied to let the school committee contemptuously disregard the statute of the state, especially such a one as this? Note the law does not say that the school committee "may," "should," or "ought," but that they "shall" do it. Let us provide a flag for each school house not otherwise supplied, etc. Here let me say that, as many of the school buildings of Newton are already supplied with flags and flagstaffs, why has not the order come from the school committee instructing the janitors of these schools already supplied with flags and flagstaffs, to run up the flag every fair day? It looks almost like a case of contemptuous indifference for the flag. We believe the patriotic sense of the people of Newton disapproves of this action, or non-action of our school committee. Many of us have had fathers, uncles, brothers, and cousins who have followed the Stars and Stripes through danger, blood, and death; and to them Old Glory was and is the dearest emblem in this republic, and no place of honor is too great to be given unto it. Surely it would be an honor to the flag to wave over the schools of Newton, whose standing is among the highest in the Commonwealth. And it would be an honor to the schools themselves to have the Star Spangled Banner proudly to wave over these intellectual citadels of our republic. How beautiful the flag would look these fine spring days waving over our magnificent school buildings; what delight it would bring to our children! What an inspiration it would be to us all! Let us have them. Nearly all the other cities and towns of the state have complied with the law, why should not Newton? We call upon every friend of the flag to ask our school committee to comply with the law; we call upon the G. A. R. to ask for it; we call upon the patriotic orders of the city to ask for it; we call upon the school children to ask for it; we call upon His Honor the Mayor, and the school superintendent to recommend it; finally we call upon the Newton school committee to grant it.

"The Star Spangled Banner, long may it wave O'er the schools of the free, and the homes of the brave."

Yours for the honor of the flag,
O. R. MILLER,
Pastor of the M. E. church, Newton Lower Falls, May 6, 1896.

Cubans, 14; Newtons, 7.

The Cuban Giants of New York very handsomely vanquished the Newtons on the Newton athletic grounds, Cedar street, Saturday afternoon, showing superior all-around work and great qualities as base runners and batters. The home nine was seriously handicapped by the absence of Bustard and Hovey, and their battery was Dowd and Cushing. The Cubans were in elegant team trim, and it was a lively match. The Cubans' battery was Howard and Jordan, and it proved very effective. The features of the game were the base running of the Cubans, the free manner with which they batted Dowd and the good work of Frye and Draper. The score was 14 to 7. Score by innings:

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S.

Lovers of Mark Twain and his writings will open the May Harper's with pleasure because of the illustrated sketch of him by Rev. J. H. Twichell, D. D., with its fine portrait and views of his home. Three finely illustrated articles distinguish the number—Part XI of Mr. Bigelow's "German Struggle for Liberty"; "The Dasher Explorations," by Jacques De Morgan; and "At Home in Virginia," by Woodrow Wilson, the latter of which is full of peculiar interest. It may well be read in connection with the Lee articles in "Frank Leslie's Magazine." Canal life on the Hudson River large flotillas is charmingly depicted with both pen and pencil by Howard Pyle, who finds in his quaint subject a most congenial one. There is a large assortment of miscellaneous matter of a lighter character.

ATLANTIC.

Three striking contributions to the May Atlantic are the opening number of a series of letters from Dante Gabriel Rossetti to William Allingham, edited by George Birkbeck Hill, with a delightful autobiographical sketch of Allingham; Kendrick Charles Babcock's discussion of The Scandinavian Continent; and an anonymous paper on Mr. Olney's fitness for the Presidency. An out-door flavor is given to this issue by Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller's Whimsical Ways in Bird Land, and Pandean Pastimes, an out-door study of Spring from a child's standpoint, by Mrs. Fanny Bergen. Other features are a discriminating Japanese sketch by Lady Evelyn Hearn, A Trip to Kyoto, Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop's Memories of Hawthorne, concluded, The Preservation of our Game, by Gaston Fay, and the Teaching of Economics, by J. Laurence Laughlin. Fiction is represented by a further installment of Henry James's The Old Things, and a striking one-part story of western life by Mary Halleck Foote, entitled Pilgrim Station.

LITERARY NOTES.

Messrs. D. Appleton & Co.'s Spring Fiction List includes the following novels: The Reds of the Midi, an Episode of the French Revolution, by Felix Gras, translated by Mrs. Catharine A. Janvier, with an Introduction by Thomas A. Janvier; The Seats of the Mighty, a Romance of Old Quebec, by Gilbert Parker, illustrated; His Honour, and a Lady, by Mrs. Everard Cotes (Sara Jeannette Duncan), illustrated; Maggie, by Stephen Crane; Green Gates, by Mrs. K. M. Meredith; The Statement of Stella Maberly, by herself; Sir Mark, by Anna Robeson Brown; In the Blue Pike, by Dr. George Elbers; The Madonna of a Day, by L. Donagall; The Picture of Las Cruces, by Christian Reid; An Outcast of the Island, by Joseph Conrad; The Dancer in Yellow, by W. E. Norris; The Ironies of Martin Hewitt, by Arthur W. Benson; A Winning Hazard, by Mrs. Alexander; The Riddle Ring, by Justin McCarthy; and McLeod of the Camerons, by M. Hamilton.

Mrs. Everard Cotes (Sara Jeannette Duncan) has sent from her Calcutta home a novel of social and official life in India called His Honour, and a Lady, which represents this popular author's most finished and successful work. The novel was published in England was secured by Mr. W. W. Astor for the Pall Mall Magazine, and the interest which the story has aroused the course of its serial publication indicates its decided success when it appears in book form. The story differs from most Anglo-Indian novels in that the native life is not made conspicuous. It does not depend upon the strange customs, characters and curiosities of manners and customs for its interest, though these are touched upon, but rather upon an adroit analysis of motives and a very curious interlarding of characters relieved by the author's unfailing humor. This novel will be published with illustrations by D. Appleton & Co.

Ayer's Pills are recommended by leading physicians and druggists, as the most prompt and efficient remedy for biliousness, nausea, costiveness, indigestion, sluggishness of the liver, jaundice, and sick headache; also, to relieve colds, fevers, neuralgia, and rheumatism.

"How is it," asked the flippant young person, "that you have no medals, when you are so prominent a member of the athletic club?"

"Oh," replied the elderly gentleman of sporty proclivities, "all I ever did in the way of athletics was to lift the mortgage on the clubhouse."—Indianapolis Journal.

Lasell Notes.

On April 30, a small party attended the Cecilia concert; and on the same evening Mrs. C. W. Hawes of Portland, Me., lectured in the gymnasium on "The Mystery of Life." The lecture was pleasantly varied by singing, Miss Gertrude Cushing of Boston and Misses Hookman and Cadmus of the seminary adding no little to the pleasure of the evening by rendering several beautiful songs. After the lecture, Professor Storer of Boston, performed a number of interesting experiments in the line of the evening's discourse and had for spectators an eager and interested throng of girls.

May day was marked by a reception given to the Sword Squad of the Newtonville High school. Refreshments were served in the gymnasium. The guests of the afternoon obligingly gave the sword drill to the lawn, all the seminary watching the while.

Friday evening Miss Evans escorted a party to Boston University to the dramatic presentation in Jacob Sleeper Hall, of selections from the Aeneid, rendered in the style of the original. The entertainment was pronounced remarkably fine.

Miss Evans also escorted the girls to the last symphony concert of the season on Saturday evening.

Monday evening saw the gymnasium filled with an assemblage of seminary folks, and friends and acquaintances from outside, eager to see the senior play, "Loves Labor's Lost." The stage was very prettily and appropriately decorated and the young disciples of Thespis acquitted themselves very creditably indeed in their several roles. The play was a most successful presentation, and its close was marked by a pretty testimonial of the good will and appreciation of the juniors, who gave to their charming entertainers the graceful gift of a huge bunch of lovely pink roses, a courtesy promptly acknowledged by Miss Kelly, the senior president, and whilom King of Navarre.

A small party attended Mr. Norris's musical recital in Pierce Hall on the fifth.

Miss Evans with a party of girls attended Mr. Mole's farewell concert given in Music Hall, Boston, on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Jeannette Lovell sang several solos. She has a voice of rare sweetness and wide range.

A lawn party was given on Thursday afternoon from three to five on the seminary grounds, and was an occasion of much enjoyment.

The man who stands idly by and sees the life fading out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in the perfect enjoyment of vigorous health, is either less than a man or else does not know of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength.

Most women do not understand their own bodies, or the things that make them well or sick. The most frequent cause of sickness in women is due to a disordered liver. A woman will go to a doctor when she has a severe cold, or some acute digestive disturbance, but she hesitates and procrastinates when the trouble is with the distinctly feminine organism. And yet the latter is infinitely more serious. It is the most serious sickness that any woman can have. It is the most dreadful—the most dangerous. Its consequences are always serious, and its debility, it saps the life and strength and works on the nerves to such an extent that the whole body is disturbed. Appetite leaves, the color goes from the face and hollows sink into the cheeks. Irritability succeeds good temper and fretfulness takes the place of contentment. Little by little life becomes more and more miserable. The woman is killing herself with neglect just as surely as if she were taking deadly poison. Perhaps her husband cannot persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable examinations and "local treatments." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use and tested every day for 30 years. It isn't an experiment; there are no chances about it. It is a certain and infallible cure for all derangements peculiar to women. Those who care to know all about it, and to receive the best medical work ever prepared for the general public are invited to send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only and receive a copy of Dr. Pierce's thousand page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." Gas Light Company

Operating in the Marshall Basin Mining District, two miles from Leadville, Col., the company owns two full mining claims of 20 acres.

1. They are situated in the heart of the famous San Juan Mining District, surrounded by great producers and dividend payers, like Tomba, Sheridan, Mendota, Cimarron, gold and silver Chief, Valley View, Bradley, and many others.

2. The veins are large, being 4 to 10 feet between walls.

3. The quartz is fully mineralized, carrying gold everywhere opened.

4. The ore is free milling, and can be milled for $1.50 per ton.

5. The ore grows richer in gold as the tunnels reach depth, increasing from $4 per ton at grass roots to $15 at 50 feet in depth.

6. The company own their mines, free from debt, and every dollar from sale of stock goes into actual work of production.

7. Chauncey M. Depew, in an interview published in the Herald of April 12, says: "Mining is booming. Gold ore yielding as low as $3 per ton can be worked at a profit by the new cyanide process." We have a fissure vein, 4 to 10 feet wide between walls, that at 90 feet yields $15 per ton mill run. We offer investors the chance of a lifetime. Call and see ore yellow with gold, or send for prospectus. Less than two weeks ago we offered for the first time 100,000 shares at five cents per share. One-third is already taken. Don't wait till price is advanced.

No subscriptions received for less than 100 shares at five cents per share, cash accompanying subscription; 200 shares or over, half cash and balance in 30 days. All orders for stock must be sent to

THE CUBAN QUESTION.

The Forum for May has two very interesting articles on the Cuban question, one by Senator Lodge and the other by John Bassett Moore, professor of International Law at Columbia College. The articles are in striking contrast, as they both treat of our duty towards Cuba at the present time, and each writer arrives at a very different result. Senator Lodge is in his fighting mood and wants this country to annex Cuba right away, or take some action looking to that end, and he sets forth the history of our dealings with Spain and Cuba in a way that would prove that the recognition of Cuban belligerency would be merely following out the advice of past statesmen and the example of former administrations, did not Mr. Moore show so plainly that exactly the reverse is the case.

Mr. Lodge begins by quoting from John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay, with the comment that as these men lived some time ago and are dead, they may safely be called statesmen, but if they were alive today they would be denounced as "jingo" and "politicians." This is rather amusing, as showing our junior senator's sensitiveness to recent criticisms on his course, and also as showing with what men he ranks himself. He then proves to his own satisfaction that every administration till the present one took his own view of the case and would have recognized Cuban belligerency at once. He touches lightly upon the action of Gen. Grant's administration during the former Cuban war, and also on Hamilton Fish's position, but leaves it to be inferred that Mr. Fish was heartily in favor of intervening, and it is not till we reach Mr. Moore's paper that we find that Mr. Fish strongly opposed any such action and really kept President Grant from taking it, and that Gen. Grant afterwards thanked his secretary of state for having kept him from making a bad blunder.

Another reason he gives is that such action on our part would only be a fair return for Spain's having recognized the Southern Confederacy, but he does not say that Spain waited over a month after such recognition had been given by both England and France, which puts an entirely different light upon the matter.

There are similar instances of half statements or wrong inferences all through his article, and it is evident that either Mr. Lodge is so strongly wrought up over the matter that he can not state history fairly, or that he did not anticipate that a historical student and authority was to present the case in the same number of the Forum. Or possibly he has not studied up the question and was ignorant of the history of our former dealings with Cuban affairs. Such articles as these would hardly entitle Mr. Lodge to be called a statesman, even if he was as dead as Adams or Clay.

Mr. Moore's paper is in strong contrast, as he takes up the question in an impartial manner and evidently aims to state the case just as it is, without prejudice to either side. He shows that there is nothing that can be called a regular warfare in Cuba, and nothing that international law could recognize as such, by any precedents that can be quoted. He also quotes in full the message of Gen. Grant on the subject, when he refused to recognize the Cubans as belligerents, and shows that exactly the same conditions prevail today. He also quotes at length from the Journal of Hamilton Fish, which gave his reasons for the advice he gave to the President, which show that President Cleveland has merely followed the example set him by Gen. Grant.

Mr. Moore also goes on to ask what benefit it would be to the Cubans if we gave them the recognition asked for, and says that it would be of no advantage whatever, Spain could still regard and treat them as criminals, while they could not buy arms or ammunition in this country, and Spain would then have the right to search all vessels for contraband articles, and to condemn such vessels for violations of neutrality. Our commerce in the waters adjacent to Cuba would be under Spanish supervision and President Grant in his message in 1875, said that this would inevitably lead to war. Perhaps this is what Mr. Lodge desires, as he is so eager for the construction of a large number of battle ships and the expenditure of a vast amount of money for fortifications. As for the annexation of Cuba, Mr. Moore simply calls attention to the usual condition of things in the republics of Central America, whose population is similar to that of Cuba, which is that of constant revolution, and says that this gives occasion for serious reflection as to our future relations with Cuba.

THE MAYOR'S VETO.

Mayor Cobb's veto of the order for the sale of the poor farm could not have been much of a surprise to the aldermen, as it was evident that they had acted without due consideration in passing it. One of them stated, in the discussion that followed the veto, that Mr. Strong would be perfectly willing for the city to use the gravel pit, and while this might be true, it would still not be a business-like proceeding, and the Mayor was amply justified in vetoing the order.

There is no doubt that the residents of Waban would be glad to get rid of the poor farm, and would welcome any means to secure this end. It certainly does not add to the attractions of that part of the city, although as the buildings are so far back from the street, and appear to be kept in fine order, the objections are more of a sentimental character than otherwise. Nevertheless sentiment does have a good deal to do with the value of real estate.

But Newton has only a very few citizens who have to be cared for at such a place, and the plan to have them boarded out has many arguments in its favor. Still, it is hardly probable that this plan would be adopted, and if the farm was sold the city would have to build on the land bought for the purpose some years ago in the Oak Hill district. It was then proposed to expend some $30,000 or more in new buildings, and a good deal was said about the Waban farm appreciating in value sufficiently to pay for the new buildings. Selling it for $14,500 does not look much like it, however, and the city would at once have to expend double that sum for new buildings. In this respect the change would hardly be an economical one for the city, or a good business transaction.

The city has kept this land for so many years, waiting for a rise, that it would seem to be rather foolish to sell it now, even if the price was equal to the present value of land.

A large part of the land is finely located, in close proximity to the railroad station, and as the Hano farm land, much farther away, brought from 3 to 12 cents a foot, at the auction sales some years ago, it would appear that the poor farm was worth more than three-quarters of a cent per foot, even if about half of it is swamp land.

Mayor Cobb's suggestion that a street be laid out to connect Washington and Beacon streets, through this land, would be of great benefit to the travelling public, would also greatly increase the value of the land, and is worthy of careful consideration. While there may be objections to the city's engaging in real estate speculation, yet there is certainly no reason for the city to refuse to benefit by a necessary public improvement, and the best authorities agree that all streets should be laid out by the city or town in which they are located, as then they would be laid out with a due regard to public convenience. Such a street as the one mentioned, would be of great benefit to Waban, as it would be a direct route to West Newton, and at present there is only a roundabout road, or else a long and steep climb over West Newton Hill. Such a street would make the abutting land very desirable for building purposes and would do as much for the land as the boulevard did for the farm land which it brought into the market.

In the anxiety to get rid of the poor farm, it would be unwise to take any hasty action, which might prove expensive for the city, and the majority of the board was wise to sustain the Mayor's veto.

REV. O. R. MILLER takes the school committee to task for not having flags displayed over all "our magnificent school buildings," and is afraid that Newton will be called unpatriotic, because the flag is not displayed daily. He hints that the reason for the non-observance of the law is that there is no penalty attached, and in this perhaps he is right. The bunting manufacturers, who are said to have lobbied the law through the legislature, evidently made a mistake in neglecting to have a penalty inserted. Flags would wear out much faster if daily displays were insisted upon, and the demand for bunting be greatly increased. But patriotism is not measured by a display of flags, and the truly patriotic man, like the truly pious one, does not have to make a continuous parade of his virtue, or if he does, he becomes an object of suspicion to his neighbors. There are some virtues that a man is assumed to possess as a matter of course, and patriotism is one of them. This country has found no lack of patriotic citizens, when the occasion called for them. As for the flag law, many people think it would be a disgrace to the flag to put it up over some of our school buildings, but we are replacing these every year, and in most of the districts the residents have not waited for the school committee, but were patriotic enough to provide flags soon after the law was passed, and these are displayed on suitable occasions. When not on the flag staffs, they decorate the barren walls of the school rooms, and teach just as valuable a lesson there as they would by being whipped into rags by the winds outside. As Mr. Miller suggests, if there are any districts which have no flags as yet, there ought to be local patriotism enough to provide them, without asking our already overburdened school board to do for them, what other districts have done for themselves.

The Newton bill to allow cities to get some return from street railways for their use of the streets, which was of course reported against by the street railway committee, has come into great prominence by the West End's discovery that they could make use of it to their advantage, and there has been a hot fight over it in the legislature. But the West End will without doubt carry their point. They generally do in our state legislatures.

Y. M. C. A.

THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL MEETING SHOWS A FLOURISHING CONDITION OF THINGS.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association was held in the parlor last Wednesday evening. President Shapleigh presiding. Interesting remarks were made by Mr. D. F. Barber, one of the founders of the Newton Y. M. C. A. The president's address was full of encouragement and from it we quote the following extracts:

"We have gathered for the annual meeting of the Association, and by the action of the board of directors a year ago, changing the date from the first Wednesday in November to the first Wednesday in May, our birth-days will no longer tell our age quite accurately, we being to-night 18 1/2 years old at our 19th annual meeting. The record will, however, thereby adjust itself in the public mind at our anniversary meetings, which, for the present at least, will be continued to be held in November. In the minds of some there are excellent reasons for a similar change being made there also.

We have occasion of thankfulness as we review the year's work now completed. We see our membership more than doubled; we see the athletic department well established in the gymnasium, and the bicycle club organized; the social meetings are fully attended; the Young Men's Congress thoroughly established and in successful operation, having held several interesting and important debates during the winter. The Educational and Entertainment Committees have provided an interesting and instructive series of lectures and entertainments, which were well attended. The finances are in satisfactory condition for this time of the year; something heroic, however, being required for this month to assure ourselves a clean sheet in November. The junior department has developed admirably under the watchful care of the Boys' Work Committee, the active president of the department and the general secretary. The devotional work of the association has shown deeper interest and has proven a stronger help to our members than before. The Sunday afternoon meetings are not only more largely attended but have a deeper earnestness, and the recent establishment of a Thursday evening Bible Class with a membership of 63, under the leadership of Prof. L. W. Rishel, by the request of the members, is a very gratifying and encouraging feature.

We have this year had a new and important experience by the development of the department of athletics, to which all associations have, of late years, necessarily and wisely, given much time and thought. A wide spread observation and inquiry has shown that in many instances this is done with serious effect upon the general purposes of an association, in that it has often been allowed to grow out of proportion to the other and primary interests of the association. It was, from the first, the desire and determination of your board and general secretary that our gymnasium should be used as a means and not be considered an end, and in accepting the gift from the donors it was done with the agreement to maintain it for a year, thus trying its effect and discovering its value. The year has convinced the board, and casual observer, that it is a most attractive and successful means of reaching men, young and old, in our community, but from this fact it is a most important and responsible part of our work to maintain and conduct.

I realize its value as I could not fully do a year ago when urging your acceptance of the gift, which may have been seemed to many of you too urgent, and I am more thankful than ever for the thought which prompted my children to hallow the memory of their father by this timely memorial, through which he, being dead, shall yet continue to live and speak for her Master. Let us hope the results will be largely for His glory and the good of many.

I desire to sincerely thank each member of the board of directors as well as the individual members of their committees for their cordial and hearty co-operation in the work of the association during the year; also to confirm what I cannot duly express my confidence and hearty appreciation of the consecrated efforts of our general secretary, who, I can but regard, as the keystone of the association, uniting and binding, as in an arch, the work of the board and of the membership in one entire and complete structure.

The Women's Auxiliary has contributed in no small measure towards the success attained during this time and the interest manifested by mothers and sisters in this work for boys and young men will certainly bear fruit in God's due time. The hearty support and co-operation of the Newton clergymen were recognized by the association.

You, and the community at large as well, will be glad to know that from this time the association enters upon a new era of much promise, assured by the fact that today we have secured the lease for a term of years of excellent and commodious premises in the new Nonantum building, now in process of erection by Messrs. Taylor & Whitman, thus bringing all our rooms into contact, and in connecting with the gymnasium, and enabling our work in all departments to go on harmoniously.

Having seen the membership double amid the existing inconveniences of the past year, when the athletics had necessarily been conducted in a separate building, we may have good assurance of much larger increase of membership as well as more earnest work in the future, as all departments together under the immediate and constant supervision of the general secretary.

The following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year:

Clerk, E. I. Leeds, treasurer, C. F. Bacon, J. R. W. Shapleigh, E. W. Pope, D. J. McNichol, J. M. Briggs, F. M. Morton, Geo. A. Mason, F. H. Tucker, C. O. Tucker, Geo. M. Weed, Wellington Howes.

Next Wednesday evening the new board of directors will meet and elect their officers for the ensuing year.

One swallow does not make Spring, but one swallow of One Minute Cough Cure brings relief. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

The office that is seeking the man these days is so small that the man doesn't know it when he meets it in the middle of the road.—Atlanta Constitution.

—Mr. W. C. Parker has leased the Towne estate on California street.
—A special meeting of Dalhousie Lodge was held Wednesday evening.
—Mr. F. S. Hancock and family of Walnut street have moved from town.
—Wilder's Accurate Thermometers, a full line at Payne's apothecary store.
—Mr. George Hurlbert and family of Lowell street have moved to Winthrop.
—Miss Lane of Beach street is entertaining her sister of Billerica for a few days.
—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard of San Francisco are the guests of relatives here.
—The Loyal Additional Benefit Association will meet in Denison hall this evening.
—Mrs. Jennie Cook of Crafts street is slowly recovering from her late severe illness.
—Rev. and Mrs. L. G. Hoeck have returned from their trip to Washington, D. C.
—Five candidates will be initiated at the Mt. Ida Council Royal Arcanum next Monday evening.
—About fifty folding seats were added to the hall in the new Adams school on Watertown street, this week.
—Mr. E. S. Colton and family, who have been spending the winter in Washington, are expected home this week.
—Mr. G. H. Loomis has leased the house on Washington street and will use it for storage purposes.
—Miss Annie Ellis, who was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Hamilton, has returned to her home in New Jersey.
—Rev. John Worcester and daughter, who attended the New Church Convention in Washington, have returned home.
—A song recital will be given by Miss Edith Marion Bradford in the Universalist church parlors, next Tuesday evening.
—Miss Emma M. Sibley of Austin street has arrived safely at Liverpool and will spend the summer travelling in Europe.
—The temporary track of the B. & A. is extended across Washington street considerably above the level of the thoroughfare.
—Robins have found a friend in Officer Soule. He rescued one from a hangman's noose this week and restored it to freedom.
—Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Soule were in Yarmouth this week to attend the funeral of Mr. Soule's mother, who was a former resident here.
—Mr. Andrew Eppler and family, who resided at the corner of Watertown and Crafts street, have removed to 43 North Beacon street, Allston.
—Men as well as horses miss the watering trough from the square. We sincerely hope that it may soon be placed in an equally convenient position.
—The Newton Associates block, which was removed from the corner of Washington and Walnut streets, is rapidly being rebuilt on Bower street opposite the depot.
—Fore-quarters of lamb, 8 cents; hind quarters of lamb, 12 1/2; legs of lamb, 14, at the Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street. We mean lamb not yearling or mutton.
—Rev. F. E. E. Hamilton will begin another series of discourses to young people on Sunday evening, May 17, on the subject of subjects to which the public are cordially invited.
—The Newtonville Cycle Club met Wednesday evening at the home of the president, Mr. Franklin Bancher, on Austin street. Applications were received from several persons.
—A special meeting of the Ministers' Union was held on Tuesday last at the Congregational church. After the consideration of items of business the subject of Summer Religion was discussed.
—Ask some of your friends or neighbors about the photographs that Webster, the Waltham photographer, made for them. We think that you will find that he is very successful, especially with the children.
—Owing to the disturbed state of the main streets several real estate sales and leases have fallen through. People from the city object to settling here until the improvements are more nearly completed. Another year will probably see many additions to the population.
—The regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias was held Monday evening. Three applications were received and three were balloted for. The Degree Staff of Commercial Lodge of Boston will be present at the next meeting and perform the rank of page. Five candidates will be initiated.
—Of late there has been a good deal of lawlessness on the part of young people of the smart age in defacing and demolishing signs and Mr. Loomis, the Newtonville real estate broker, with the kind assistance of the police, will soon take a hand in stopping this vandalism. A word to the reckless should be sufficient.
—There will be preaching services in Denison hall on Sunday under Baptist auspices. The Rev. S. L. Holeman of Boston will preach. A song service for 20 minutes before the sermon will be held, beginning sharp at 3 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all and the young people especially. Good singers are requested to take front seats. All seats free.
—The Methodist church was well filled last evening at the entertainment given there under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society connected with that church. It was called the "Praise of Nations," an allegory, and about 20 of the young men and women of the society took part. Miss Alice Nelson presented Columbia, the goddess of liberty. The soloists were Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mr. Webster, Mrs. C. A. Soden, Mrs. Gilman, Miss Cora Carter, Miss Grace Carter and Miss Winona Webster.
—The Newtonville Women's Guild held an important meeting on Tuesday afternoon, papers being presented on the charitable institutions of Newton, the hearing of which impressed upon some for the first time the great work done, the power so quiet yet efficient of the charities in our city. Tea was served later in the pleasant new church parlors where Mrs. Wm. Hollings and Mrs. Edward Hatch, presided, and with a corps of able assistants also administered many delectable dainties. Mrs. Taylor read a paper written by Mrs. Willey on the Pine Farm school. Mrs. W. S. Slocum gave an interesting account of the Pomroy Home. Mrs. Simpson told of the good work of the Ladies Home Circle, and of the Williston Home. Miss Packard described the Needle Work Guild. Mrs. Mary R. Martin described the Associated Charities and the Young Ladies Catholic Association.

The New Term.

[From the Pittsburg Chronicle.]
Dukane—The term "Napoleon of Finance" is now obsolete.
Gaskell—What has taken this place?
Dukane—Judging from the success with which Albert Edwards negotiated loans from the late Baron Hirsch, I think the term must give way to the "Prince of Wales of Finance."

—A two-year-old child of Ezra Forte died yesterday of pneumonia, and another lies dangerously ill from the same disease at the Newton Hospital.
—At the opening of the Working Boys' Home Festival in Mechanic's building, Boston, Monday evening, an address was made by Mr. T. B. Fitzpatrick of Waltham street.
—Fore-quarters of lamb, 8 cents; hind quarters of lamb, 12 1/2; legs of lamb, 14, at the Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street. We mean lamb not yearling or mutton.
—Delegates from John Eliot Lodge, A. O. U. W., attended the convocation of the lodge of that order in Eastern Massachusetts at Waltham, Monday evening. The new ritual was exemplified.
—The stereopticon used at the lecture given by Rev. J. C. Jaynes Tuesday evening, was one invented and made by Mr. Geo. Newell, who also added his services toward the pleasure of the evening.
—Mr. Edward B. Drew, Commissioner of the Imperial Chinese Customs, has been appointed secretary of Embassy to H. E. Li Hung Chang and his suite, who are to visit this country in the early autumn.
—The Boston & Albany is building a high board fence between Washington street and their temporary location, and the street is left very narrow. The fence will extend all the way to Newtonville.
—The annual festival and May pole dance was given by the Unitarian Sunday school, Saturday afternoon in City Hall. The festive folk danced and enjoyed their usual grace and ease and won the admiration of a large number of spectators.
—Chief of Police Richardson starts on Saturday for the annual convention of the national convention of chiefs of police, to be held next Tuesday at Atlanta, Ga. He expects to be absent about a week. During his absence Sgt. Charles P. Heustis will be in charge.
—The annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at the parlors of the Unitarian church this afternoon. A business meeting will be held at four o'clock to be followed by a supper. In the evening an illustrated magazine will be presented from the stage, under the direction of Mrs. Freeland O. Stanley, editor and publisher.
—The Newton Federation of Women's clubs will hold an all day meeting, Friday, May 22, in the parlors of the Unitarian church. Business will be transacted during the forenoon session followed by a lunch and social hour. In the afternoon "Beautifying the City" will be the subject for discussion. Addresses will be made by Miss Lucia T. Ames and several prominent gentlemen interested in the welfare of our city.
—Rev. J. C. Jaynes gave an interesting lecture on his trip abroad, Tuesday evening in the Unitarian church. He commenced with a short sketch of the voyage across and the landing at Gibraltar. Various views of the Straits, Algiers, Naples, Vesuvius, Pompeii, Venice, Capri and many other places were shown and admirably described by the reverend gentleman. It is hoped that another of these interesting evenings will be given in the near future.

—"What came near being a tragedy took place on Seaverns street, last Friday noon, when Domenico Capone, an Italian laborer, maliciously stabbed Philip Raymond, a fellow laborer, in the stomach. The stabbing was the result of an old misunderstanding between the men. After the deed was committed Capone, in endeavoring to escape by running through the kitchen, ran into the arms of Officer Quilty, who was on his way to dinner. The officer didn't do a thing to him but escorted him to the patrol box, while Raymond was assisted to the hospital. On examining him by Dr. Clark, a wound nearly four inches deep was found, which necessitated the taking of several stitches. He was then removed to the hospital, where he is recovering rapidly. At the time, however, much to the expressed satisfaction of the prisoner, Capone, it was thought he could not live. The knife, some ten inches in length, made a deep cut, and was found in a razor edge, was afterwards found by Mr. John Kenney. In court Monday morning Capone was placed under $1000 bonds, for the next session of the grand jury.

High School Notes.

The N. S. S. '96 gives a dance this evening in the Newton Highlands club house.
The base ball nine went to Bridgewater last Saturday and was defeated by the team of that town in a 12 inning game, by a score of 7 to 6.
For the second year Newton High captured the banner at the interscholastic tennis tournament at Cambridge last Saturday, by winning the greatest number of points, and for the fourth time she had a man left in the semi-finals. Last year Newton won the banner with 14 points, to 13 for Roxbury Latin, but this year she scored 17 against the nearest competitor. Cummings, Jr., surprised everyone by his brilliant playing and by winning four matches reached the semi-finals, but was defeated on Monday morning by Seaver of Brookline High. He played a strong, steady game, however, and his work cannot be praised too highly. Lee put up an excellent game in his morning matches but fell off in the afternoon and was defeated by Howe of Cambridge Latin. In justice to him, however, it should be stated that he broke his racket during the match and was obliged to use a strange one to finish with. The other points were scored as follows:
Anders 2, Hollis 2, Whitmore 1, Armstrong 1, Wise 1, Stearns 1, Leonard 1, Hollings 1. Following is a list of the matches played by the Newton men:
Cummings beat Howe, L. H. S., 6-1 6-4
Cummings beat Hollings, N. H. S., 6-2 6-3
Cummings beat Wright, E. H. S., 6-1 6-0
Cummings beat Bartlett, N. H. S., 6-1 6-0
Seaver, B. H. S. beat Cummings, 6-1 6-3
Lee beat Hillard, R. L. S., 6-1 6-2
Lee beat Dow, C. L. S., 6-0 6-1
Lee beat George, R. L. S., 6-2 6-5
Howe, C. L. S. beat Lee, 6-2 6-5
Anders beat Chase, N. and G., 6-0 6-1
Anders beat Nason, Berk., 6-0 6-4
Reed, C. L. S. beat Anders, 6-1 6-2 6-4
Hollis beat Evers, R. L. S., 6-0 6-4 7-5
Seaver, B. H. S. beat Hollis, 6-2 6-3
Whitmore, N. H. S. beat Cummings, 6-1 6-5
Wise beat Bishop, B. H. S., 6-0 6-1
Whitmore, N. H. S. beat Wise, 6-2 6-4
Stearns beat Rotech, Hopp, 6-0 6-2 6-4
George, R. L. S. beat Stearns, 6-3 6-0
Bartlett, N. and G. beat Leonard, 6-0 6-4
Hollings beat Cotter, N. and G., 6-0 6-4
Crosby, F. E. and G. beat Whitworth, 6-0 6-1
Seaver, B. H. S. beat Walworth, 6-1 6-4
Warnock, C. L. S. beat Wilkins, 6-1 6-4
Bacon, N. L. S. beat Walworth, 6-1 6-4
Evers, R. L. S. beat Clark, 6-0 6-4
It will be seen from the above that the Newton men ran together in three cases, something that happened in no other school.
The annual drill of the Girls' Calisthenic Battalion of the Newton High school took place in the drill hall of the High school yesterday afternoon. The battalion marched into the building from the school house, headed by their instructor, Miss Susan Hirsch, and was received with long continued applause. The exercises included Swedish exercises, dumb bell drill, free hand work, officers' march and battalion dress parade. The whole drill elicited much applause. At the conclusion of the drill Mayor Cobb and others made remarks, and Major Benyon and the Misses Ireson, Ward and Parker were presented bouquets. A dance, in which about 200 couples participated, concluded the event.

A concert for the benefit of the base ball team will be given by the Newton High School Orchestra in the drill hall next Tuesday evening, May 12, at 8 o'clock. The orchestra will be assisted by Mr. Frederic A. Metcalf and Mrs. Winnifred Woodside Metcalf, readers, and Mr. Charles Atwood cornetist. The tickets are 35 cents and may be obtained from members of the team.
Mr. W. R. Batchelder delivered an address before the members of the High School Battalion on Wednesday morning, his subject being "Personal War Reminiscences and the Assassination of President Lincoln." Mr. Batchelder happened to be present at the theatre when the crime was committed, and his description of the scene was realistic in the extreme.

Your Physical Condition

Needs attention at this time. If you are tired, weak and nervous, it is clear that your blood is impure, and without doubt there has been too much over-work or strain on brain and body. The course of treatment for such a condition is plain and simple. The blood must first be purified so that the nervous system, and in fact all the organs will be fed upon pure blood. Intelligent people without number have testified that the best blood purifier, nerve tonic and strength imparting medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Nervousness, loss of sleep and general debility all vanish when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken; in a word, health and happiness follow after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Francis T. Albrecht has removed from Winter to Mechanic street.
—Mrs. George Chamberlain has left for Indiana, where she will spend the summer.
—At a meeting of the Royal Arcanum, Wednesday evening, one new candidate was initiated.
—Mr. Frank Proctor is to spend the summer abroad. One evening last week he was tendered a surprise party by a large number of friends, who presented him with some valuable gifts as a testimonial of their friendship.
—Mr. Shaughnessy will hereafter leave the gate open, during the summer days, at the west end of the Echo bridge. This will lead into the park the hemlock gorge reservation, and will be greatly appreciated by visitors as it is for their accommodation.
—The police are looking for two young men who stole two packages of rubber tires from the Newton Rubber Company's works on Boylston street Saturday evening. They rode up to the factory on bicycles, and after looking over the works rode away with the bicycle tires, which are valued at $50. They are described as being about 20 years of age, one dressed in a light and the other in a dark bicycle suit.
—Mr. Benjamin Newell, one of the most prominent residents of this place and a wealthy retired paper manufacturer, died Sunday afternoon at his home on High street, at the age of 79 years. He received a shock of paralysis about a month ago, from which he never recovered and which was the ultimate cause of his death. He was a native of Dover, Mass., and came to Newton in early life and established a large paper mill on the banks of the Charles River. This mill he operated for about fifteen years. He finally sold the property, retired from business, and since devoted himself to the care of his property. He was a regular attendant at the Baptist church. He leaves a widow and one daughter, widow of the late G. H. Tucker, his son, J. B. Newell, having died last summer. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the house and conducted by Rev. Mr. Fellows. The following selections were rendered very effectively by the Alpine Male Quartet: "Consolation," "Gathering Home," and "I cannot always trace the way." The interment was in the family lot at Dover.

—The alarm from box 521 Tuesday afternoon was for a brush fire on Beacon street.

—The alarm from box 621 at 11.47, Saturday morning, was for a fire in the mixing shed of Masten & Wells' fireworks factory, caused by an explosion. Pursuit followed. An employee named Michael Sheehan was seriously burned and removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

—Michael Shieran, who was terribly burned in the explosion at the Masten & Wells fireworks factory, Saturday morning, died at 11.30 a. m., Sunday at the Newton Hospital. Death was caused by inhaling the flames of the burning chemical compound which caused the explosion. Mr. Shieran was 36 years old and married. He had lived in this village only a short time. He leaves a wife and six children, the oldest of whom is 12 years. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from St. Mary's church attended by a large number of his fellow employees.

Perfect Wisdom

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—The Cordingly extract works will close next week to allow some repairs to be made.

—Rev. P. H. Callanan returns Saturday from a needed vacation of two weeks on account of his health.

—Officer Harrison, going duty at West Newton, has returned to his position after a few days confinement to his home by illness.

—A real estate office has been erected in a prominent site of the Indian Springs Park property for convenience of purchasers.

—Tenants now occupying the Monagan house have been notified to remove, as the building is to be remodelled and fitted for stores with tenements above.

A Cure for Muscular Rheumatism.

Mrs. R. L. Lamson, of Fairmont, Illinois, says: "My sister used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for muscular rheumatism and it effected a complete cure. I keep it in the house at all times and have always found it beneficial for aches and pains. It is the quickest cure for rheumatism, neuralgic pains and lameness I have ever seen." For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; F. H. Green, Newton Highlands; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre.

NONANTUM.

—Michael Turner is the new driver of Hose Wagon 8.

—Miss Kate Levish has taken a position at Grace's drug store.

—L. P. Burrill is erecting two new houses on Beach street.

—Mr. S. Rosen has opened a boot and shoe store in Grace's block on Watertown street.

—A number of young trees have been planted on the vacant land next to the police station.

—George Curtis has left his position as driver of Hose Wagon 8 and been granted an honorable discharge.

—Miss Jennie Andrews, who has been visiting Miss Alice Hanson, has returned to her home in Lowell.

—Miss Alice Butler of California street sang at a meeting of Prof. Curry's class at Grace church, Monday evening.

—The Nonantum Worst mill has begun running on summer time. Work commences at 5.45 a. m. and closes at 5.45 p. m.

—Mrs. Martha Holmes of England, who has been visiting her son, Mr. Henry Holmes, on Chapel street, is soon to leave for New York.

—A large number from this place attended the entertainment and dance given by the Young Ladies' Charitable Association in Denison hall, Newtonville, Tuesday evening.

—There is considerable talk of organizing a bicycle club and electing officers. The name of the new organization, it is said, will be the Norumbega Bicycle Club.

—The many friends of Edward Jones are glad to see him back again at his old position. He has always been highly respected in the community in which he lived and his friends are glad to see the charges were not substantiated.

—The alarm from box 245, Saturday evening, was for a fire in a house in the rear of Barker's starch factory on California street. The fire was caused by Timothy Scanlan and the fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. No damage.

—In the police court Saturday morning Joseph Skinner was fined $100 for maintaining a liquor nuisance, and appealed. He was apprehended by Sgt. Clay and his squad of officers. The police say he was convicted for the same offence in Waltham in 1892.

—The meeting at the Buelah Baptist Mission, last Sunday, was addressed by Mr. Peter Gray. Mr. Norman Deane presided at the organ in the absence of Mr. Wilson and the society feel very much indebted to him for his service. Mr. James H. Gilkey, a well known resident of Watertown, will be the speaker next Sunday.

For your Protection—Catarrh "cures" in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodine of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change of cold and damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus and, if repeatedly neglected, the result is of mucus, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug.

The Nonantum Improvement League held an important meeting, Tuesday evening. It had been called for Wednesday evening, but the date was necessarily changed. The question of the unsanitary and unsatisfactory condition of the Eliot and Jackson schoolhouses came up in a report made to the safety committee, to the effect that the reports previously made had been greatly exaggerated, and that the committee found the condition of the Eliot schoolhouse very good, while that of the Jackson building was not as serious as reported. New floors for two rooms were recommended, and a minor change in ventilation in one of the rooms was suggested. The society adopted the report, and the matter will be brought to the attention of the committee on public property. It had been called for Wednesday evening, but the date was necessarily changed. —Seven new members were received into the membership of the First church last Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. W. S. Appleton has, with his family, opened his summer residence, "Hobbs Hall," at Oak Hill.

—The Newton Centre base ball nine will play the N. A. A. in the latter's grounds, Thursday afternoon, May 14.

—Tomorrow afternoon and evening a very elaborate May Festival will be held in the parlors of the Unitarian church.

—Walter Russel, who was run over by a team last week, is recovering from his injuries. His leg was not broken but received a severe fracture.

—Mr. W. M. Noble conducted the Missionary service at the First church, last Sunday evening. The work of home and city missions was discussed.

—Contractor John Ballantyne of Brookline is erecting, for Mrs. Lucy B. Chandler, ten new houses on the corner of Kingsbury and Suffolk roads, Chestnut Hill.

—Rev. D. L. Furber, his former pastor, delivered the eulogy at the funeral of Mr. J. J. Walworth, last Saturday. The interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

—At a date to be announced in the near future Mrs. G. H. Spaulding is to be given a testimonial in Bray's hall. The program, it is said, will include singing by members of the N. A. A.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of the First church held their regular business and social meeting Wednesday evening. The revised constitution was adopted and the monthly reports were presented.

—At Knapp's store next Saturday afternoon and evening there will be an exhibit of Chace and Sanborn's famous coffees, and all who desire will be served with a cup of that excellent beverage.

—Mr. Charles E. Hasbrouck, managing editor of the Boston Traveller, has removed from his home at the junction of Cypress and Parker streets and taken Mrs. F. E. Bowen's house on Sumner street.

—In the police court, Monday morning, George Marione was fined $15 for cruelty to a horse, upon complaint of Officer Bailey, and Vincent Custin and George Demaris were fined $5 each for drunkenness.

—Services at the Unitarian church next Sunday at 10:30. Sermon on Divination, Old and New. A word for the young. Sunday school at 12. Hale Union at 7:30. Talk on College Settlements by Miss Alice Clement. All are welcome.

—The alarm from box 7 at exactly 12 o'clock yesterday was for a fire on the roof of a shed belonging to Horace Cousins on Union street. The fire is supposed to have been caused by sparks from a locomotive. Damage slight.

—Mrs. Geo. F. Spaulding has written an operetta "Lady Nancy," which White, Smith & Co. of Boston have just published. The operetta is to be presented in Wellesley by the Maugus Club of that place under the management of Mr. Arthur I. Nash.

—There are letters in the postoffice for G. C. Cabot, Miss Mary C. Clifford, Michael Crowley, Everett Crowe, Dixon Crowe, Walter Dixon, Miss M. Daley, Annie A. Early, Kate Hardy, Kate Murphy, David B. Proctor, Hon. H. N. Sheldon and Lizzie Ward.

—The funeral of Edgar Allen Rhodes, who was killed by falling from a tree, Wednesday last week, was held Saturday afternoon from the home of his father, Mr. A. F. Rhodes of Boylston street. The service was conducted by Rev. George H. Phelps of the Congregational church, Newton Highlands, and the interment was in the Arlington Cemetery.

—The will of Mr. John H. Staples leaves his property in trust for his wife, both interest and principal to be used for her support, if necessary. She can also dispose of it by will to the amount of $10,000, and it is only in case that the estate exceeds this sum, or that the widow makes no will, that the First church and the Home for Little Wanderers receive the sums mentioned last week.

—George Bailey, who drives a watering cart for Contractor Keating, met with a bad accident at the corner of Homer and Cedar streets, Tuesday afternoon. The horses were at a standstill and the cart was being filled with water, when a sudden clap of thunder startled the animals and they started to run, throwing Davis, who was standing on the wheel, to the ground. He was picked up by Officer Taffy and moved to the Newton Hospital in the ambulance, where it was found that his leg was broken.

—J. F. C. Hyde gave a talk last Monday evening in Fraternity hall to a well filled house, upon Newton 60 and 65 years ago, and Newton since and now. Hyde saw land sold at the Highlands at auction for $10 an acre, that is now selling for 25 cents a foot, more than a thousand times what it sold for then, and the farmers then thought the price too high. He counted up the houses here 60 years ago, and quite amused and interested his hearers in describing the fire engine and other things and customs of the "long time ago." Newton then raised $10,000 per year for taxes; they are somewhat more than that now. A wish has been expressed that another talk might be got from him, as many did not get notice of it.

—The Newton Centre Woman's Club held its annual meeting, Friday, May 1st, in Bray's hall. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Lucy W. Waterbury. After a line selection rendered by the Ladies' Double Quartet of the club, the reports of various committees, secretaries and treasurer were given. Mrs. Spaulding then favored the club with a delightful piano recital. The following named officers were elected: President, Mrs. Alvah Hovey; vice-presidents, Mrs. James S. Dickerson, Mrs. Herbert L. Ordway; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert L. Harwood; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. D. B. Claffin; auditor, Mrs. E. F. Melcher. At this meeting, which began the tenth year of the club's life, membership was enlarged by admitting fifty-two new names.

—Mr. Mellen Bray is soon to erect two new houses on Chase street.

—Mr. Bliss is painting, inside and out, Mrs. A. R. Dyer's large house on Crescent street.

—The topic of Rev. Mr. Noyes' sermon next Sunday evening at the First church will be "The Spice of Christian Conversation," Col 4:6.

—Hon. Benjamin Baker and wife of Skowhegan, Me., stopped a couple of days to visit their grandson, Benj. Baker Fogler on their way to Minneapolis, Minn., where Mr. Baker holds lands bought many years ago.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mr. S. C. Cobb of Pensacola, Florida, is here on a visit.

—Mr. E. Moulton is confined to the house on account of illness.

—The C. L. S. C. will hold its next meeting with Mrs. Heckman.

—Wednesday evening the last meeting of the Study Club was held at the Congregational church. The address of the occasion was made by Mrs. Charles Fisher.

—Mr. M. C. Bragdon has commenced building operations and will have two houses built on Lake avenue, opposite his residence. Mr. Kempton, builder of Upper Falls, has charge of the work.

—An appreciative audience listened to Miss E. M. Hall at the Methodist Episcopal church last Sunday evening as she entertained related the success of the missionary work in Italy, and more particularly in Rome.

—Mr. Richard Whight, head salesman for E. Moulton & Son, will sail for England, on Saturday, by Steamer Pavonia, from Boston, and expects to be absent about two months. He is to make this trip for the benefit of his health, and it is hoped by his many friends that he may return fully restored.

—Work on the Newton Highlands section of the sewer system is rapidly progressing, and there will be over 12 miles laid before the summer is over. The work may also be extended to Newton Upper Falls, although on account of the great amount of ledge that must be encountered it may be found necessary to defer it until next year. There is strong pressure for it this year, and a petition for it is now in circulation.

—On Wednesday, the American line steam ship New York, numbered among its passengers Miss Grace Bail of this place, who makes an extensive trip to England and the continent to further perfect herself in her studies and pleasure. Miss Bail will travel about six months, returning about the 1st of November to resume her duties as instructor of physical culture and elocution at the Hawes School, South Boston.

—The Monday Club met last Monday with Mrs. Geo. M. Stone. In addition to the regular work, the club had the pleasure of listening to the Rev. Mr. Noyes of Newton Centre, who spoke very entertainingly on "A Literary Prophecy of the Prophecy of Amos." Miss Florence Wood added to the pleasure of the afternoon with her delightful music. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. M. C. Stone, Duncklee street.

—Last Friday evening a meeting was held at the house of Geo. Skelton on Erie avenue, for the purpose of forming an athletic association. All the young men of the village were present, and it was thought advisable to choose officers and to start the club immediately. The following officers were chosen to serve until the 1st of January, 1897: Thos. White, pres.; Geo. Skelton, vice-pres.; T. P. Trudwell, secy.; C. F. Johnson, Jr., treas. The club starts out with about forty members, and will be hereafter known as the N. H. A. A. (Newton Highlands A. A.) A base ball team is being organized and will play its first game on May 30th, and athletic games on June 17. It is hoped that the people of Newton Highlands will give their generous support to the club, and reward the efforts of the young men interested by making it a great success.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Hose 6 had a hard time responding to an alarm from box 52 the other day. Instead of going Beacon street they thought they would try the boulevard for a change, and the consequences were a long delay in reaching the fire.

—The St. Louis Hostess: "I'm afraid you will find our dear arrosour water rather unpleasant to your taste." Guest: "Not at all, madame. It's the best I ever ate." —Life.

—Mr. and Mrs. Morton Cobb have issued cards for an "at home" May 11 and 18.

—The family of Rev. William H. Davis has arrived and is staying at the Hollis.

—G. A. R. men and others call at Burns' Cole's block, for a May artistic hair cut.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, formerly of this city, will pass the summer in England.

—Mr. Henry Brooks is in Newton this week on a brief visit. His family is now in Paris.

—The America like its name stands supreme. Wheels all prices at Hodgson & Jones', French's block.

—Rev. Geo. E. Merrill will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the commencement of Brown University.

—Fore-quarters of lamb, 8 cents; hind quarters of lamb, 12-13; best of lamb, 14, at the Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street. We mean lamb not yearling or mutton.

—The Rev. R. K. Smith will be ordained a presbyter on Thursday, May 11, in the chapel of St. John at Cambridge. Mr. Smith will be presented for ordination by Dr. Shinn, whom he formerly assisted here as lay reader.

—The Social and Periodical Circle recently formed in Grace church, held its first social meeting last Monday evening. The librarian and his assistants have been busy sending off reading matter to needy places.

—Carl Seelig & Co. have removed their office from Eliot block to their building on Pearl street. The rear part has been for some time used as a repair shop, and the front will now be fitted up as a first class office and salesroom.

—Throughout the different police stations a new system of telephone has been effected which will connect each station with the others. The old ones had been out of repair for some time and the new ones are a much needed improvement.

—Next Thursday is the Festival of the Ascension. A service will be held in Grace church at 10:45. At 7:30 theatorio of the Creation will be sung. The choir will be assisted by a fine orchestra. Invitation tickets are needed until 7:20. After that all seats not occupied are open.

—We wish to call the attention of our readers to the adv. of Ford & Ensign on our front page, and the list of prices. They have one of the best stocked stores in Watertown and aim to please their customers as well as give satisfaction. Their prices will be found to be as low as elsewhere, and their goods superior in many respects to those sold elsewhere.

—A new roadway from Washington street to Charles river and along the line of the Boy's pond improvement is projected and a petition is in circulation to endeavor to interest the members of the city government in the plan. New and expensive improvements may receive the veto of the mayor, as in his inaugural he promised to oppose the creation of any further debt for such improvements until those already projected were completed.

—The semi-annual meeting and election of officers of the Newton Cycle Club was held Wednesday evening. The officers elected are as follows: President, H. J. McCannan; Secretary, J. W. Farr; Treasurer, J. B. Hamill; Captain, J. S. Shaugnessy; 1st Lieut., G. W. Johnson; 2nd Lieut., J. A. Shaugnessy; Color Bearer, J. W. Shilling. Two new members were admitted. The club will make a run to Lowell, May 10, starting at 10:30.

—Howes block is evidently to be left in a queer shape. The building is being sliced down from the roof, leaving four or five feet on Centre street, and a large section in the rear. It appears that the B. & A. could not agree with the owner, Mr. Parsons, about the price to be paid, and so they are only taking enough to give them the land needed. The remainder of the structure will be in danger of tumbling down, and ought to be condemned by the city.

—There was a meeting of the members of Newton L. A. 2541, Wednesday evening, in her studies and pleasure. Miss Bail will travel about six months, returning about the 1st of November to resume her duties as instructor of physical culture and elocution at the Hawes School, South Boston.

Mr. Cutler's Preparatory School

New and Improved Quarters.

Mr. Cutler has engaged for his school rooms the whole of the southern side of the second floor in the N. E. Association's Block now building on Centre street, and to be completed by autumn. The premises will include ample wardrobe and toilet accommodations, besides spacious school-rooms with an open fireplace in each. The heating, ventilating, and sanitary arrangements have been carefully studied, and will follow the most approved methods. Although the rooms will be considerably larger than those now occupied, the limit of number of pupils will remain the same.

The sessions of the next year will begin September 14th. For admission or information apply to or address Mr. E. H. Cutler, Linder Terrace, Newton.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington street.
—The Eastman $5 Pocket Kodak for sale at Mason's Jewelry Store, Eliot block.

—Fine French and hall clock repairing in all its branches at W. A. Hodgdon's, French building.

—Watch, Clock and Jewelry repairing. Clocks called for and delivered. All work guaranteed. Theo. L. Mason, Eliot Block.

—Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., will attend divine services at the Channing church, Sunday afternoon, May 31st. It will be addressed by Dr. Hornbrook.

—When the new Associates block at the corner of Centre street and Centre place is completed Mr. Cutler's school will occupy the whole of the southern side of the second floor for school rooms.

—There will be an exhibition of very beautiful Mexican drawing work at the residence of Mrs. E. M. Springer, 187 Kenrick park, Saturday, May 16. The ladies of Newton are cordially invited to attend. The display is exquisite and includes the very finest patterns and rarest work.

—The Boston Flower and Fruit Mission has begun its work for the hospitals and poor of Boston. Any contributions of flowers, plants, jellies, fruit, papers, eggs and fresh vegetables are gladly received at the Newton station, Tuesday and Friday morning, between the hours of 8 and 9.

—A large number from here attended the wedding of Miss Julia H. Godell and Mr. A. V. Harrington at South Framingham, Wednesday evening. The bride is a daughter of the chairman of the board of selectmen, Mr. John H. Godell, and the groom is cashier of the Westboro National Bank.

—In the legislature, Wednesday afternoon Mr. Hollis of Newton advocated against a report of the committee on railroads and insurance, sitting jointly, the substitution of a bill providing that railroad and street railway companies shall be responsible for damages to property of others, injured by fire communicated by locomotives, and shall have an insurable interest in the property upon their route on which they may take out insurance. Mr. Davis of Boston, Mr. Tolman of Pittsfield, Mr. J. H. Mellen of Worcester and Mr. T. F. Keenan of Boston favored the bill. It was opposed by Mr. Weston, Mr. Holden of Boston and Mr. Stanley of New Bedford. The House, 68 to 89, refused to refer to the next General

—The work of widening Park and Tremont streets at Newton goes rapidly forward, and the laying of the new line of rails by the West End Street Railway company has progressed so far that it is expected that the line will be ready for operation by June 10. The widening of the streets and the land damages cost the city of Newton about $80,000.

—Rev. Dillon Bronson left last night for New York and will sail from there tomorrow on the "Pursat Bismarck" of the New German Lloyd Steamship line for Naples via Gibraltar. It is expected he will be gone until September first. Prof. George K. Morris will have charge of the services of the Methodist church in Eliot lower hall during the pastor's absence.

—Mrs. Samuel Crosby of Eldridge street, while riding a bicycle on Centre street, Monday evening, came into collision with a hack, and was thrown from her wheel, her machine was wrecked and she was injured by a physician and removed to her home. She is now under the doctor's care and is rapidly recovering from her injuries.

—Annie Walsh, who was arrested last Friday evening for abandoning a five weeks' old baby, was before Judge Kennedy in the police court, Saturday morning. She was placed in the care of Probation Officer Laffie and the infant was taken to a home in Boston. The girl said she had just arrived from New York. It is known that she was employed as a domestic in Newtonville over a year ago.

—The schedule of runs of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Club for May is as follows: Saturday, May 9, Franklin Park; Tuesday, May 12, Echo Bridge; Saturday, May 16, blind run; Tuesday, May 19, West Roxbury; Saturday, May 23, South Framingham; Tuesday, May 26, Spy Pond; Saturday, May 30, blind run. The hour for leaving the club rooms will be 7.30, except for the Memorial day, which will be made in the morning at 9 o'clock.

—The Boston & Albany railroad company is pushing the work of laying the temporary tracks and the trestle work between the Jannet street ledge and the Centre street crossing is almost complete. Harry King of Boston, a freight conductor, while at work shifting near the Common-law street bridge, was struck by a large stone which fell from the bridge and crushed him by the tipping over of a large stone. He was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

—Charles McVey, the noted flat robber and speakeasy thief, who was arrested in Boston almost a week ago, was brought before Judge Kennedy Tuesday morning, by Inspector Fletcher, charged with breaking and entering the houses of Samuel Hano and Dr. Perkins. The breaks occurred in February. Inspectors Al Paige of Brookline and Gillette of Boston appeared against him. He was found guilty and held in $1000 bonds on each count for his appearance before the grand jury. The owners were present and identified part of McVey's plunder as their property.

A preliminary meeting to consider the advisability of forming a society composed of members who are sons and daughters of America, was held Wednesday night at the residence of Mr. Daniel S. Emery on Waverley avenue. It was very successful and attended by about forty people.

Mr. George Agry, Jr., acted as chairman and Mrs. G. D. Gilman was appointed secretary. Reminiscences and anecdotes of people and places and facts historical, geographical and financial were given by several speakers. A committee on by-laws was elected, with Mrs. G. D. Gilman as chairman. Mr. F. E. Stanley was elected chairman of the nominating committee and Mrs. Hornbrook chairman of the name committee. A roll of the counties was called and out of the sixteen it was found that twelve were represented. Much interest toward the formation of such a society has been expressed by residents who are natives of the various States. It is already some sixty persons have signified their willingness to join it. It is hoped that this privileged will join as the organization promises a

ADAMS SCHOOL HEARING.

THE SUPERINTENDENT RECEIVES A GOOD DEAL OF ATTENTION.

The old Adams schoolhouse matter in Newton took on a fresh aspect Friday evening, when those residents of Wards 2 who wish to be permitted to send their children to the new structure appeared before the public property committee of the city council, with a plump request that the city government sell the old property.

This was at a hearing in City Hall, where there was a large attendance of the people of Newtonville. In connection with the specific subject of the meeting, a good deal of rather amusing talk came out with regard to the general conduct of school affairs in Newton.

Mr. T. Aubrey Byrne, special employe in the Federal building, Boston, who conducted the case for the petitioners, in speaking of a lack of uniformity in the school methods, and of an excess of attention which he said was paid to non-essentials, told of a schoolboy whom he had come across one day, purchasing a tube for testing minerals. He asked the boy:

"Do you study geography?"
"Yes, sir," replied the lad.
"Do you know where Worcester is?"
"Oh, yes; it's up the road!"
"Where is Providence?"
"In New York."

Such things as this created considerable laughter, although somewhat apart from the question of the evening.

Mr. Byrne said that at other times, when the subject of the transfer of the children to the new school was up, the school committee had set forth that the petitioners were not representative of the ward.
"Now, however," he continued, "we come here with the names of 256 of the prominent citizens of the ward, when that objection cannot obtain, and we ask that you sell the old Adams school property, under authority of the revised city charter, for the following reasons:

1. "The new brick school building just erected at the corner of Watertown and Walker streets is ample for the accommodation of the pupils of this district."
2. "The request and the appropriation for the new building were made with the distinct understanding that it should replace the old building."
3. "As taxpayers, we strenuously object to the additional expense of maintaining the old building."

Mr. Byrne made an argument on these lines, stating that the capacity of the new Adams school, counting eight rooms, is 334, and its registration is 151. The registration of the old school is 121, leaving 212 vacant desks, in anticipation of the growth of the district. He said, he is, normally 52, with a graduation of 25. But there were two large schoolrooms in addition to these, beside the large hall, the two ends of which are turned into two more. The school committee, after the fire of 1894, said he, contemplated carrying out the design of the city government to dispose of the old building, but the citizens had vain besought the committee to give them the use of the new building, and if the school committee of a city could not be regulated there must be some fault in the charter. The law says that the school committee is supreme in the administration of the schools, but the charter gives the council control and custody of all city property.

Parents of the district had been advised by their physicians not to send their children to the old building, and some families had to place their children in private establishments. Mr. Byrne said he would not go into the sanitary condition of the old building, but he said, in the course of his remarks, that he had once seen the janitor using disinfectants in the basement.

Before Mr. Byrne finished he spoke in a general way of an officer who set up a dictum that nobody could gain say. He read a letter from Beverly K. Moore, secretary of the Boston Merchants' Association, expressing full accord with the sentiment of the petition.

On the close of his remarks Mr. Wallace C. Boyden, a former member of the school committee, made a short address. He said he had spoken before a number of times, but was glad to say a word as he was deeply interested. He considered the general state of things and policy carried out by the school committee to be unsound from a business standpoint. The new building would amply accommodate the scholars of the district. 318 vacant sitting seemed a pretty liberal allowance for growth in the district. At present in the old building there were 121 scholars. He saw no reason why these could not be transferred to the new building and there have plenty of room.

How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife, second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add in ways keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; B. B. ## A Great Event.

When it is once known that over one sixth of the entire population of the United States are enrolled in the Sunday schools of our country, the problem of Sunday school organization, equipment and teaching comes to be a national one.

The greatness of this fact being realized, no one can longer be indifferent to what is being done for the success of this work. It is, therefore, interesting to know that for nearly forty years an organization has existed, increasing in size and influence yearly, for the prosecution of this work.

More than sixty States, Territories, and Canadian Provinces are organized, and are holding district meetings and annual conventions and conferences to increase the efficiency and improve the work of the schools.

Once in three years all these bodies join in a Triennial International Convention, to which each of the States and Provinces send their delegates. Seven such Conventions have been held already. The eighth is to be held in Boston, in Tremont Temple, June 23-26. It will be possible, therefore, for all of New England to come into closer touch and into personal relation with this great system of Sunday school education.

In this Convention, legislation affecting directly one-sixth of the population of the United States will be enacted. In this particular its legislative function will have a wider scope than the Congress of the United States or the Dominion of Canada.

New England is honored with this great Convention and will give it a hearty welcome.

THE PLAYERS.

SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION OF A DOUBLE BILL IN CITY HALL MONDAY AND TUESDAY EVENINGS.

The 24th series of performances by "The Players" were given in City Hall, West Newton, Monday and Tuesday evenings, before the usual large audiences of associate members and friends. In this series were given "The Dowager," a comedy by Charles Mathews, arranged for convenience in two acts and the prime old Newton farce of Box and Cox, with music by "The Players" orchestra. In this connection it may be said the latter never seemed to miss the leadership of Mr. Goodrich so much as now.

The Dowager was cast as follows:
Lord Alfred Lindsay.....Stephen L. Snel
Sir Frederick Chasemore.....Charles W. Cole
Edgar Beauchamp.....Geo. R. Pulsifer
The Dowager.....Mrs. E. A. Vosburgh of Tresilian.....Miss Ethel Ferrin Servant.....L. D. G. Bentley
Lady Bloomer.....Miss Mary P. Metcalf
Margaret.....Miss Ethel Ferrin

The smoothness of the performance and good dramatic selections reflected credit upon Mr. Clifford A. Bentley, acting manager, especially as this was his first effort in this capacity. The period of the play being 1790, allowed handsome costumes which privilege the performers availed themselves of.

The single scene required was a very handsome stage setting.
Mrs. Vosburgh easily led in her finished performance of the heroine. She not only looked the character, but acted it with rare discretion and careful attention to its dramatic requirements. It was a remarkable performance for an amateur and would have done credit to a professional.

Her elocution is so fine that it is a pleasure to listen to her delivery and she is certainly a great acquisition to the staff of "The Players."

Mr. Snel put the requisite amount of vivacity into his interpretation of Lord Alfred, showing a right conception of the character and less self-consciousness than has been his wont.
Mr. Cole, a new member, gives promise by his performance in this play of doing good work in the future. The others did their best in making the performance a success.

The farce of Box and Cox introduced Messrs. Stutson and Cheney and Miss Harris in congenial roles and made this glorious old farce a happy ending of the evening's performance.

Common Council.

Monday evening at City Hall, was held the regular meeting of the common council, Pres. Wing in the chair. The session was a particularly short one, the principal item of business being the appropriation of the sum of $150, to be added to the salary of the city solicitor, which was voted upon.

There was some discussion as to the wisdom of making the appropriation, it being shown that the city solicitor, while receiving a salary from the City of Newton, does not give his entire attention to the affairs of the city. Acting upon the statement of Councilman Sprague that he was under the impression that the latter would devote his entire attention to the interests of the city, the order was passed by voice, as stated.

A number of hearings, at which no one appeared, were given as follows: On a petition for the grading of Groveland avenue; on a petition for the widening of Walnut street; on a petition for the creating of sidewalks on Lake avenue; on the laying of a sewer in Washington terrace; on the laying of a sewer in Winchester road.

PETITIONS

were received from Newtonville citizens asking that the hall of the new Clafflin school be furnished; referred to the public property committee; from residents of Chestnut street for concrete sidewalks; referred to the highway committee; from residents of Ward street for a street lamp; referred to the street light committee; from the Congregational society of Auburndale for a concrete sidewalk on Hancock street; referred to the highway committee; from citizens of Newton Highlands for concrete sidewalks on Lincoln street; referred to the highway committee.

A report was received from the board of health and papers from the board of aldermen, were passed in concurrence. There being no further business at 8:20 o'clock the board adjourned.

Alderman Greene, the next speaker, said he would like to say a few words on the economy side of the question. The conduct of the public schools for the past two years had been a matter of the greatest anxiety to the citizens. The increased cost and the diminutive results attained caused the city to be anxious what it all would result in. Here the alderman gave a number of figures to show the faculty and unbusiness-like manner in which the cost per pupil in the public schools is ascertained. He thought that in the school committee there was lack of organization, but this was settled all on one man. If the mayor tried to meddle with the various committees, as was the habit of the superintendent of schools, he would soon come to grief. The mayor was too much of a business man to do a thing of that sort. As to the increase of population he thought it would be well to consider the fact that 50 per cent. of the children born die under 5 years of age, 40 per cent. before they are able to attend the kindergarten.

Austin T. Sylvester and Samuel P. Putnam spoke, the latter saying that the brains of Ward Two were not all contained in the superintendent or in the whole school committee. The citizens wanted less theorizing and more common sense.

A letter was read from J. B. Willis, who protested against the actions of one paid servant.

Nathan W. Tupper said he wished that the committee would give the Adams school house question their early and most earnest attention.

They had waited for a new school house for years and had worked for it, and now they wished to enjoy the fruits of their labors.

J. B. Prescott, who next spoke stated that he had no facts further to present, but wished to emphasize the fact that it was of interest to the city to dispose of the old Adams school. After a few further remarks the hearing was brought to a close.

SINGLE TAX CLASS AND CLUB.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION CONSIDERED AT THE LAST MEETING FOR THE SEASON.

The subject of the last meeting for the season of the Single Tax Class and Club, Tuesday evening, was "Primary Cause of Recurring Paroxysms of Business Depression" as expounded by Henry George. There were seven original papers and Miss Ellen D. Jackson gave some interesting personal reminiscences of the panic of 1857.

The following was read as showing the climax in land speculation previous to the panic of 1857. "The figures of the sales of government lands at $1.25 per acre were, in 1829 $1,517,000; in 1834 $4,800,000; in 1835 $14,757,000; in 1836 $24,877,000. One lot in Chicago was sold where the assessed value fell suddenly from $25,000 in 1836 to $3000 in 1837.

Reference was also made to the report of the tax commission of five men by Mayor Swift of Chicago to investigate the assessments in a certain division of that city. These men agreed in an opinion that the value of land was $37,500,000, and the value of the improvements $10,488,000, making a total of $48,988,000. The same property was assessed in 1835 as follows: Land $24,028,000; improvements, $15,941,840; total $40,969,840, or less than 10 per cent. of the actual value.

The following extracts were read from Book V: Chap. 1, "Progress and Poverty" by Henry George.

"A consideration of the manner in which the speculative advance in land values cuts down the earnings of labor and capital and checks production, leads, I think, irresistibly to the conclusion that this is the main cause of those periodical industrial depressions to which every civilized country, and all civilized countries together, seem incessantly liable."

"One school says that the speculation produced the depression by causing overproduction, and point to the warehouses filled with unsold goods, closed mills, and idle workmen as evidences of a cessation of effective demand, which, they say, evidently results from the fact that people, made extravagant by fictitious prosperity, have lived beyond their means and are now obliged to retrench, that is, to consume less wealth."

"While the great masses of men want more wealth than they can get, and while they are willing to give for it that which is the basis and raw material of wealth, their labor, how can there be over-production? And while the machinery of production wastes and produces more than the market can absorb, and while the masses of men are willing to give for it that which is the basis and raw material of wealth, how can there be over-production?"

"That land speculation is the true cause of industrial depression in the United States, clearly evident. In each period of industrial activity land values have steadily risen, culminating in speculation which carried things to such a point that the masses of men were condemned to unwilling idleness, how can there be over-production?"

LATIN SCHOOL CLASSES.

THE NINTH BOOK OF THE AENEID. EDITED BY EDWARD H. CUTLER, PRINCIPAL OF PREPARATORY SCHOOL, NEWTON, MASS.

This edition of the Ninth Book of the Aeneid is intended primarily for reading, and does not aim to provide material for grammatical drill either in syntax or in prosody. All points, however, in construction or in metre that need elucidation are fully explained in the notes, although without references to any text-book of Latin Grammar. The notes are meant to be sufficiently full to adapt the book to even the earliest stage of the pupil's study of Vergil. Special care has been taken in the vocabulary to furnish renderings suited to the connection in which the words occur. The book being replete in itself, and not requiring the use of any dictionary or grammar, may be taken up conveniently either as a part of the thoroughly prepared work, or for translation "at sight."

The Ninth Book includes the much admired episode of Nisus and Euryalus, and is not surpassed in interest by any other book of the Aeneid. An outline of the first eight books is prefixed. Ginn & Company, Publishers.

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer it promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhoea, it affords instant relief. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

One Minute is the standard time, and One Minute Cough Cure is the standard preparation for every form of cough or cold. It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate relief. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

NEWTON'S CHARITIES.

AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF WHAT IS BEING DONE IN THE CITY.

The Newtonville Women's Guild held an important meeting on May 8th, papers being presented on the Charitable Institutions of Newton, the hearing of which impressed upon some for the first time the great work done, the power so quiet yet efficient of the charities in our city.

Mrs. Taylor read a paper on "Pine Farm School," which was of great interest. This charming upland farm is a training school for boys and is one of the many departments of the Boston Children's Aid Society, and doing a great work for the twenty or more wayward lads coming under its kindly care, between the ages of ten and fourteen years. Who knows if they could have been so cared for earlier that they would ever have been wayward? Kind, broad-minded Mr. Lawrence visits the police courts every morning and takes names and addresses; goes to the home and talks with parents where in some instances they are almost heart-broken over the disgrace or unhappiness brought upon them, in others callous and indifferent; but his warm heart and wise head adopt the best method of dealing with these young, wayward lives and far from city life and its dangers, in happy environment these lads in many cases grow to useful, self-respecting men. Miss Durham takes an ardent interest in this work, corresponds with the boys, goes out to the school, spends a night now and then, makes acquaintance and wins friends among them and cheers and inspires them to better things. The matron, Mrs. Maynard, welcomes visitors, who see in the school room bright, smart boys conducting themselves in such manly fashion, it seems impossible they are wayward; nine months and sometimes less spent there does wonders for them.

Mrs. Slocum, wife of Hon. W. S. Slocum, gave an interesting paper on the "Pomroy Home for Destitute Girls," another branch of Children's Aid Society for a time, then in Nov. 1872, Newton friends pledged themselves to its maintenance and for 18 of the twenty-two, homes were found, leaving only four in the home.

Next day, after the establishing on a new basis, came the disastrous Boston fire, and crippled its generous benefactors; after many vicissitudes it was established in its present location, Hovey street, Newton, where girls between five and eleven and from four to eighteen in number, are taken and brought up according to their abilities, trained in all domestic duties needed in the home, each month varying the round of work, they become very efficient, and if they evince talent in music, or love of study in special lines, efforts are made to aid and develop.

"Auntie" Pomroy, as she is lovingly called, was an army nurse in the days of our civil war, in the famous Tenth Hospital and "White House," tell of that time when brave women were needed to fill a great gap, and went at the demand of God and duty, to serve bravely and well.

At the war's close she took charge of the Home. Mrs. Williams also spoke of this beautiful charity. She said at present there were eighteen girls in the family, between eight and twenty years old, and while most have one parent, though unable to care for them, others are quite alone.

They are to be trained to be self-supporting children, they attend public school until they reach the ninth grade. To encourage them to study every girl ranking over ninety was allowed to hand her papers in to the directors; the first month's trial was most encouraging and the second month the number doubled. They all attend church and count it a great deprivation if, from storm or illness, they are detained.

They have privileges not given in many homes, a fair, young girl of warm heart gives her service as teacher of music and another as teacher of elocution. They make and keep in repair their own clothing and each has one younger girl in her charge. As a rule they are "put out" at 17, rarely under that age, although the home is greatly cramped for room. $13.20 paid the bill for dry goods for twenty girls for one year, but the shoe bill was over a hundred; think of that first item young women of the fashionable world! How far does $13 go for one girl for one month, in the happy, prosperous home to which you are born?

Mrs. Simpson told of the good work of the Newton Ladies Home Circle, whose work is for the sick and disabled, without distinction as to creed or color. These ladies meet in the Grand Central Church at West Newton and make their plan for work. With membership limited to fifty, each ward of Newton there is a relief committee of two provided, who seek out and take delicacies to the sick and lend their sympathy and patient interest.

For immediate aid sometimes needed, they have an emergency committee, which they call upon. They furnish and care for a room in that noble institution, the Soldiers Home on the Heights in Cambridge one in the Newton Hospital, a bed at the Home of the Little Wanderers, and also helped furnish a sitting room at the Union Rescue Mission in Boston, and are ready with heart and hand to aid in any case of genuine distress.

Fifteen years ago a little lady, southern born, with a heart full of sympathy, though caring for an invalid sister and with very slender means, took six little children under her charge. "The Lord will provide," must have been her watchword. This temporary home was at Riverside, later in Auburndale and now under happier and more prosperous conditions, for the seed became a plant of power at West Newton, on Elliot avenue, the Williston Home for orphans is established. In some cases seventy-five cents per week is paid by friends toward the expense, the highest price received is $2.00 and for many nothing is given.

This home was one which big-hearted Bishop Brooks, that lover of children, warmly commended, and noted the financial ability that could keep well and happy, eighteen children on an uncertain income and yet never be in debt. $13.22 was the first money it received, the sweet offering of more fortunate little ones, made by gathering and selling wild flowers; but now more widely known, not alone from Newton, the Garden City, but from Boston and many another Massachusetts city and town, and even from New York city come kind thoughts and more substantiated aid. For years Dr. Bellows gave his medical services until he moved to Boston; since then Dr. George Talbot, who does so much in his quiet, kindly way, continues the generous work begun by Dr. Bellows. "Auntie" Williston in the pleasantly furnished, artistic home, simply but healthfully fitted, is full of courage and enthusiasm. $3500 was paid on the house and a mortgage of $5000 taken, but the late Mrs. Eldridge, always ready to do good, paid $1000 on the mortgage, reducing it to $4500.

If that could be raised so that the Home might be free from debt! In a bright, happy way Miss Packard gave an account of the work of the "Needle Work Guild" whose branches like strong fibres, reach from the central bureau in Philadelphia to Boston and many a Massachusetts town on the east, to New Orleans on the south and to Minneapolis and St.

Paul, Minnesota, and Oakland, California, on the west.

In Newton, Mrs. Loring, Mrs. Hatch and Mrs. Ashenden are leaders in this branch in Newton. What do they do, these directors and members?

Every single member makes two new plain suitable garments to meet the great need of hospital, home or other charity. Any member obtaining from ten or more persons, twenty-two garments, becomes a director; not less is required of each director. Mrs. Levi P. Morton, Washington, D. C., is the honorary president of this Needlework Guild of America and the general president, secretary and treasurer are Mrs. J. W. Stuart, Glen Ridge, N. J.; Miss S. B. Hodge of Walnut street, and Mrs. John Drexel, Spruce street, Philadelphia. This Guild was organized in the latter city, April, 1882, modelled after a society in England founded by Lady Wolverton.

Mrs. Mary R. Martin told of the work of the Associated Charities of which she is the earnest, efficient secretary. The four cardinal principles of this society are investigation, registration, friendly visiting, co-operation. The investigation consists in going to see the family, finding out the true condition of things, who the relatives are and if any can be of service in the case, if the husband is a Mason or belongs to any relief organization; get work for him if possible. 2d, register these facts gained in concise terms and in such form as to make them available to turn to at once for information and wish to aid, but not from idle curiosity. Although the families in Newton are classified it is not possible to keep fully informed on all points.

An employment bureau is a small adjunct but is not claimed as a feature of this work. The second hand clothing department is a strong one, however, and Mrs. Martin, with her liberal thought, smiled at the remembrance of being criticised for allowing criticism of two poor garments by those accepting cast off clothing. She said: "Many things given are so useless or unsuitable, but only a tramp will take a coat with skirts, a fine alpaca coat. Working men want the kind they themselves buy when able to do so, and we have no use for silk lined lace basques with waist measure 22 inches. Our women cannot wear that kind and after keeping them a year or so we have sent some unavailable articles to the mountain whites of North Carolina where life is on a different basis, and they need it. We have no store room, so, when, quite naturally, winter apparel is sent in spring, and summer garments in the fall, we hardly know how to manage. January and February, the usually dull times of business, and July and August, when so many are at the mountains or seashore it is hard to find work for our people.

The Penny Savings Department is a great factor for good, and the children especially are delighted with the stamp system, which chronicles their tiny bank account, and encourages bright aspirations and careful ways, and little self-denials in their young lives, not too gay with prosperity. Mrs. Martin also told of the work of the Young Ladies Catholic Association, the Newton branch has about forty members, Miss Josephine E. Stuart is the president and Misses Cashman and Levi correspond and recording secretaries. Aside a vice president in each ward of Newton, financial secretary, investigator and custodian. Meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month. Ten families have had assistance. About $300 have been spent for coal, fuel and provisions. Each member collects ten cents a month from ten friends, each solicitor being responsible for $12 per year.

The branch allowed half of this sum raised if needed, for district expenses, the rest goes to Boston, toward the support of the home there. Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale at A. Hudson, Newton; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; E. F. ## The Late Edward A. Adams.

The final interment of the late Edward A. Adams took place last Monday, the 11th, when he was removed from the receiving tomb to a lot in the Newton Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke giving the committal prayer which was beautifully appropriate.

This "In Memoriam," taken from the Springfield Republican, was written as a loving tribute by an old time friend of his father's family:

"The death of Edward A. Adams at his home in West Newton, March 19, removed not only one of Boston's most successful business men, but a man greatly beloved and honored in friendly and social relations. Mr. Adams was the youngest and last surviving son of the late Sylvanus Adams, who was long the agent of the Dwight mills at Chicopee, being, on his father's side of the same ancestry as the Presidents Adams and on his mother's, descended from the Wesson family of Worcester county. He was just too young to graduate as did other members of the family at the Chicopee High school when it was under the principalship of ex-Gov. George D. Robinson, who was an intimate friend of his father's family.

Mr. Adams' first business engagement was as office boy in the counting-room of C. L. Bartlett, corner of State and Broad streets, Boston, with which house he remained connected until his death. In 1874 he entered into partnership with Mr. Bartlett, in the business which the latter had established, as ship brokers and commission merchants, and at the retirement of Mr. Bartlett in 1880 he became the head of the house and so remained. Few men at so early an age have worked themselves by personal merit and success to the command of so important and manifold a business. Besides the long-time operations of the concern, including the agency of the White Star, the Red Star, the Pacific Mail and other lines of steamships, and the ownership of shipping, Mr. Adams engaged largely and profitably during recent years in the woolen trade.

Mr. Adams was the center of a large circle of friends, and did his full part in preventing business cares and money-making from destroying the sentiment and buoyancy of life. Not more successful was he in his commercial ventures than in keeping and increasing the esteem of many hearts, by a genuine frankness and faithfulness, and by fulfilling generously the relations of comrade, citizen and neighbor. A widow and two children and four sisters survive him. At the hour of his funeral the wool exchange closed its doors, while over his casket Rev. Mr. Jaynes read a poem composed by Rev. Minot J. Savage of Boston, in which occurred these lines, than which nothing could better have told his place in the estimation of those who knew him well:

A true and sincere man! with open mind And heart all crystal-clear, he faced the light, With foot that faltered not, though hard the path. Stern was he in the battle of the right; Yet gentle was he as a little child, And in his tender, sympathetic heart Weakness and sorrow found a hiding place, No pang of others but he felt the smart.

A. L. Wooster, a prominent citizen of Osseo, Mich., after suffering excruciatingly from piles for twenty years, was cured in a short time by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, an absolute cure for all skin diseases. More of this preparation is used than all others combined. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. F. Thorn, Auburndale.

AN INTERESTING CASE

TO TEST PARENTS' CONTROL OVER PUPILS IN PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

Before Judge Blodgett, in the superior court at East Cambridge, Tuesday, was heard the case of Elizabeth A. Curry vs. the Lasell Seminary Company, which raises the question as to how far parents who place their children in private schools and academies part with their parental control and authority.

This action was brought to recover damages for alleged breach of a contract made between the plaintiff and the defendant by the latter refusing to allow the plaintiff's daughter to complete her studies at the seminary at Auburndale for the full contract period. It appeared from the evidence that plaintiff signed an application for her daughter's admission to the seminary, which application recited that she had read the catalogue, and considered herself bound by its conditions. One of the conditions was as follows: "To parents: Frequent going home is not compatible with good scholarship. You are, therefore, expected not to allow your daughters to be absent from school except at the regular recesses."

Miss Curry had been at the school some weeks, when her mother requested that she be allowed to come home to spend a Sunday. The request was refused. The plaintiff insisted upon her daughter doing so, and she did. The pupil returned to school the next day, but was not permitted to resume her studies. The principal refused to return to plaintiff the balance of the money which was paid toward the expenses for the school year.

Judge Blodgett ordered a verdict for the defendant, and the case will be reported to the supreme court to finally decide the all-important law question which is raised by the facts.

To Take Your Doctor's Advice is a good rule to follow. His advice however, and the prescription he gives are worthless unless pure drugs are taken. There is no doubt about the quality of ours or the care with which they are compounded at our path.

Try the Marie Tempest Cigar.

The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped by a man who spends two-thirds of his time in business, and one-third of his time being sick, cannot be expected to accomplish more than two-thirds as much as the man who attends to business all the time. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation by the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. It isn't considered sickness by most people, but it is just the same. It is a serious sickness because it causes almost all of the ill-health of mankind. Symptoms of it are: loss of appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are perfectly safe—perfectly safe. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently. You don't have to keep on taking them. You don't acquire a "habit." Take them regularly for a while, and you are cured permanently. After that, take them only when you find yourself suffering from indigestion. There are many medicines offered for the same purpose on which druggists make a bigger profit. For this reason, some druggists would rather sell the other things. If your own health is of more importance to you than the druggist's prosperity, you will insist on having what you ask for.

THE WARSAW GOLD MINING &amp; TUNNEL CO.

Incorporated under the Laws of the State of Colorado.
Operating in the Marshall Basin Mining District, two miles from Telluride, Col.
Par value of stock, $1.00 per share, fully paid and non-assessable.
1. The Company own two full mining claims of 20 acres.
2. They are situated in the heart of the famous San Juan Mining District, surrounded by great producers and dividend payers, like Tomboy, Sheridan, Mendota, Cimarron, gold and Silver Chief, Valley View, Bradley, and many others.
3. The veins are true fissures.
4. The veins are large, being 4 to 10 feet between walls.
5. The quartz is fully mineralized, carrying gold everywhere opened.
6. The ore is free milling, and can be milled for $1.50 per ton.
7. The ore grows richer in gold as the tunnels reach depth, increasing from $4 per ton at grass roots to $18 at 90 feet in depth.
8. The Company own their mines, free from debt, and every dollar from sale of stock goes into actual work of production.
Chancey M. Dejeu, in an interview published in the Herald of April 13, says: "Mining is booming. Gold ore yielding as low as $3 per ton can be worked at a profit by the new cyanide process." We have a fissure vein, 4 to 10 feet wide between walls, that at 90 feet yields $18 per ton mill run. We offer investors the chance of a lifetime. Call and see one yellow with gold, or send for prospectus. Less than two weeks ago we offered for the first time 100,000 shares at five cents per share. One-third is already taken. Don't wait till price is advanced.
No subscriptions received for less than 100 shares at five cents per share, cash accompanying subscription; 250 shares or over, half cash and balance in 30 days. All orders for stock must be sent to

HONORING A SCHOOLMASTER.

It is pleasant task which some of our citizens have assumed, viz. that of marking, in some appropriate way, the close of the 25th year of Mr. H. C. Sawin's mastership of the Bigelow school.

Mr. Sawin began his work here in October, 1871, and with the close of the current school year in June will have ended a period of a quarter of a century.

All who have known his work here bear testimony to his fidelity, and he is held in highest esteem by parents and pupils.

One of the things decided upon by the committee of citizens is that of putting some appropriate pictures on the walls of the school rooms.

In another column will be found their appeal and a list of subjects deemed appropriate.

Beside the decoration of the walls there may be some other features to be made known later. Altogether it is most gratifying that appreciation is shown the labors of one who has gone on quietly doing his duty in a calling that is so exacting, and where the laborer is all too soon forgotten, even while his work remains in the characters of those whom he has moulded.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Methodist church on Thursday, had as one of its features addresses by the ministers of other religious bodies. Such an exhibition of sympathy and interest would hardly have been possible a few years ago, and would have led some of the participants into rather serious trouble with the sticklers for denominational exclusiveness. The times have changed, but in few places has there been such a genuine approach toward unity as here. While retaining loyalty to their own organizations, there has been the growth of Christian charity, and the disposition to find points of agreement rather than points of difference. This is surely far better than to hear of contentions and rivalries as if the property of one set of Christians was ever well secured or was in any sense commendable if won at the expense of others. We are learning here in Newton the great lesson of tolerance, and are seeing that the prosperity of one portion involves the prosperity of other portions of the community, from whatever standpoint we regard it.

In the hot debate on Tuesday, in the house, over the Butler Statue, Representative Harwood of Newton said "that so far as the matter in a question of patriotism everyone in accord and there is no desire to belittle the act of any man who fought for the nation. The fame of General Butler and the record he has made does not depend upon the action of the legislature. But General Butler is not today far enough removed from the scenes of his activity to warrant the legislature in erecting a statue in his memory." Messrs. Harwood and Hollis both voted against the resolve.

The case of Caroline L. Hayes against the city was decided in the Middlesex Superior Court, yesterday, the jury returning a verdict for $737.50. This case arose out of the taking of land for the boulevard at Auburndale, and the plaintiff asked nearly $20,000, while the city offered $7500, so that the result is a victory for the city. The Sheehan case has been settled out of court.

In regard to the widening of Boylston street it is interesting to recall the report of the commission which originally laid out the old turnpike as far as Newton Upper Falls. It is said that in its opinion that was as far as civilization would ever penetrate, and it did not see why any one should ever want to live beyond the Charles river. This was in the 17th century, but greater Boston has grown a good deal since then.

A special committee of the city council is consulting with the Brookline selectmen about the widening of Boylston street, but the general opinion is that we should finish some of the expensive undertakings now on hand, before getting involved in any more.

Newton Armenian Relief Fund.

The committee having charge of the funds contributed in Newton for the relief of the suffering Armenians have forwarded the total sum of $1235 to Constantinople, whence the money is distributed by a competent committee. Only $78 remains in the hands of the Newton committee awaiting further additions before it shall be telegraphed. The great need continues, as shown by many letters of the most pathetic character, recently received from the interior of Asia Minor.

Very full details are in the hands of the committee, and they are open to the perusal of all donors.

—Mrs. Fred S. Johnson of Boston was the guest of friends here during the week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ashcroft of Lynn were the guests of friends here during the week.

—Mr. John E. Ham of Connecticut has accepted the position of assistant station agent.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harley B. Curtis of Lowell street are entertaining Mr. Thomas Carson.

—Mr. George W. Morse and daughter, Miss Rosa, are at home after a short stay in New York.

—The Newtonville cab office was moved this week to the lower end of Brigham's lot on Bowers street.

—Mrs. J. P. Casey and Miss Sally Casey of Prescott street will pass a month at the White Mountains.

—C. F. Shirley and family of Allston street are at South Duxbury where they will pass the summer.

—Mrs. Thomas Webster of Highland avenue is in New Jersey, where she expects to remain about two weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fessenden, who were the guests of friends here, have returned to their home in St. Louis.

—In the absence of the pastor the pulpit of the Methodist church was supplied on Sunday last by Rev. Mr. Dawson of Boston.

—Rev. F. E. Hamilton is at Cleveland in attendance upon the quadrennial session of the General Conference of the M. E. church.

—The concert which was announced for Tuesday evening at the Universalist church was postponed on account of the illness of Miss Bradford.

—Ground was broken this week for Mr. Partridge's block on Bowers street. The contract for the building was awarded to Mr. Henry Ross.

—At the annual meeting of the New Church Club held in Roxbury, Wednesday evening, Dr. John P. Prince of this place was elected treasurer.

—The Girl's Club, connected with the Adams school, were pleasantly entertained Saturday afternoon by Miss Powers, one of the members of the society.

—Mr. H. M. French of Boston recently purchased a lot of land on Newtonville avenue. The excavation was begun this week for the foundation of a handsome residence.

—The regular meeting of Dalhousie Lodge was held, Wednesday evening. The M. M. degree was conferred on five candidates. A large delegation of visiting brethren were present.

—A meeting of the Newton Women's Suffrage League will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Carter on Highland avenue. The subject for discussion will be "The Present Outlook." A large attendance is hoped for.

—There are letters in the postoffice for William A. Andrews, Mrs. Herbert Gould, J. A. Harman, Miss Annie Harris, Miss Maguire, Gerardo Masilla, Patrick O'Brien, Mrs. F. R. Smith, Annie E. Schleffelin, Mrs. George Ferris and No. 300 Watertown street.

—The plans of the new High schoolhouse are completed, and the public property committee will probably submit them to the city council at the next meeting. The architects are Hartwell, Richardson & Co. of Boston. The new building will probably cost from $175,000 to $200,000.

—But one building of the several in the square on the north side of the tracks, occupying locations on the land taken for street widening and depression of the railroad, now remains as a sort of fossil monument of the past. It is the small structure, for many years occupied by Mrs. Williams. It is soon to be moved away.

—A large tract of land on Newtonville avenue, west of Mt. Ida, owned by Mr. M. C. Meagher of Boston, is being rapidly developed by the owner and Mr. Loomis. About thirty house lots will be added to the available building property here. Mr. Loomis has charge of the land corner of Watertown street and Broadway which is being surveyed for building purposes.

—At an adjourned annual meeting of the Newton Universalist church, last evening, the moderator was Mr. Charles S. Keene, and the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: C. S. Keene, treasurer; S. W. French, clerk; Edward Cox; standing committee, S. Phillips, F. J. Hartshorne, J. W. Dickinson, W. F. Kimball, James L. Richards.

—The Newton Club tennis court is in prime condition this season or, at least, will be when the work of rolling, etc., is completed. The events there during the next two or three months, in the way of home and invitation tournaments, promise to eclipse the record of a year ago. An opportunity to witness some clever exhibitions, introducing experts with the racquet.

—If the people who have labored so long and persistently for the laying out and acceptance of Spruce street as a highway, will step up to the treasurer's call this week to liquidate the amount of their assessments, the city will proceed with the necessary work at once. This authoritative statement is made on the basis of information secured from one of the officials of the municipality who speaks, not seeking to brace the habits and residents of the long lane with its historic, old tin industry, for further disappointment, but rather tantalizingly hold out the prospect of speedy realization of hopes long deferred.

—The old Cladlin buildings on Washington street at Newtonville square, which had been condemned by the city, and which the board of aldermen had refused the owner, Mr. Cladlin, for a removal to a lot of land on Central avenue, near Washington street, were sold at auction, Wednesday afternoon, to Mrs. Margaret Jones, who intends to remove them to Adams street in Newton. They brought $112, and the aldermen will be requested at their meeting next Monday evening to grant a permit for their removal. The board four times refused to grant Gov. Cladlin's petition, as it was not desired to increase the fire risk which would follow the removal of the buildings to the locality he had selected.

—The Englewood, Ill. Eye of May 2 has the following: "Rev. R. A. White, pastor of the Universalist church, while never of very robust health, this spring is unusually broken down and under the weather, so to speak. His indisposition seems to be occasioned by some aggravated bronchial trouble and his friends are fearful of its affecting his lungs. Rev. Mr. White is breaking up housekeeping for the summer, and will board at the Yale for a few weeks; after which his wife and child will go east to their summer cottage at Plymouth, Mass., and of course Rev. Mr. White's condition of health will determine what he shall do with his summer vacation. May the fates be kindly disposed, for Chicago can ill afford to lose Rev. Mr. White. He has that wide awake, energetic sort of spirit which makes him a leader in any community to better conditions and that's what Chicago needs. Englewood has felt the quickening spirit of his influence for good along many of its literary lines. Every locality needs to be astonished now and then into the possibilities of the surroundings and this is what Rev. Mr. White has done by a practical demonstration of the universality of the brotherhood of man. Let us add our kindly thought toward the mind wave which shall make for his speedy restoration to health."

—Fred P. Carlisle of Nevada is in town this week visiting friends.

—Mr. Paul Sellinger, the artist, and his charming wife, were the guests this week of Mrs. George H. Shapley of Nevada street.

—Five lb. box creamery butter, $1.15; 10 lb. tub creamery butter, $2.10; 23 lb. tub creamery butter, 20 cts. per lb., at Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street.

—There was an interesting union gathering of the young people's societies of the churches at the Central Congregational church, last Sunday evening, and the societies of the Central, Methodist and Universalist churches were represented. Miss Alice Nelson was the leader, and there were several speakers.

—The firm of Hartwell, Richardson & Co., has completed the plans for the new Masonic Hall building and estimates upon the cost of the structure are now being made. The bids will probably be opened and the contract awarded at the meeting of the building committee of the association, next week.

—A concert for the benefit of the High school base ball nine was given in the school hall, Tuesday evening. A large number of friends of the players were present, and a very considerable sum was netted for the support of the nine. The High school orchestra rendered a pleasing program, and was assisted by Mr. Frederic A. Metcalf and Miss Winifred Woodside, readers.

—The interest in the new Baptist movement is on the increase. A strong sermon was preached last Sunday by Rev. S. L. Holeman of Boston. Prof. Rufus Kees of Newton Centre will preach at 3 p. m. next Sunday. He is a very interesting preacher and all who can should hear him. Dr. E. L. Jordan will lead the song service and sing a solo. Miss Fieble pianist. Seats free.

—The last sociable of the season was held Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Congregational church. The exercises were under the direction of the gentlemen of the society and proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the series. A pleasing musical program was presented and a bountiful collation was served. The parlors were handsomely decorated with plants and cut flowers.

—The annual meeting of the Boston North Baptist missionary association was held in the Baptist church, Thursday afternoon. Nearly 200 delegates were present. Mrs. E. B. Earle of Watertown, association secretary, presided, and addresses on mission work in New York and among the colored people of the south, were made by Miss M. E. Porter of New York and Mrs. Reynolds, corresponding secretary of the Boston missionary society.

—The second annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the parlors of the First National church, on Friday, May 22. A business meeting will be held in the morning, at which reports will be presented by the presidents of the several clubs represented in the federation, and also by the standing committees of the federation. After an intermission, when a box lunch will be partaken of, the afternoon session will open, and the subject of "The Needed Improvements of Our City," will be discussed. The opening paper will be by Miss Lucie Ames, and several prominent Newton gentlemen are expected to make addresses.

—The annual meeting and banquet of the Women's Educational Club was held in the parlors of the Unitarian church, on last Friday. The following list of officers was chosen for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Eliza V. L. Weston; vice-president, Mrs. Carrie B. Allen; Mrs. Mary R. Martin; Mrs. Sarah Davis; Mrs. Ellen G. Pratt; Mrs. Adelaide L. Gilman; Mrs. Kathleen M. Phillips; Mrs. Jane M. Hastings; recording secretary, Mrs. Anna L. Bailey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Susan D. Crockett; treasurer, Mrs. Ellen P. Perrin; directors, Mrs. Flora J. K. Stanley, Miss Amelia Davis, Mrs. Bell N. Cleveland, Mrs. Harriet L. Baker. In the evening an illustrated magazine was presented. The editorial, stories, poem and other articles showed much talent on the part of the contributors, and the illustrations and advertisements (in tableaux) were quite artistic. Some fine music, and an original song (written for the occasion) added much to the pleasure of the entertainment. The annual meeting of the City Federation will be held in the Unitarian church on Friday, May 22. Members are requested to wear the club color (light terra cotta), and the ribbon can be purchased at the store of F. D. Tarlton, West Newton or of the Misses Parker, Newton.

Investigations made

We have made special and exclusive arrangements with the author for a series of new and charming fairy stories by Walter B. Guild.

For some time they will be one of our special features. Do not miss a single issue while they continue.

HOW CARL THE GARDENER BECAME KING CHARLES. IN THREE CHAPTERS.

[Copyright, 1896, by Walter B. Guild, Boston.] CHAPTER I.

Although Carl Schmidt was only seventeen years old when he was made royal gardener to King William of Verneland, yet he was a boy of great earnestness and honesty.

As Carl was very fond of flowers and fruits, the work of gardener was very pleasant.

He talked with other gardeners and farmers and with every one who would be able to tell him anything about his work.

North of Verneland was a small nation called Bombast. Its inhabitants often came to Winstar to trade with King William's people, and their knights were the most conceited and least respected of all who ever visited the royal court.

On the east of Verneland was a much larger country which was called Bontay, whose people were very industrious and whose soil was very fruitful.

Provided the king would consent and would give him chariots for the journey, Carl resolved to visit each of these countries, to take to the other kings some of the best products from King William's garden, and to find if possible some new and better kinds of fruit and flowers.

This plan was no sooner told to the king than he ordered Carl to take whatever chariots were needed and not only to carry a message of friendship and greeting to each of the kings, but also a royal present.

To do this, however, Carl had to be appointed special ambassador, which was an honor never before given to any royal gardener in the kingdom.

Carl had not thought to seek honors of this kind, but was only trying to do his duty and to find in other lands whatever knowledge would make him more useful to the king.

On the way to Bombast Carl overtook a lame old man, who was journeying in the same direction and who looked so tired that Carl instantly stopped the chariot and asked the old man to ride beside him.

Carl asked in what way he could help and offered to send one of the attendants to take the old man where he wished to go.

To this kind offer the old man replied that he had come to warn Carl that, while the people of Bombast had spent so much time in boasting about the great things their fathers had done, they themselves had done very little. He also told Carl that he must be careful not to offend the people, but he must believe only such things as he chose. "This is the land of the boasters," he said, "and boasters are not to be trusted."

Carl was much surprised when the old man suddenly disappeared and a voice beside him said: "I am your old friend the fairy, this time an old man instead of a woman. You have gained much by your kindness." This was the last Carl saw of the fairy during his journey to Bombast.

As soon as he arrived at the capital the king made him welcome. Carl's stay was very short, for, although he paid strict attention to all that was said to him, yet he found very little knowledge which would do him any good. In fact, although he took to King William royal presents from the land of the boasters this journey seemed a failure.

The emperor of Bontay gave Carl a royal reception and sent a special messenger to guide him through the kingdom and to show him the best of everything which was produced. He also ordered his wisest counselor to answer all Carl's questions.

Carl's journey was very pleasant. He found the messenger polite and truthful. Wherever he visited, everything was not only as good as he had expected, but usually better.

He took from King Bountiful to King William a royal present, which from its richness was a surprise not only to King William and the Princess Violet, but to all the court and inhabitants of Winstar. Beautiful plants, fruits and new kinds of berries and plums, and shrubs, such as had never been known in Verneland, were among the treasures which he brought.

Carl was now in great favor at the court, and his wisdom, added to his skill as a gardener, made him especially agreeable to the king.

His admiration for the Princess Violet steadily increased. Knowing, however, that Princess Violet must wed a nobleman, Carl resolved that, regardless of his high honors and pleasant life, he would leave the kingdom and try, if possible, to forget her. Accordingly he went to see the king and told him that, although he wished to be true and to serve his king in any way possible, yet he desired to leave the country and to resign the office of gardener and of special ambassador.

Now, the king suspected his reasons, and as he was a man of more than ordinary good sense he knew that, although not yet a knight, Carl was truly a noble man, so he asked Carl's reasons.

Carl did not want to tell the king why he wished to leave the realm, but as the king had commanded it and as Carl was obedient and truthful he told him all.

Instead of frowning, as Carl had expected, the king was pleased and said: "The princess will wed the man who can pass three tests. If she cares for you and you are willing to undertake the tests, you may prepare to meet them."

This was a great and happy surprise for Carl, and he declared he was willing to pass any test that any knight could be expected to pass.

The princess was called to the king, and, after being told what Carl had said, was asked if she wished him to attempt the tests. She very blushing replied that if he wished to undertake such dangers she would be very happy if he succeeded in returning to the palace.

"The first test," said the king, "is to find the wells on the road to Southland beyond the desert. As you have always been kind to animals, I have no fear that you will cause your horses or camels needless hardships, but I must warn you that if from any carelessness an animal or a man dies of thirst in the desert your first test will be a failure. You may have three weeks to prepare for your journey, to study the desert maps which we have in the royal library, and to read about the people of Southland, who many years ago were our best friends."

Carl thanked the king, and went immediately to the royal library. He studied hard, and found that there had once been three wells in the desert, and as long as their whereabouts had been known, caravans crossed the desert. Once, after the wells had been lost, it had come about that a large number of men and horses had died of thirst.

The next caravan which had crossed the desert had found the goods which the first had carried, but the people and camels had died.

Two of these latest people had reached Southland and had told the inhabitants of the great trouble which had come to them through the loss of the wells.

After that only messengers were able to cross, as the camels could not carry a sufficient supply of food, water and merchandise, so all trade ceased.

After looking over the maps carefully and finding that the messengers had followed the old path, Carl felt sure that these wells had been filled with sand which, in one of the severe sandstorms which often occurred, had blown into them from the desert.

Having so decided, he determined if possible to reopen the wells. Taking the old maps and the best desert guide that could be found Carl started out with nothing except tents, tools for digging, water and food.

These he carried to the spot where he believed the first well must have been, and built tents for his men.

As soon as the tents were finished the water and food which they had brought were carefully stored, and the horses and camels were sent back to bring a fresh supply. In this way, while Carl was digging to see if water would be found in the desert, enough water and food to last for several weeks were gathered together.

After Carl had dug nearly four weeks the ground was found to be damp, and at the end of the fourth week a little water was found. A few days more passed, and then they found a spring of the purest water of such size that it was sufficient to supply all caravans that could ever stop at that station.

BACKACHE.

A Very Significant Indication of Organic Derangement.

The back, "the mainspring of woman's organism," quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in loins, and weight in lower part of body, blues and "all gone" feeling, that nature requires assistance, and at once.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has been the one and only effective remedy in such cases. It speedily removes the cause and effectually restores the organs to a healthy and normal condition. Mrs. Pinkham cheerfully answers all letters from ailing women who require advice, without charge. Thousands of cases like this are recorded. "I have taken one-half dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has relieved me from all pain. I cannot tell you the agony I endured for years; pains in my back (Oh, the backache was dreadful!) and bearing-down pains in the abdomen extending down into my limbs; headache and nausea, and very painful menstruations. I had grown very thin, a mere shadow of my former self. Now I am without a single pain and am gaining in flesh rapidly."—MATTIE GLENN, 1561 Dudley St., Cincinnati.

A Deception Easily Practised

is the offer of a reward for "any case of catarrh not cured" by certain "cures" or "blood medicines." Nothing is said regarding the number of bottles required, and therein lies the deception. The makers of Ely's Cream Balm have never resorted to such devices. Cream Balm is an elegant preparation, agreeable to use, and immediate in its beneficial results. It cures catarrh. You can rely upon the fact that it contains no mercury nor other injurious drug. 50 cts.

Newton's Next Great Want.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:—
This is a large number of small playgrounds, not fancy parks at all, but simple play grounds, the wilder the better, and for girls as well as boys.

The land in Newton is so rapidly filling up that lots are steadily becoming smaller and smaller. To gratify the taste of the people, these small lots must be kept "neat as a pin," and so the boys have no play left nor chance for any, except cycling on the streets. No ball, no cross-tag, no hide and seek, no "hokky" no "how many miles to Barbary," no "old man's cattle," building dams or any of the many free going sports that harmlessly and healthfully delighted the boys when I was one of them.

Especially is this true of boys from five to fifteen, or seven to fourteen. Those younger than the lower limit may be satisfied with toy wagons, etc. Those older than the higher limit go further, and, if so minded, can make some department of natural history or mechanical recreation at a work bench, their delight. But the little fellows who want just play, pure and simple, and near home, badly need these play grounds.

Ideal play grounds should contain some nut trees, and a brook. Even an old barn full of hen's nests to hunt for and somebody to feed the hens, would not be too visionary.

Such a perennial swift flowing brook as that not far from Eliot monument, would be priceless within the limits of such a play ground of two or three acres; for its rapid descent would permit the building of a dam by the boys every twenty or thirty feet, and these might form bush-sheltered bathing ponds. The dams could be knocked down every autumn to prepare for next spring's fun in rebuilding.

All that is necessary to provide these most life-giving, life-saving, life-benefitting little playgrounds, is that people should rationally and sympathetically love their children better than to make the last dollar possible out of the sale of land, and, without bring heaven of soul into the common life of the community.

Nor need these small play grounds be bare and barren, flat, hot and unsightly gravel yards. They should be too numerous and well shaped and located for that. There should be one on the west end of the marsh east of Newton station, including a section of the beautifully wild and shaded former railroad location; another somewhere on Tremont street, another on Mt. Ida, two in the Morse's field region, and one or more in the Eliot Monument region, and all provided with native trees, shrubs, and vines; but with these so disposed as to leave sufficient open area for out door games.

Then, how many parents who could not so well go to a vast and distant general city park, might learn the blessing of living out of doors in humor, and take book knitting or lunch with them, finding vine-clad barrels for the refuse—and sit and chat and see their children.

Is it all too good to come to pass and be real? I don't see why it should be. Let us all and especially our city and village improvement clubs, first think it all over, through, and out, carefully, and then go and do it.

The Decoration of the Bigelow School House.

The committee on celebrating the 25th anniversary of the mastership of Mr. Henry Chapin Sawin have received some contributions towards the purchase of pictures for the interior walls of this school house. It has been suggested that there may be a number of persons who would be pleased to send framed pictures if they knew what would be appropriate. The committee therefore ask attention to the following lists taken from schools where this work has been very generously accomplished. When we think of the refining and educational effect of well adorned school rooms it needs no other argument to prompt liberality. But in this instance we also help to commemorate a singularly useful career, and show that this community appreciates scholarship, sincerity and devotion.

Those who wish to send one or more pictures are requested to notify any member of the committee and further information will be given.

The committee are Rev. G. W. Shinn,

H. E. Cobb, N. Bacon, T. Weston, G. D. Gilman, C. E. Eddy, G. C. Travis, E. P. Scates, H. E. Bothfeld, S. W. Holmes, Dr. J. F. Frisbie.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. Put up in a tin, it is always on hand. Repairing promptly and neatly done. Fine work a specialty. Prices reasonable.

NONANTUM.

—The assessors have been paying their annual visit to Nonantum the past week.

—The Nonantum Improvement League has distributed 180 trees in the district this spring.

—The first anniversary of the Sunday school of the Buelah Baptist Mission will be held some time in June.

—A seven year old daughter of Mr. Avery of Cambridge, wandered away from home, last Friday afternoon, but was found later in Waltham.

—Sunday afternoon two small children belonging to Martin King of Crafts street strayed away from their home and were reported to the police as missing. They were found later at police headquarters.

—Mrs. Christopher Farrell of Cook street has been awarded $900 by the court in her suit against the city damages from injuries received by falling down a trench on Cook street about a year ago.

—Some time Sunday night the store of John Fitzgerald on Clinton street was entered by a party of boys and a number of boxes of cigarettes, two plugs of tobacco and a quantity of small change abstracted.

—A Hebrew peddler named Moses Lahouh, last Saturday reported to the police that he had been assaulted by one Daniel Keele. Officers Burke and Davis investigated the case but could find nothing to substantiate the complaint.

—Saturday evening Officer Costello shot a dog belonging to Martin McManus of Cook street. The dog had bitten a youth named Henry. Indeed, badly, no his leg. It was the same animal who bit James Beadley about two weeks ago.

—About 8 o'clock last Friday evening Joseph Joyce of Cook street in alighting from a car at junction of Watertown and Cook street, missed his footing and fell to the ground. He received but slight injuries and was removed to his home by Officer McAleer and Costello.

—The hot weather last Sunday afternoon did not prevent a large number from attending the meeting of the Buelah Baptist Mission in St. Elmo hall. Mr. James H. Gilkey of Watertown was the speaker and greatly interested his hearers by his words. Next Sunday Mr. Robert Woodman of Newtonville will lead.

—Last Friday morning members of the city government, overseers of the poor and board of health with Supt. Ross, Marshall Richardson and others visited the "tramp pit," and after watching seven of these "knights of the road" busy at work under Officer Burke, were treated to a bowl of clam chowder cooked especially by Steward C. O. Davis.

—Thomas Dalton, one of the oldest residents of this place, died Saturday at his home on Bridge street. He was about 70 years of age and had been ill but a short time. For a number of years he had been an engineer in the Atina Mills and in the Silver Lake Cordage Co's works. Some years ago he retired from active employment and spent his time in caring for his farm. He leaves a grown up family of six sons and two daughters his wife having died about two months ago. The funeral was held Monday morning from the Church of Our Lady.

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of DeWitt's Little Early Bitters, for they always cleanse the liver, purify the blood, and invigorate the system. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Abundant.

Disorders afflict the human race, the large majority arising from impure blood. Hence the wide range of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the greatest blood purifier of the age.

I soon noticed that it was helping me, and after taking several bottles found I could eat what I wanted without any distress. Later I had salt rheum or come on my ankles, and I again took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The swelling went down and the eruptions healed. Then I had the grip and it left me in bad shape, with catarrh and other troubles. The doctor said I was all worn out, but might be patched up and live a year or two. But I clung to my old friend Hood's Sarsaparilla and was soon in my better health. I am alive yet, more than three years having passed since the doctor's prediction, thanks to Hood's. I am 69 years old, weigh 170 pounds, am in good health and recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends for dyspepsia, catarrh and rheumatism, and also for cleansing the blood." S. S. PHILLIPS, Wardsboro, Vermont.

DROP AND DIPPER PUZZLE

It looks Strange but it is True.

A Case in Every-day Life Where a Single Drop Weighs More Than a Whole Dipperful.

It looks like a puzzle, and it is a puzzle until you try it yourself. That solves it. Every man can solve it. Every woman can solve it. On one side of the scales is a single drop. On the other side is a dipperful. Yet the drop carries the most weight. Why is it, and how is it? Here is the explanation.

The one drop is a drop of Puritana. The dipperful is a dipperful of so-called blood purifier, nerve tonic, or other palate-tickling concoction. The one drop of Puritana is real medicine—it cures. The dipperful is anything, everything, and nothing, when it comes right down to a real cure.

Puritana is the prize formula of Prof. Dixi Crosby, who was for thirty-two years at the head of Dartmouth Medical College. It strikes at the root of 92 per cent. of human suffering, and brings new strength, new health, new life through the power producer of the system. Puritana makes the heart right, lungs right, liver right, blood right, kidneys right, nerves right, and health right, because it makes the stomach right. To any man, woman, or child who will take it as directed, Puritana will practically give a new stomach. That is why hundreds and thousands of people have proved that it cures from head to foot.

J. F. Scott, for years a prominent contractor and builder in Concord, N. H., says:

"I have used Puritana for torpid liver, indigestion, and a species of dyspepsia, and it has given me such relief that I felt made over new. For these troubles I would rather have one bottle of Puritana than a barrel of any other medicine."

She can eat anything now, but her life was hanging in the balance, when her stomach could not digest the simplest food. Mrs. Belle W. Cale, of Charlestown, Mass., tried country air and seven doctors in vain, but Puritana gave her a new stomach and a new lease of life.

Mrs. Henry W. Craigne, of Concord, N. H., was ill for years. She had no appetite, no strength, no ambition. Her life was one constant round of misery and suffering. Puritana gave her an appetite and rugged strength. It made a new woman of her.

No chance, was what the doctor said about George H. Dunning, of Faneuil Hall Market, Boston. He had nervous prostration, had no appetite, could not sleep, could not walk alone. Puritana made him over new from head to foot. It gave him sleep, appetite, and strength.

After trying many doctors, hospitals, and medicines in vain, Mrs. J. S. Daly, of Cambridge, Mass., had also abandoned hope, when Puritana was brought to her relief. It gave her strength and health, pure, rich blood, vigorous digestion, and raised her from the sick bed to the full vigor of happy womanhood.

Yes, one drop of Puritana will bring more real relief, more real cure, more real strength, more real nerve energy, more real "life-is-worth-living," than a dipperful, a bucketful, a barrelful of so-called tonics, blood cures, nerve foods, pills, and doubtful preparations from unknown sources, that is the reason why Puritana is the most economical medicine as well as the most effective in the world.

There was a largely attended May day festival at the parlors of the Unitarian church, Saturday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon there was an entertainment for the children, with a May pole dance, and other interesting features, and in the evening a symphony, entitled "A Merry Sleight," under the direction of Mrs. George F. Spaulding, was presented to a large audience, together with a recitation by Miss Lena Twombly.

—The St. Paul Dispatch prints an interesting item about the success of a former Newton Centre boy. It says: "A late Paris Journal has the name of Samuel Stevens Haskell as receiving mention in the Section d'Architecture L'Ecole des Beaux-Arts for a design for a hospital for the aged and infirm. Mr. Haskell, formerly of the office of Messrs. Gilbert & Taylor, of this city, is taking a leading position in his class, outranking with one other, the American students at the recent examinations."

—A very pretty May festival was held last Saturday afternoon and evening in the Unitarian entertainment rooms on Centre street. The afternoon program consisted of an apron and handkerchief sale, May pole dance and other attractions for the children. The evening program included these features and readings by Miss Lena M. Twombly which were well received and merited considerable applause. This was followed by a Kinder Symphonie entitled "The Merry Sleight Ride," conducted by Mrs. George F. Spaulding, which was loudly applauded. The affair was a decided success and netted a tidy sum.

—Residents of this place will be glad to learn of the good fortune of Mr. Louis H. Boynton, son of Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Boynton of this place. He is the successful competitor for the Rotch travelling architectural scholarship this year, and will leave some time between now and the first of next September for a two years' course of travel and study in Europe. He is the 13th Rotch scholar. Mr. Boynton's design won the decided approval of the jury which examined the drawings submitted, and the second prize was secured by Mr. H. B. Pennell. This year's Rotch scholar is a Bostonian, 26 years of age, and is now in the office of Messrs. Peabody & Stearns of Boston. He studied at, but did not graduate from, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and has been connected with several architectural offices in that city. This was his third trial for the much coveted honor, and last year he was second. The jury which passed upon the designs particularly commended Mr. Boynton's plan, and said that the building was good in proportion, and excellent in detail. His design this year was much in advance of that submitted by him a year ago. Mr. Boynton completed simply for the Rotch scholarship, so there is a chance of another Boston boy winning the Roman prize.

—Dr. Cleveland of Connecticut is visiting his daughter here.

—Mr. G. F. Richardson has bought two more horses for business purposes.

George E. Merrill, D. D.; Wednesday, June 10, at 7:45 p. m., address before the Society of Missionary Inquiry, by Rev. W. H. F. Fauce, D. D., of New York; Thursday, June 11, 10 a. m., graduating exercises in the church.

—The young ladies of the advanced Christian doctrine class of the Church of the Sacred Heart, gave a dramatic entertainment Tuesday evening under the artistic direction of Miss Elizabeth F. Levi. The affair was presented before an audience of over 700 people. The play presented was "The Chambermaid" in three acts, and the young ladies did some very fine acting. Miss Elizabeth F. Levi as Phyllis, deserving especial mention for her work, particularly in the last act, where her assumption of a duke was very cleverly done and won well merited applause. Miss Barry and Miss McLellan were also exceptionally good. The stage presented a very pretty appearance, a tennis drill in the first act, and a mimet in the second adding greatly to the interest of the play. Thirty groups of statuary, with calcium light effects, composed an excellent entertainment. A large sum was realized, which will be devoted to a parish library. Fr. Wholey's church and parish is but five years old, yet already it is one of the foremost Catholic churches in Newton, at the close of the entertainment, Fr. Wholey, with characteristic generosity, gave a splendid supper to the performers.

—Mr. U. C. Crosby of Park street entertained a party of about twenty business friends at his residence on Park street, Friday.

—The parkway along the westerly side of Boyd's pond was begun this week, and it will probably be extended both to Galen and to Washington street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Morton E. Cobb held their second "at home," Monday afternoon and evening, at their residence, corner of Claremont and Lombard streets. Over 250 guests were present. The house was decorated with cut flowers. The ladies who assisted in the dining room were Mrs. Loring B. Hall, Mrs. William Easterbrook Jones, Mrs. Ernest Nickerson, Mrs. L. L. Hopkins, Mrs. Fred A. Gay, Miss Bliss, Miss Nickerson, Miss Ella Nickerson and Miss Helen Cobb.

—For a short time last Friday evening illuminating gas was scarce here. The gas was shut off in Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Upper and Lower Falls, Wellesley and Weston. The trouble was caused by men of the Newton water department, who, while working in the street here, shut off the gas in the main, which they mistook for a water pipe. Superintendent Leonard of the Newton Gas Company soon traced the source of the trouble, and with a gang of men soon remedied the mistake.

—Friday evening an attempt was made by a trio of lead pipe thieves to enter a house belonging to Mr. Stevens of Boston at the corner of Summit street and Newtonville avenue. A pedestrian, who was passing, noticed a man walking up and down in front of the house and acting rather suspiciously, when seeing him, ran to front door and rang bell. This must have been the signal to the men inside, as two were seen to immediately leave the building. Mr. Wellington, who has charge of the house, made an investigation and found that the thieves had ripped up the

—Mr. H. H. Mansfield and family, formerly of Park street, have taken the French estate on Hunnewell terrace.

—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Conkey of Hotel Hunnewell, will occupy their cottage at Hull about the first of June.

—Rev. George W. Shinn spent the past week in Summit, N. J., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George C. Stevens.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Weed (nee Atwater) have returned from their wedding tour to their home on Park street.

—Miss Dana will reopen her school for young children in October. Applications can be made until June 20, at 388 Centre street.

—Mrs. Frances E. Bowen formerly of Summer street, Newton Centre, has removed to this place and taken up her residence on Elmhurst road.

—The services at the Immanuel Baptist church next Sunday will be conducted by Prof. Hugh R. Hatch of the Theological Institution of Newton Centre.

—Two handsome old elm trees at the corner of Washington street and Walnut Park had to be sacrificed this week, as the widening had left them out in the street.

—Cycle clubs of Cambridge, Somerville and other local cities are to discontinue Sunday runs. It is said that the local clubs are considering following the same plan.

—The Eight O'Clock Club held its last meeting of the season, Tuesday afternoon.

—The interior of the Councilman A. R. Bailey, the club members visited the Bow Ridge Camp at Lynn.

—Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Florence Philbrook of Hunt street and Mr. Edwin Warner of Park street. The ceremony will occur on June 1st, and Mr. and Mrs. Warner will reside in Colorado.

—Among the past graduates of the English high school, who participated in the anniversary celebration in Boston, Wednesday, were noticed a number of prominent residents of Newton.

—Work is being rapidly pushed on completing the Armory's new foundation. The interior of the building is now being fitted. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy about July 1st.

—The West End tracks are laid on Brighton avenue and the short route from Newton to Boston will be ready by the time the cars are running to Newton. The time will be reduced to half an hour, it is claimed.

—Boston & Albany's extra track has made some progress, the past week, but the company has not yet begun work in earnest. It does not look as though the real work of depressing the tracks would trouble any one very much this summer.

—Mr. Charles Myles Yerxa and Miss Emily Katherine Green of this place were married Monday evening at Watertown, by Rev. Mr. Capen. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Yerxa will reside on Williams street, and will be at home to their friends after June 1st.

—The second anniversary reception of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. members and friends, will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. As this is to be the final reception in the present quarters many friends are expected to attend. An interesting musical program has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

—The junior department of the Y. M. C. A. held a business meeting last evening and elected the following officers: President, Harwood Sheppard; 1st vice-president, Edward Porter; 2nd vice-president, Barker; recording secretary, Malcolm Ivy; corresponding secretary, David Noden; membership secretary, Gilbert Townsend.

—Music at Eliot church, Sunday:

Mr. Leeds presented a plan for the arrangement of the new rooms which was accepted.

—The annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Salem, on Tuesday morning, June 9th, at 10 a. m. A special train will leave the Union station, Boston, at 9:10 a. m., returning to Boston at 5 p. m. The morning will be devoted to the usual reports, business and addresses. The afternoon will be an "evening" by the sea. At 1 o'clock the party will take electric cars to Salem Willows or Juniper Point, where a hot luncheon will be served at the price voted for by the Federation, twenty-five cents. All tickets for the luncheon must be purchased at the church door. Each club will please wear its badge or some distinguishing knot of ribbon, and will kindly place some one in charge of its delegation in order to save time, and avoid confusion. The great number attending these meetings makes it necessary for the committee to know how many are to be present, and members of Federated Clubs are therefore requested to send their names to the secretaries of their respective clubs before the 25th inst. The entire party will have an opportunity to see the birth place of Hawthorne and other historic places en route to the sea shore. Members of the Social Science Club will please address their replies to 645 Centre street, Newton.

Prof. George Kenneth Morris, who will have charge of the services of the Methodist society in Eliot Lower Hall during the absence of the pastor in Europe, is one of the foremost ministers of the denomination. All seats free.

—The state inspector of buildings is responsible for the change in the entrance to Cole's block, as he gave notice that it must be widened. With the removal of the Washington street end of the block, it will be naturally changed in appearance, and work will begin early next month, it is said.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Corey of Copley street leave today for New York and tomorrow from that city to join a Raymond excursion, expecting to be gone until the middle of July. Upon their return they will open their summer cottage at Point Allerton, Hull.

—Mr. J. W. Farrington, who has been failing mentally for some months, became suddenly very violent on Tuesday night, and had to be removed to the Westboro asylum. It is a very sad case, as he was a young man of much promise, and before his mental trouble began was very popular socially, and had many warm friends. The symptoms of the disease became manifest some months ago, and he was at once placed under the treatment of a specialist, but from the first little hope was held out and it is said to be a hopeless case. He lived on Charlesbank road, with his wife and mother, who are nearly prostrated by the terrible affliction that has befallen them.

Terribly Injured.

Word was received by telegraph from Alabama city, Alabama, yesterday, reporting that Mr. Gardner Nichols, son of Mr. J. Howard Nichols of Sargent street, who is superintending the erection of a mill for the Dwight Manufacturing Co., in that place has been seriously injured through some accident that occurred Wednesday.

The last dispatch stated that his injuries would prove fatal. His father and mother are travelling in the south, and were with him at the time.

A morning paper gives the following particulars:

H. G. Nichols of Boston, General Manager for the Dwight Cotton Mill Company at Gadsden, Ala., operated by Eastern people, was horribly crushed while engaged in moving a dynamo at the mills Wednesday, and unless the skill of an eminent New York surgeon, who has been called by wire, can save him, his death is a certainty.

Mr. Nichols was watching the men move the machine across a platform, when the platform gave way, precipitating the dynamo to the ground a considerable distance. The dynamo fell on the General Manager, causing terrible fractures, besides internal injuries.

His death is hourly expected, although hope is entertained that if he may live to be treated by the New York surgeon, he can be saved. The skull is badly crushed, necessitating a delicate operation. Mr. Nichols was a prominent man in social affairs, besides being an expert in cotton mill lines.

Mr. Nichols was a graduate of Harvard, class of '83.

He went to Chattanooga about a year ago to take a position as local agent there for the Alabama Mills of the Dwight Manufacturing Company. Previous to that his home had been in Newton.

CHARTER REVISION.

PROMINENT CITIZENS INTERESTED IN SECURING IT THIS YEAR.

Last Friday evening a number of prominent citizens from every ward in the city met to consider the necessity of charter revision, and to formulate some plan to secure the best advice in the city on this very important matter. The sense of the meeting was that it would be best to select a committee from ex-members of the city council and from the ex-mayors of the city, as these men have a practical knowledge of what changes are required, and to add to such a committee five members of the present city council.

The committee to hold public meetings for the discussion of proposed changes, and to listen to recommendations and objections, and to try to draw up a charter that would be not only up to date, but would place city affairs on a business-like footing. Several cities in this vicinity have recently revised their charters, and these could be studied and copied when desirable.

The meeting finally decided on recommending the following committee: Ex-Mayors Kimball and Bothfield; ex-Aldermen Edwin O. Childs, N. H. Chadwick, H. H. Hunt, E. B. Wilson, Frederick Johnson, Geo. M. Fiske, A. H. Roffe and Dwight Chester; ex-Councilmen E. W. Gay, Eugene Fanning, T. W. Goss and Messrs. J. T. Langford and A. F. Hayward.

All the wards of the city are represented. Messrs. Roffe and Chester were mayoralty candidates, and Mr. Chester has served four years in the legislature. Mr. Gay was president of the Common Council, and Mr. Gore was secretary of the charter revision committee of 1888.

To these would be added five members of the City Council, making a committee admirably equipped for the work, as all the members are practical men. It is to be regretted that the aldermen did not pass the order at once, but it is believed that after thoughtful consideration they can not fail to see the advantage of the plan, and will put the public interests before any private considerations.

WOMEN'S EDUCATIONAL CLUB

OF WEST NEWTON HAS ITS ANNUAL MEETING AND LISTENS TO THE ANNUAL REPORT.

Following is the annual report for '95 and '96, read at the annual meeting of the West Newton Educational Club:

Another year has added its record to our club history. Another milestone has been passed.

In looking over the work of 1895-'96, we find that the program has been rich and varied, the papers carefully prepared, and that the club has grown steadily in interest and good work, so that we not only have the courage to look backward, but can look forward with much of hopefulness.

Most of us will, I think, attest to the fact, that women's clubs are a mighty force in the lives of our rich century women, and a necessary and grand supplement to the home life. A man thinks of his club as a place of recreation and ease, a woman of hers as an inspiration to further exertion. Let us, each and all, endeavor to realize our individual responsibility in making our club what it should be, an expression of individual character, of purified life, quickened thought and noble aspiration. Let by their fruits shall ye know them. Music, art, literature and travel have each had a place, and several places, on the year's program, and have given up their secrets to the minds that love them. Home talent has contributed largely to our entertainment, and many valuable papers have been presented; while a number of prominent people have given the club the benefit of their ability and research in some strong and felicitous lectures.

Art and current events have each had an important place in the work of the year. A talent for art is rare, but it is given to nearly every one to cultivate a taste for art, and the club has had the pleasure of listening to four charming papers on this subject, one by our artist member. Our club poet has also sung to us of her summer outing at Mt. Desert.

The current events of to-day are making the history of to-morrow, and our class has shown itself able to keep abreast of the times, in studying the wheel that revolves, for so the world grows. Social occasions have filled bright places in the intervals, and our regular meetings have often been enlivened by a club tea, served with the genial flow of soul, and the sweetening of friendliness.

Altogether the club has combined work and pleasure most happily, through the wise judgment of our president, to whom we owe all the growth and enthusiasm we have known. May I give you a poet's idea of what a woman's club is?

WHAT IS A WOMAN'S CLUB? It is a meeting-ground for those of purpose great and broad and strong, Whose aim is in the stars, who ever long to make the patient, listening world resound. With sweeter music, purer, freer tones, a place where kindly words are said, And kindlier deeds are done, where hearts are fed; Where wealth of brain for poverty atones, Where hand grasps hand, and soul meets soul, with soul.

Where victors in the race for fame and power Look backward, even in their triumph hours, to beckon others to the shining goal. This is a woman's club, a haven fair, Where tidings drop an hour their load of care, Shall we not strive to realize the high ideal?

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

MEETING OF BOTH BRANCHES—SOME LIVELY DISCUSSIONS—SEVERAL IMPORTANT ORDERS PASSED AND A FEW MINOR HEARINGS.

Monday evening a regular meeting of the board was held with Mayor Cobb in the chair and all members present. Quite a number of interested spectators were seated in the chamber and remained until the executive session. For the first time since January 1st, the records of the last meeting were read and consumed fifteen minutes of apparently valuable time.

Hearings were opened and closed for the laying out and grading of a portion of Austin street, and the taking of land for a main drain and common sewer on the Freeman street extension.

At the hearing of the Gas Company for erecting four poles with wires on Crescent avenue, and allowing the telephone company to attach its wires thereon, Mr. Armstrong, a resident of Crescent avenue, appeared and stated when he purchased the house he lives in at present, he had it wired for electric lights and expected that the company would have the lights placed in whenever he wanted it. He could see no objection for the placing of poles on the street, and desired that the petition should be granted.

Alderman Degen read a letter from Col. E. H. Haskell in which he somewhat objected to the granting of the company's petition. Hearing closed.

A hearing on the petition of the Gas Company for erecting poles and wires on Fern street from Hancock to Central street.

Mr. Herriek appeared and said while he wasn't ready to have electric lighting placed in his home at present, he desired if poles were needed on the street that they be placed on the outside of the sidewalk, and none in front of his house. Hearing closed.

Hearings opened and closed on petition of the gas company to attach wires to poles of the Telephone Company on Central street and of the Telephone Company to place five poles on Woodward and Chestnut street.

A hearing on petition of the Telephone Company for the placing of poles on Pembroke street, between Nonantum and Durant streets. A communication was received from Mrs. Maria Gay, by E. W. Gay, who objected to the poles. She had recently purchased a new house, and was afraid the location of poles on the street might discourage prospective buyers.

Mr. Allen said the poles would be few in number and placed on the other side of the street. It was to be done, he said, in order to reach Mr. Farquhar, whose house was already connected with telephone, but who wished his line changed from a ground to a metallic circuit. The hearing was closed.

At this point the time from 8:15 to 8:30 o'clock was consumed in reading the records of the last meeting.

An order giving all property owners on Washington street, standing in the way of the improvement, seven days to remove all trees, fences, etc. Passed. An order granting a hearing on the petition for grading of Cabot street for June 1. Passed.

An order providing for a reserve police force. Passed. An order for the laying out, grading, accepting and widening of several parts of Ward street from Centre street to Commonwealth avenue. Passed.

An order providing for the laying out of a portion of Austin street. Passed.

A petition was then read by Alderman Greene, which had been received from a number of leading citizens, asking that the city charter be revised for the improvement of city affairs and that a joint committee of citizens, aldermen and members of the city council be appointed. It was signed by John T. Langford and others.

Alderman Greene introduced an order providing for the formulating of this committee to consider a draft to revise the city charter, and to report by Oct. 1st. Also an order creating this committee which would consist of fifteen citizens, the signers of the petition, two aldermen and three members of the common council.

Alderman Greene favored the plan and said the petitioners intended a number of ex-mayors and ex-members of the city council. He thought it an excellent opportunity for the members to get the joint benefit of ideas and something very good might be the result.

Alderman Degen asked if this order was passed what became of the present committee that had been appointed, whether it was to be ignored or not?

Alderman Downs said he had conversed with Mr. Langford previous to the meeting and thought his impression was that this new committee would include the present one.

An order was then introduced providing for the use of the council chambers to hold the meetings of the new committee, and authorizing the city solicitor and clerk to lend it all available assistance.

Alderman Degen said that the committee had been appointed last year to carry on this work, and not having finished at the first of the year was re-appointed to continue this year. It had completed its work, the report had been received and tabled by the common council, and the committee had thought the introduction of this petition, "a little bit previous." He would be glad to be relieved from any more duties of that kind, if the report was taken from the common council and the committee discharged. He didn't wish to be misunderstood on the question and rather favored the citizens in the matter but was not willing to see the present committee wholly ignored.

Alderman Tolmar wanted the petition laid on the table, as he thought so few members of the city council would be lost in such a large committee.

Alderman Green thought it should be settled at that meeting.

Alderman Noyes favored the petition and believed in the consultation of the city council with the citizens.

He was called to order by the chair, who informed him that the question for the disposition of the orders was to be voted upon. It was laid upon the table.

The following petitions were received and acted upon as follows: W. B. Blackmore for an auctioneer's license, granted; Geo. H. Loomis for an auctioneer's license, granted; for sidewalks on Pelham street, referred to the highway committee; for sidewalks on Crescent avenue, referred to the highway committee; for the laying of a main drain and common sewer on Maple terrace, referred to the sewer committee; for the laying of a main drain and common sewer on Bowen street, referred to the sewer committee; for the laying out of Lincoln court, referred to the highway committee.

Orders granting the telephone company hearings for the location of poles and wires on Washington, Park and Tremont streets for June 1st; for location of four poles on Woodbine street, for June 1st; for location of poles on Vernon street and Waverley avenue for June 1st; to attach wires to gas company's poles on Woodbine street and to the gas company to attach wires to the telephone company's poles for the same date were passed.

On recommendation of the report of the highway committee Herbert I. Ordway and other petitioners who asked for the laying out of a portion of Commonwealth avenue, were granted leave to withdraw.

Reports of the highway committee regarding the laying of concrete sidewalks in different parts of Newton were accepted; favoring the laying out of Commonwealth avenue of Charles E. Pulsifer was accepted; orders providing for the laying of concrete sidewalks on Henshaw, Bellevue, Austin, Centre and Walnut streets, for crossings on River and Central streets, and gutters on other streets, passed. An order appropriating $5000 for miscellaneous expenses for the year, passed; authorized the water board to expend $5120 in the laying of pipes, passed.

On recommendation of the report of the finance committee the school board was granted leave to withdraw its petition asking for an extra appropriation of $3000 for current expenses.

Alderman Degen, representing the finance committee, said that this was an item that had been cut out, after due consideration by the committee, in making up the budget of appropriations for 1896. He said that the school board was aware of this and was simply asking that the sum be restored.

A number of concurrent papers were received from the common council and placed on the table.

The following petitions were received and acted upon as follows: Petition of Edward Bailey for two express licenses, referred to the license committee; petition for street lights on Elliot street, referred to the street light committee; holders license for T. C. Sullivan, referred to the license committee; petition of Austin Peckman to place a merry-go-round on a lot at Upper Falls, referred to the license committee; John J. Doyle for one express wagon, referred to the license committee; petition of Edward A. Jones to move a building from Washington to Adams street, referred to the license committee.

An order appropriating $400 to cover Memorial Day expenses, passed; an order granting the West End Street Railway Company a hearing June 1st on their petition for the laying of a double track on Centre street, from Nonantum square to the Watertown line; an order granting the Commonwealth Avenue Street Railway a hearing June 1st, on their petition for an extension of their tracks on Grant avenue, Ward street and Waverley avenue were passed.

Petitions for grading of sidewalks on Berkeley street, referred to the highway committee; a petition from about thirty clergymen of Newton asking that a police station be appointed to serve at headquarters and urging that a number of much needed improvements be made at the West Newton police station.

An order appropriating $100 for the improvement of the different parks occasioned a brief discussion and was finally settled by motion of Alderman Noyes, who thought it should be passed after cutting out all items under $20. After this was done the order was passed.

The petition of Michael Inigues to move a building from Washington to Fayette street was referred to the license committee.

A petition from the school board for an appropriation for furnishing the new Chalmers school was referred to the public property committee.

An order for an increase of $1500 on the city solicitor's salary was adopted.

At this point the board went into executive session and adjourned at a late hour.

and not be influenced by the claim that catarrh is a blood disease, you can easily prove that catarrh is climatic. Have not the severest catarrhal attacks during winter and spring, and have you but little evidence of catarrh during the summer?

Yes. Well, this proves it is a climatic disorder, inflaming the membrane of the nasal passages. It is a waste of time and money to invest in blood remedies. The proper treatment is a local application, and the most prompt to cure is that popular remedy, Ely's Cream Balm.

Newton, 11; Boston College, 9.

The Newton A. A. nine defeated Boston College, Saturday in a game which was hotly contested. Although the college men did some effective batting, it was the work of Dowd, the Newton pitcher, which was chiefly instrumental in deciding the game. He struck out 12 men. Griffin pitched a remarkable game for Boston College.

How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife, second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health.

The Cars All Ready.

(Brighton Item.)

The connection by rail of Newton to the Brighton district is at last assured and preparatory steps have been taken by the West End Street Railway Co. that are very encouraging. From Oak Square along Tremont street and into Newton many track sleepers have been placed. The ground on the Boston side has not been broken, but will be in a very short time. Many of the older residents of the ward recall the time when the horse-drawn railway connected Brighton centre with Newton corner. It never was a paying section and was abandoned. At present in the new car house at Oak Square there are new cars painted and ready to run out at any time to Newton and Boston, and Cambridge via Western avenue.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

WHAT IS BEING DONE FOR THE CAUSE OF GOOD ROADS.

As far as the majority of citizens are concerned, the highway department is the most important one in the city, especially since every one has taken to bicycling, and become a critic of the good roads movement.

The streets of Newton have always been noted for their fine condition, but it costs a good deal of labor and money, but no one grudges this expense. Supt. Ross has now about three hundred men employed, in different parts of the city, and he can be seen early and late driving about the city, and always appearing when least expected. His care and watchfulness increase the efficiency of the men, and also makes every dollar expended go as far as possible. He is such an authority on road building and their care that he has frequent visits from men in other towns, who are desirous of emulating Newton, and who desire his advice.

The repairing and cleaning of the streets he regards as of prime importance, and a special force of men is kept at work, scraping up the loose and worn out material and the street refuse, and curbing it away. This is one reason why Newton's streets are in such a contrast to those of Malden, for instance, where the streets are never swept and the watering carts turn them into an abominable slough.

This week, a force of 30 men and teams began constructing a driveway from Boyd to Pearl street, along the westerly side of what was once Boyd's pond. A fine roadway will be made, and within a short time it will probably be extended from Pearl to Washington street, through the Potter land, and also from Boyd to Galen street, skirting the easterly side of Cook's land, which has been lowered, to give better drainage for the Boyd's pond district.

The bed of the stream is to be lowered and stoned up, and the land on the easterly side, owned by the city, is to be ploughed up and seeded down, and is to be given over to the boys for a playground. This is one of the most important improvements undertaken by the city this year.

A large force of men are at work on Tremont street, and a steam roller was put on Wednesday. It is expected to have the widening of this street finished up within a very short time.

The city is obliged to have the rails laid for the West End cars, by the first of June.

Bellevue street extension is rapidly taking shape, the sewer has been laid, and gas and water pipes are to be put in at once. The street is dug out as far as the B. & A. freight tracks, the sidewalks are graded, and the making of the road bed will begin as soon as the pipes are in. On Church street, a large force is employed laying a drain to take care of the water from Bellevue street and the northerly slope of Mt. Ida road. It will not run down onto the railroad tracks.

On Adams street, the sewer is being lowered, to admit of the main sewer under the railroad being lowered below the new track of the railroad. The new bridge, opposite Adams street, will connect the parkway from Boyd's pond with the Cabot parkway and those driving to the South side can thus avoid the steep grade of Centre street and Waverley avenue. The woods on the Cabot parkway have been cleared of brush, stumps dug up, and it is now made a very attractive region.

The city men have just finished putting Woodland Road, Hancock and Central streets into prime condition, and about the only street on that side of the track that is better than last year, however, but needs a complete rebuilding, but the street department could not secure the money for it this year.

The 8th section of the boulevard has been freed from loam, and the railroad has the abutments for the new bridge nearly completed. As soon as this is done, the filling in on either side will begin, and this section will probably be finished early in the fall. The 9th section, from Lexington street to the river, is fast approaching completion, and the roadway is nearly finished.

A large force of men, three of the steam rollers and a stone crusher are all at work there, and order is being created out of the general upheaval of things of a few weeks ago.

The Park along the river, below the boulevard, is receiving attention, and is being cleaned from brush and put into order for summer visitors. It is a beautiful spot, with fine old trees, and will be a popular resort on warm days. A roadway will be put in this summer, and the thirty acres of the park will accommodate a good many people, when the street railway is extended to it.

The past few days a gang of men have been cleaning up the Cheesecake brook boulevard, cutting the grass out of the stream, trimming up the banks, and making it attractive. The wisdom of laying out this boulevard is shown by the fact that seven new houses are to be built on the easterly side, near Watertown street, and two fine ones have been already built on the western side, while a $7000 one is planned for the corner lot, and more houses are contemplated.

Several gangs of men are still at work on Washington street, another is at work extending Austin street to Felton, near Greenwood avenue crossing, and the work is being pushed up as fast as possible.

The supervision and planning for all these improvements keeps Supt. Ross very busy, and he tires out two horses every day, driving from one center of work to another. The streets are generally much improved over last year, when the digging of sewers had left them in bad condition. If we could see the end of having such men as Mr. Ross on that much talked of Board of Public Works, every one would be in favor of it.

The Needham Street Railway.

Needham citizens are inquiring if they are to have an electric railroad this summer. Last January franchises were granted by the Newton aldermen and the Needham selectmen to the Needham & Newton Street Railway Company for a line from Needham to Newton Centre, and a $1000 United States bond deposited with the Needham selectmen to be forfeited in case the road was not completed and cars running on schedule time by June 1, 1896.

The death, some weeks ago, of A. C. Pond of Newton, one of the chief movers in the project and its financial backer, seems to have upset all calculations. In addition to the monetary forfeit the Needham franchise becomes void, unless the road is completed by July 1. The uncertainty about the building of the road retards the real estate boom which would undoubtedly set in if there was a certainty of early operation.

THE old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children and his children's children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Once in a while you find such a man who has never taken any medicine. That man has lived a perfectly natural life. Not one in a thousand does so. Sometimes a very slight indiscretion or carelessness pave the way for serious sickness. The germ theory of disease is well authenticated, and germs are everywhere. This need make no difference to the perfectly healthy man. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. They are hurried along rapidly and thrown off before they have time to develop or increase. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of rich life-giving properties, the blood will be a sluggish, putrid tide of impurity. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them unwholesome and unwholesome matter, and the man will lose flesh. The more flesh he loses and the weaker he becomes, the more susceptible he is to disease. His trouble will become complicated and serious consequences will follow. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular ailment. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, replaces impurities with rich, red blood, feeds the tissues and makes strong, healthy flesh.

PUBLIC HEARING.

PETITION OF THE COMMONWEALTH AVENUE STREET RAILWAY DISCUSSED TUESDAY EVENING BY RESIDENTS OF NEWTON CENTRE.

The street railway committee of the city council which comprises Aldermen Deane, Green and Downs, listened to the opinion of the residents of Newton Centre in regard to the petition of the Commonwealth street railway, in Associates hall, Tuesday evening.

The petition asks that the location of a track be granted Centre street from Homer street to Commonwealth avenue. This would make a direct route from Newton Centre to Boston.

Associates hall was filled by over 300 representative citizens of Ward Six, and a few residents from other parts of the city. A large map was placed in the centre of the hall for the use of the speakers and was consulted by nearly everyone who spoke.

When the vote was taken on the motion of ex-Alderman Roffe at the close of the meeting it was found that 110 of those present were in favor of granting the railway's petition while 29 were opposed to it. Chairman Deane called the meeting to order shortly after eight o'clock and said the hearing was called to settle the question of granting a franchise to the Commonwealth Avenue Street Railway for location of a track on Centre street from Homer to Commonwealth avenue. If it was not the sense of the citizens he was ready to hear suggestions or plans for another route. He cautioned them that the hearing was before the street railway and not the highway committee and wished the speakers to avoid talking about widening Centre street.

Mr. Avery L. Rand was the first speaker and entered an earnest protest and suggested the plan of running the cars from Commonwealth avenue through Grafton street to Homer and thence on the Newton & Boston tracks to the square. He thought this latter plan was much the better as it would not be such an injury to the city. It was just as practical and would take but little longer in reaching Boston. The residents of Centre street, however, on which it was proposed to run the cars were greatly opposed for several reasons. If the curve was said to be too sharp at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Grafton street he stood ready to deed a portion of his land to remedy this. In his opinion Centre street should be widened, but the laying of tracks would be a great injury. In concluding he asked President Clavin if the street railway was the following question: "Have you made the statement that if the location was not granted on Centre street the tracks would not run on Grafton street and if the people did not take it on Centre street they would not get it?"

Mr. Clavin answered "I never said it and it is not the opinion of myself or associates." Prof. English did not favor the plan of the petitioners not because he had any personal interest, but the interest of the city at heart. Centre street was the most beautiful street in this or any section and it would be a great calamity to mar it by putting the tracks there. The main point is to keep street railways off the principal streets when other streets can be used as well. He favored the proposed plan of Mr. Rand and thought it was the marked sentiment of the meeting not to have the cars run on Centre street.

Mr. Andrews thought the whole thing should be considered as the best method of transportation and the most direct route the one to be chosen. This was the one proposed by the street railway and he was willing to leave it to the decision of an expert. As a member of the First Congregational church he protested against the running of cars on Homer street. If the Grafton street plan was adopted the running of cars on Homer street would be doubled, and as the noise was almost unbearable the church members would certainly protest against it. If the location was granted the petition of Centre street would certainly be well paid and the plan was the best to be obtained in every way, and especially for direct transportation.

Mr. Gilbert, as a resident of Centre street, protested, his reasons being about the same as the former protesters. He agreed with Prof. English and hoped that if the tracks must be laid they would be put in the center and not on the side of the street. Mr. Walworth said he had no personal interest in real estate or street railway shares, but spoke as one who loved the city at heart. He thought the railways, though not consolidated, were on pretty good terms, and refrained from consolidation for their own benefit. He was in sympathy with the petition of the church and rather favored the Centre street location.

The chairman then read a letter he had received from Messrs. Charles E. Billings, E. H. Haskell, both in favor of the street railway's proposed plan. Mr. Ward read a letter from a client who had purchased land on Grafton street and protested very much against the running of cars. Mr. Ward himself did not approve of this latter plan and thought a location on Centre street more desirable.

A general discussion followed, in which opinion was pretty evenly divided. Judge Bishop, Mr. Davis, Mr. Spear, ex-Alderman Roffe and others participated.

Dangers of McKinleyism.

(Boston Cor. Springfield Republican.)

The inauguration of McKinley carries dangers, however, which are already causing uneasiness among thinking Republicans. How he will face a depleted gold reserve, how a tariff can be framed which is prohibitory and still affords adequate revenue, how foreign capital can be brought back and public credit restored by a president who declines to utter one definite word regarding his attitude toward the gold standard, are questions which are already presenting themselves to the few and are likely within a year to be pressing upon the attention of the many. That McKinley will stand upon a platform declaring for the gold standard, if such a platform is adopted, nobody doubts. There is some doubt, whether such platform will be adopted in a committee consisting of one from each state, where the disposition always is to make concessions, in order to secure harmony. The great majority of the Republican convention is likely to be upon the right side, but they may be betrayed by their committee on resolutions. The prospect is much brighter than a few months ago for the right sort of a platform, but it is by no means conclusive.

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer it promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhea, it affords instant relief. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Charles Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

DISTURBED NEWTON QUIET.

THREE MEN AND THREE WOMEN, IN TWO CARRIAGES, ARRESTED AT 1 A. M.

A convivial party from Boston disturbed the Sabbath quiet of Newton, in the small hours, and gave the police of three divisions a lively chase before their fun ended at police headquarters.

The party was first heard of at Newton Centre, shortly before midnight. It was divided up between two handsome carriages, with two spirited pairs. Its progress was accompanied by popular songs and the music of five tin horns. The police of division 3 ordered the revelers to keep quiet, but they whipped up their horses, and with horns in full blast, drove toward Auburndale.

At West Newton they redoubled the disturbance. Windows were thrown up, and the good people of the village thought that pandemonium had broken loose. Sergt. Purcell and Patrolman Kye tried to overhail them, but the spirited horses were too quick for them. At Newtonville, also, the crowd managed to elude the police.

In the meantime Sergt. Mitchell telephoned to station 1, and six patrolmen were in waiting when the two carriages arrived at Newton. To prevent their turning back, the patrol wagon followed them down Washington street. The entire party, consisting of three men and three women, were arrested on the charge of disturbance of the peace.

At headquarters they were booked as follows: Dr. John B. French, Auburndale; J. H. French, a liquor dealer; Katherine Everett, an actress; Mrs. John French, Mrs. Aubrey Litchfield and Dr. Isaac Russell, all of Boston. None of these names is in the Boston directory.

From the carriages the police confiscated a Newton highway department lantern, a bag, a package of peanuts, a quart bottle half full of whisky, and a package of cough drops.

Bail Commissioner Whitteley took two gold watches as security, and after the fees had been paid the party had but $3 left. From headquarters, at 2 a.m. Monday, they were obliged to walk two miles to Newton, where their carriages were put up. They were charged with disturbance, Monday morning, and the men fined $6 each and the women $1.

The Rage for Wheeling.

Nothing has ever had such a boom as the trade in bicycles this spring. The demand for them is so great that some makers can hardly supply orders. Second hand machines are snapped up quickly. Repair shops and agencies are multiplying. Even the installment system has been introduced to facilitate the sale of wheels. People who cannot pay cash down can be accommodated for almost any length of time, paying in small sums each week or month as per agreement. On pleasant evenings every fair road for miles in all directions swarm with the riders. In fact the wheel folk are getting to be so numerous that the unwary pedestrian may easily be brought to grief.

The great number of riders and the still growing popularity of the wheel make it proper to suggest a few cautions. One is that excess is possible in bicycling as in other things. Too much of it is harmful. A delightful source of recreation thus becomes an injury to health.

Another caution relates to the cramped position assumed by those who imitate "the scorchers." Some people can become racers and win prizes, but not many, and it is absurd for the great majority to lose the benefit of the exercise for a little increase of speed.

Still further the multiplying of riders means an increase of danger to them and other people. The more riders the greater care and the less speed.

The time will come when every community will check the mad speed at which wheelmen now spin through the streets of built up sections. The danger of being run over is very great, and the danger of injury to the riders by collision is equally great. For the safety of all parties the rule must be to go slowly where the streets are much used.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his long-malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

The Anti-Biennial League.

The organization of the anti-biennial league has been completed by the choice of ex-Gov. Boutwell for president. The vice-presidents already elected are ex-Senator Dawes, Senator Hoar, ex-Gov. Long, John E. Russell and George Fred Williams. Others will probably be added to include the temperance and labor people.

It is worth noting that George H. Lyman, chairman of the Republican state committee is opposed to biennial elections, and Everett C. Benton, the chairman of the executive committee. Gamaliel Bradford has been active in the organization of the new league. In reply to his letter asking him to serve as one of the vice-presidents, ex-Senator Dawes wrote: "If my name can in any way aid you in your effort to check the craze to upturn the institutions of the Commonwealth, it is at your service. God save the Commonwealth. By the way, I haven't seen the amendment. Is the prayer to be abolished also?" John E. Russell wrote: "I cannot refuse you the use of my name if you think it will help the cause. I did favor the biennial movement, but in thinking it over and arguing with myself, I am convinced that annual elections are the right and duty of the electors. What possible chance would (or does) the Commonwealth have when the federal elections have the right of way?"

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes irritated throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Not to his Taste.

(From the Washington Star.)

She had just recited Poe's poem, "The Bells." The attaché of the district government looked interested, but not pleased.

"Don't you like?" was the inquiry. "I can't say that I do. It seems to me that there is too much iteration. There are so many bells in it that it makes me think of a bicycle club going down Pennsylvania avenue."

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then, don't be an invalid.

It is said that a man who won't buy a paper because he can borrow one has invented a machine by which he can cook his dinner by the smoke of his neighbor's chimney.—Tid-Bits.

Newton Beat Harvard.

Harvard was defeated by the strong Newton Athletic Association base ball team Monday afternoon on Holmes Field. The Newton team was late putting in its appearance, and the game was called on account of darkness at the end of the seventh inning. Harvard was unable to hit Dowd, the Medical school man, who pitched for Newton, getting but two hits. Newton, on the other hand, pounded Haughton at will. Paine was given a chance to rest his arm at first base, Clarkston taking the vacant place in centre field. The game was devoid of special features. Harvard played a tough, clutch game, while Newton's playing, except at the bat, was done by the battery, Dowd and Draper. R. Stevenson played his usual lifeless game, making an extra error for his brother, who was taking a day off. The score:

CHARTER REVISION.

The action of the board of aldermen on the petition to have a commission appointed to revise the city charter was rather surprising, to say the least. It was proposed to appoint a commission of 15 former ex-mayors and former aldermen, with five from the city council, to take charge of the work, and the revision is certainly urgently needed.

One alderman objected because it overlooked the committee of which he was chairman, although his committee drew up the plan presented last year, which was so found so full of faults that it had to be abandoned. One such failure, one would think, would satisfy the ambitions of the chairman of any committee.

Another alderman had a still more curious objection, as he protested because the members from the city council would be lost in such a large committee. Why this should be an objection it is difficult to see, or why the members of the city council has any more interest in the matter than any other public-spirited citizens. The objections rested on such very slight foundation, that when the members have had time to think the matter over, they will probably withdraw them.

The case of Maiden might be cited, as that city has just prepared a revised charter which is conceded to be a model one. A commission of twenty-one citizens, not one of whom was a member of the city council, was appointed to prepare it, and several mass meetings were held, at which there was the fullest discussion, the result of which was the presentation of a charter that is said to be a model in every way.

Why should not Newton adopt the same plan. The members of the city council are out of place on such a commission, as they are naturally handicapped by their positions, as was abundantly shown here in Newton last year. They have ambitions for the mayoralty, or for another term, and so are very timid about recommending changes, and they are such a hard-worked body of men that they have not the time to give to the consideration of such a very important matter. Men who are not in office are more independent, and if they are men of experience they are able to take a larger view of the question that comes up, than present members could be expected to do.

We have already had several attempts at revising the charter, none of which were satisfactory, and it is high time that something was done, as the interests of the city are suffering under the present condition of things. A large committee is better than a small one, and if such a committee was appointed at once, they could report before the very end of the year, so that there would be time for the city council to consider the matter, and get the revision into shape for presentation to the legislature next year. It is to be hoped that the aldermen will take a large view of the matter and see that the proper order is passed.

Two railroad hearings are advertised for June 1st, before the City Council. The West End wants a double track on Centre street from Nonantum square to the Watertown line, to which there will probably be no objection. The second hearing will, however, arouse great interest, as the Commonwealth Avenue Street Railway Company wants to lay tracks from Tremont street to Commonwealth avenue, by way of Waverley avenue and Grant street. There have been many attempts to secure a railway on this route, and at one time over 90 per cent. of the property owners signed a petition to have a road there. One of the most ardent advocates for the road, who lived on Skinner Hill, was so discouraged by the failure, that he closed his house and moved to Wellesley. It is certainly the most feasible route to connect Newton with Newton Centre, and a railway is needed to develop the great amount of unoccupied land along Waverley avenue, which is now so far from the railway as to prevent its sale. Whether there will be any strong opposition to this petition is not known, but it is believed that most of the property owners will welcome the proposed road.

The Boston superintendent of streets says the contract for the Commonwealth avenue extension, between the Chestnut Hill reservoir and the Newton line, has been let and the work of construction is now well in hand. Newton built about five miles of the avenue while Boston has been putting over this short stretch of less than a mile, but it is satisfactory to know that something is being done, and that there is some hope for the speedy completion of the work.

EX-MAYOR BOTSFELD has been appointed to take charge of the settlements for Tremont, Park, and Washington streets and Commonwealth avenue, as well as for the grade crossing amages, on the recommendation of the committee on awards for street widening. This is an assurance that the interests of the city will be carefully looked after, and all claimants fairly treated.

WABAN.

—Mr. Lawrence Strong has recovered from his septic finger.

—Mr. and Mrs. Flint are spending a few days with Mr. W. C. Strong on Windsor road.

—Miss Isabel and Miss Margaret Strong sailed last Saturday for England on the Catalonia.

—Master Eliot Robinson has been confined in the house with a wry neck, which is much better.

—Miss Fanny Magee, who has been seriously ill with appendicitis, is reported as much better.

The shower of Tuesday afternoon was welcomed by all, especially by those who had found the roads very dusty until then. We want more.

An entertainment of whist and dancing was given in Waban hall last Friday evening. Progressive whist took place until 9.30, when dancing began. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The Junior Athletic Meet of the Waban school was held last Saturday. There were a number of entries. The winners are: 30 yd. dash, Heintzeman; running broad, Heintzeman; shot put, Fish; pole vault, Heintzeman and Fish, (tied); running high, Saville.

Lasell Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bragdon returned on the 16th from their three months' trip west. With them came Mr. Bragdon's sister, Mrs. J. R. Fitch. Mrs. Bragdon is improved in health.

A large party of the students attended the competition drill in Mechanics Building last week, to see the cadets of Brown, the "Tech," and Amherst put through their military "paces," an ordeal from which they came with great credit. Prof. Rich and Fraulein Von der Kall conducted the party.

The Lasella Club gave on the evening of the 10th a very pleasant musical and reading. Mrs. Lucia Mead Priest read a number of interesting and diverting selections, and the audience was further entertained by several charmingly rendered songs, by pupils of the school, Misses Norine Burroughs, Ella Wilson and Martha Baker of this year, and Miss Clara Lewis of last year.

On Sunday there were parties to Trinity church and to St. Paul's, Boston. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock there was held in the chapel the monthly meeting of the Lasell Missionary Society.

The Monday evening presentation of the Latin play at the Bijou, was attended by a small party from the seminary, Miss Evans escorting them. On Tuesday evening others attended, under conduct of Miss Pinkham.

The Salem excursion party this time numbered about twenty-five. Monday was the day chosen for the trip. Mr. Rich conducted.

The gymnasium work at the seminary closed last week. With such pleasant weather as that of the last few weeks, it is pleasant to exercise out doors than in the house.

The organ pupils gave, on Wednesday evening, in the gymnasium, an organ rehearsal, under direction of the instructor, Miss Kate Plummer.

On Thursday evening, May 28, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. John Sherwood of New York will speak on "Social Ethics." Friends are welcome.

Memorial Day.

NEWTON, May 12th, 1896.

General Order No. 1.
Having been appointed by Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., as Chief Marshal for Memorial Day, I hereby assume the duties of the office.

1. Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury is hereby appointed Chief of Staff, and Major Seth A. Ranlett, Adjutant General.

2. Headquarters will be established at the corner of Newtonville avenue and Walnut street at 1.15 p. m. Line will be formed at 1.30 promptly. The column will form on Newtonville avenue, right resting on Harvard street. City carriages, with carriages, will form on Austin street, right resting on Walnut street. The route of procession will be through Walnut street to Newton Centre, where the graves of the soldiers will be decorated in the forenoon by details from Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R. Brief services will be held at the Soldiers' Monument, after which the line of march will be continued through Walnut and Beacon streets to Lake avenue, Newton Centre, thence through Lake avenue, Walnut and Lincoln streets to Common, rear of Hyde school, where dress parade will be held and the column dismissed. Halts will be frequent; the march will not exceed three miles, and will be made as easy as possible.

H. W. DOWNS, Chief Marshal.

SETH A. RANLETT, Adjutant General.

Surveying.

Those who wish surveying or civil engineering work done will be interested in the card of Mr. Sanford E. Thompson of Newton Highlands, in another column. He has arranged to undertake work in the Newtons, and his experience well fits him for it. He is a graduate of the Institute of Technology, and for the past eight years has had charge of various construction work and of surveys in Maine, Wisconsin, North Carolina, New York and Massachusetts. In this state, until recently, he has been in charge of surveys, designs and estimates, for Mr. J. P. Frizell, the expert engineer for the mill owners, whose property is to be taken for the new Metropolitan Water Works. He is still interested in work outside of Newton, but is prepared to take charge of local work also.

MEMORIAL DAY.

PROGRAM FOR THE DAY'S OBSERVANCE IN NEWTON.

The order of exercises for the observance of Memorial Day, May 30th, will be about the same as those of former years. The only exception will be the absence of Co. C, Fifth Regiment, M. V. M., which has always paraded as an escort of the Charles Ward Post. The company will not march this year as it has been invited to participate in the anniversary exercises at Cambridge, June 3rd, and being unable to attend both with full ranks has chosen the latter.

Alderman Henry W. Downs has been appointed by Charles Ward Post as chief marshal and has issued two general orders.

In the first he has appointed Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury as chief of staff and Major Seth A. Ranlett as adjutant general.

In the forenoon the graves of the soldiers will be decorated by details from the post and the following is the afternoon's program:

Headquarters will be established at the corner of Newtonville avenue and Walnut street at 1.15 p. m. Line will be formed at 1.30 promptly. The column will form on Newtonville avenue, right resting on Harvard street. City government in carriages, will form on Austin street, right resting on Walnut street. The route of procession will be through Walnut street to Newton Cemetery. Brief services will be held at the Soldiers' Monument, after which the line of march will be continued through Walnut and Beacon streets to Lake avenue, Newton Centre, thence through Lake avenue, Walnut and Lincoln streets to Common, rear of Hyde school, where dress parade will be held and the column dismissed.

Halts will be frequent; the march will not exceed three miles, and will be made as easy as possible.

His Honor, Mayor Henry E. Cobb, and the city council will review the procession in front of the High school.

The following will be the order of formation of the parade and the head of the column will move promptly at 1.30 p. m. Platoon Police, City Marshal Richardson commanding.

Chief Marshal, H. W. Downs. Chief of Staff, Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury. Adjutant General, Maj. Seth A. Ranlett.

Col. Willard D. Tapp, Major George W. Morse, Hon. Winfield S. Slocum, Major R. D. Morehouse, Gardner C. Walworth, Lt. Albert C. Warren, 5th Regt. Maj. Geo. H. Benyon.

At the close of the afternoon exercises a banquet will be held in Lincoln hall, and attended by visiting military companies and the Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., with associate members and invited guests.

The post will attend divine services next Sunday at the Unitarian church, Newton Centre, at 10.30 a. m., where the pastor, Rev. B. F. McDaniel, who is also chaplain of the post, will speak. At 7.30 p. m. service will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church, Newtonville, where the pastor, Hamilton pastor. The Sunday following Memorial Day a service will be held in the Congregational church, Auburndale, Rev. Mr. Southgate pastor, at 10.30 a. m. and the Channing church, Newton, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when Rev. Mr. Hornbrook will speak.

—The Newton Woman's Guild held its twelfth annual meeting, for election of officers, on Tuesday, May 19th. With slight changes the old board of officers was re-elected and reports read, of the treasurer, corresponding and recording secretaries, also those of the educational, musical, charitable, social, industrial, flower, hospital and needle-work guild committees. The year financially has been a prosperous one. The literary work has been varied, interesting and instructive. Picturesque and unique studies of Europe have been described; the Latin Quarter of Paris portrayed; the songs of Shakespeare analyzed and illustrated; Mrs. Farrington and her nephew Ike, interviewed; the zoology of Newton explained; the best interests of the schools of the city considered; household emergencies, particularly relating to children, made plain; the Foremothers of Plymouth given their just due; an account of the Norse settlements in Greenland and New England clearly presented; and what was especially enjoyed, historical papers about Newton and about its various charitable organizations, were read by some of the members. There was one very fine musical given under the auspices of a sextette of the Treble Clef, and vocal selections have been rendered at nearly every meeting. The social committee has arranged several receptions and there has been a progressive whist party and a children's dancing party, both very successful. Twice a week for four months flowers were sent to the Boston flower mission. A large number of new garments have been distributed by the needlework guild, and $500 paid to the Newton Hospital for the support of a free bed. During the year the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was formed and the Guild was one of the charter members. In June an outing to

The purchaser has disposed of all but 20,000 feet of land on the corner of the avenue and Hammond street, Alvord Bros. & Co., reselling 53,000 feet on the corner of Waban Hill road and Hammond street to Charles E. Chester, John E. Behneke has sold the balance of the land, containing 174,210 feet, to Jane L. Palmer. It has a frontage of 800 feet on the boulevard and good frontages on Waban Hill road and Hammond street. A new street will be laid out from Hammond street to Commonwealth avenue and the land cut into house lots. This property is a level piece of land near the crest of the entire Newton boulevard.

W. G. Bean, superintendent of the southern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, has purchased William S. Heath's new dwelling on Beacon street, Newton Centre. It contains 15 rooms and has a lot of 13,000 square feet.

Goethe says: "If thou would'st hear what is fitting and seemly, inquire of noble women." The Harvard Shoe Co. says: "If thou would'st see what is fitting and seemly, inquire for 'Dr. Payson's Health Shoe.'" In another column on this page their ad. tells the story.

Old Congregational Church at Newtonville.

The purchasers of the above property offer to lease it for a term of years, to sell it or improve it, to suit tenants. This is now in the square at Newtonville, which, when completed, will probably be one of the handsomest squares in the suburbs of Boston, as well as the most convenient.

HOW CARL THE GARDENER BECAME KING CHARLES.

[Copyright, 1896, by Walter B. Guild, Boston.] CHAPTER II.

Having thus opened the first well, Carl went carefully forward to where he thought the next ought to be. Here he found what seemed to be a small valley in the sand, and this showed to him beyond a doubt that the second well could be more easily found and the sand more easily removed than from the first. It here took only a few days of digging to find plenty of water.

In the same way he dug the sand from the third well, and then with several of his best horses he went forward to the southern kingdom.

The people were very glad to see Carl and took him without delay to their king.

When he told the king that he had been sent by King William to find the old desert wells, the king was so much pleased that he then and there knighted Carl as the greatest hero of his time and one who had done the greatest service for Southland.

The king not only gave to Carl every honor that was at his command, but by his own chief secretary sent to King William a special message which spoke in the highest terms of the young man who had by his wisdom, care and patience reopened the wells.

A very rich caravan of most costly goods was also made up to go with Carl on his return. This was placed under the command of the chief secretary of the king of Southland, and Carl supposed that it was sent to Verneland as a beginning of trade.

When Carl arrived at King William's palace, the Princess Violet and the king were very anxious to see him, and also to know how he found the wells.

When King William saw the magnificent caravan, he said that this was the finest and richest one that had ever come from Southland.

Carl then introduced the chief secretary of the king of Southland, and what do you think? Why, the secretary began to talk just as a boy would speak a piece at school. He said that the people of Southland were so much pleased at the reopening of the old caravan road that these goods had been sent to King William with the request that they might be presented to Carl Schmidt, the great explorer.

This was a great surprise to Carl, for he had already received all the honors which the Southland could give to any person living in any other country. Yet to these had now been added the richest caravan which had ever crossed the desert, and it had made him very wealthy.

After a royal banquet in honor of Carl's success he was told that another test awaited him, for which he was given four weeks to prepare.

Before this test he was told to read some records of the royal family and to keep his own counsel as to the news which he found.

Carl had often wondered why every one was forbidden to speak of the queen and why she was never seen in the palace.

He now discovered that the queen had been enchanted into an ugly witch, and at the same time Violet's younger sister had been changed, so that, instead of being sweet tempered and loving, she was even more fierce and ugly than her mother.

The Prince of Southland, who was the most gallant and talented prince within a thousand leagues of Verneland, had been changed to a handsome, strong and vicious black horse, which could only be handled by the witch's daughter.

After Carl had found out all possible information as to the witch and her castle he discovered that the cause of the enchantment of all three was the desire for too many things which they could not have. This made them ugly and jealous, so the wizard king of the desert found this his best chance to injure and as far as possible destroy the royal family. The wizard king made all haste to use his black arts and cast such a spell upon them that in two years the result had been as we have seen.

The witch and her daughter having enslaved many of the king's subjects must, as a matter of safety to the kingdom, be freed from the enchantment and returned to the king, and the Prince of Southland must be returned to his own country.

This was a great undertaking for Carl. Many had tried and failed, but as they had been made slaves of the witch, it was not known in the kingdom that they had been on this errand and had been unsuccessful.

At the appointed time, Carl, riding the best horse in the kingdom, started out, and after journeying seven days came to a branch in the road where it was difficult to decide which way he should take.

At this point the fairy again met him and after giving him very careful directions and advice sent him on his journey. First, however, she gave him a ring, which he could remove from his finger at any time he wished to see her, and as the witch had poisoned all the wells near the castle and as the water which looked clearest and brightest was the most dangerous, the fairy also gave him a cup from which to drink.

In drinking from this cup he would be perfectly safe and all poison in the water would be destroyed.

Whenever Carl wished to become invisible, all he had to do was to rub the handle of the cup or rub it against his horse, when he and the horse would disappear from sight.

When he wished to be seen, he merely rubbed the other side of the cup or rubbed that against his horse, and there he was.

Carl rode for a few hours and was about to camp for the night when he saw a beautiful, dark haired, black eyed young lady who sat beside the road crying as if her heart would break.

Carl's pity was immediately aroused and he asked her what was the trouble, to which she answered that her ankle was sprained and she could go no farther. Her horse, she said, was still a quarter league over the hill. Thinking to do a kindness and also to find shelter for himself, Carl invited her to ride on his horse, while he himself should walk.

After much effort she was finally seated on the horse's back, ready to start forward. "Oh," said she, "there is my shawl. Will you please step back and get it for me?" Sure enough there was a fine shawl upon the grass some distance from the horse, and as Carl stepped back very politely after it the witch's daughter, for it was she, spurred the horse onward. She thought to leave Carl at such a distance from any house and with all his food and provisions in the saddlebags, that he would starve to death before reaching any place where he could get food.

Carl did not expect any such tricks as this, but on account of his extreme kindness to horses and his great fondness for animals, he was able, whenever he whistled, to call this horse, whose name was Hero. So he put his fingers to his lips and gave a long, loud whistle. Hero, regardless of the efforts of the witch's daughter to stop him, immediately turned back and came prancing up to meet him.

The witch's daughter laughed pleasantly as she came back and tried to make it all appear as a joke.

Carl, however, recognized her, and made her get down from the horse. He then proceeded on his journey.

Carl knew, now, that he must be near the witch's castle, and accordingly, he took the ring from his finger. Immediately a white rabbit came hopping up to him and said in a voice which Carl knew to be that of his old friend the fairy, "The witch's daughter is watching and unless you are very careful will try to steal your ring and cup tonight."

As Carl, however, needed sleep, the fairy rabbit agreed to stand guard and, as soon as there was any danger to rub its paw against his face to awaken him. With so faithful a sentinel Carl was soon sleeping soundly and had slept for some time when he was awakened by the rabbit brushing against his face.

He had kept the ring in his pocket and had tied the cup to his finger. By the bright moonlight Carl could readily see the witch's daughter silently creeping toward him. She was just about to take the saddlebags which contained his food when Carl sat up and very politely asked her what was that he was honored by a call from her at such a time of night.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN.

Always Afraid Something Dreadful is Going to Happen.

How a Little Baby Girl Rolled the Clouds Away.

Of course a woman will naturally see the dark side of everything when tortured by some form of female disease, which her doctor cannot or does not relieve.

No wonder she is melancholy when head and back ache, pains run through the whole body and loins, nerves are weak, stomach out of order, digestion poor, sense of fullness and bearing-down, poor sleep and appetite, always weak and tired, irregular menstruation, whites, etc.

She probably is not so fortunate as to know that all female ailments are indicated by these never failing symptoms, and are controlled by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; all female weaknesses quickly disappear by its use. It has been the thinking woman's safeguard for twenty years, and all druggists sell large quantities of it because it can be relied upon.

Still another woman speaks:

"I wish you would publish my name with your testimonials. I want every one to know that your Vegetable Compound has made me well and strong. I sing its praises all the time. When I was first married I was very weak and had female troubles badly. Oh, I was so weary, sick and melancholy, but the Vegetable Compound built me up, and now I have a dear baby girl, and I am so happy. No home is complete without a dear little baby and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to roll the clouds away."—Mrs. Geo. Claus, 35 Danforth St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that ## contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the danger they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Items from Billville.

[From the Atlanta Constitution.]

An exchange says that "money is quiet," and we are fully convinced that it must be,
for we haven't heard the ring of a dollar in 30 days.

Some of the candidates are running for office so fast that the Billville bill collectors can't possibly keep up with them.

People who are continually saying that they are not bright in this world will probably strike a full-edged fire hereafter.

A man who would sell his vote for a dollar and a half is a poor man, indeed.
Any vote in Georgia is worth at least $2.

We have come to the conclusion that the first of the month is invariably the last of the man who has the note to meet.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liverman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely.
The first application of Chamberlain's Pain
Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by

NONANTUM.

—Michael Robbins is the new clerk at Grace's pharmacy.

—Last Friday was observed as "Parents' Day" in the public schools.

—Stuart's block on Watertown street has been sold to Louis Burdski.

—The Co. C Fifth Regiment base ball nine has secured Stearns' field.

—The famous Merritt house has been disposed of and will be placed on a vacant lot on Bridge street near Watertown, where a foundation is now being laid.

—Officer Burke shot a pug dog, Monday afternoon, the property of a resident of Craze street. It had badly bitten a boy named Raymond Briggs of Watertown.

—Berkman Bros. have removed from Stuart's block to the J. B. Murphy estate.
The old store is being remodelled and undergoing quite a change in the hands of the carpenters and painters.

—Mrs. Sarah McDonough of West street was arrested Monday afternoon by Officer J. J. Davis, charged with illegal liquor selling. Her case came up Tuesday but was continued until May 29.

—Monday evening a young lady of this place in alighting from an electric car on Watertown street had the misfortune to lose her footing and fall to the ground.
Luckily she escaped without any serious injuries.

—Sunday afternoon Officers J. J. Davis, McAleer, Lucy and Soule raided the premises of Catherine Mullen on Adams street and seized about three gallons of whiskey. In the police court Monday morning her case was continued until Saturday.

—St. Elmo Division, Sons of Temperance, will hold an entertainment in their hall on Bridge street, Friday evening of next week. The following very amazing fares will be given by a number of well known local amateurs, "Mary Moo," "Sarah's Young Man," and "Pomp's Frank."

—Juel Carnill of 112 Bridge street found $10.55 in bills and change, Saturday afternoon, near his home and took it to the police station, saying he had found it and thought the owner would probably call there and report the loss. In time the owner arrived and was glad to secure his money. It is needless to say that the young Frenchman's action was one of commendable honesty as it speaks for itself.

—The local branch of the Sons of St.
George held a meeting Tuesday evening and elected the following officers: Worthy President, Walter Clark; Worthy Vice-President, Burt Hudson; Secretary, Thomas
Mellor; Assistant Secretary, Wm. Stainer; Treasurer, Alfred Tolman; Messenger, J.
Bickley; Past Grand President, Josiah
Powell. Three candidates were initiated by the degree staff of the Cambridge lodge, after which the party sat down to a banquet.

One of the best evidences that Ayer's Hair Vigor is an article of exceptional merit is the fact that the demand for it is constantly increasing. No one who uses this incomparable dressing has occasion of trying any other preparation for the hair.

Bishop Lawrence and the Observance of Sunday.

The address of the Bishop of Massachusetts at the recent convention of the diocese contained some very valuable instructions concerning the observance of Sunday. He urged his hearers to keep the day as a rest day, for they all needed it; to welcome it as a time for the encouragement of what is best in each one, for each man was dragged down by the strong hands of worldliness unless some special attention were given to higher things, and last of all to devote some fair share of the day to purposes of worship, for the yearning to adore the great God sought in each of us some expression, hence the appropriateness of the call to the house of prayer.

So well put were these points that the convention asked the bishop to send it out as a pastoral letter, to be read in every Episcopal congregation in the state.

It is understood that the bishop has consented to do so, and that it will shortly become public property.

In this connection it is well that attention be paid to the fact that during the changes in grade levels and the law in progress there will be many applications for permits for doing work on Sunday. In a few cases where danger can be averted such applications may have to be granted, but ordinarily the accustomed quiet of the day here need not be broken by rock blasting or pile driving, or any other noisy work.

Where They Have Nothing to Read.

The supply of reading matter in such a place as Newton is very abundant. Subscriptions to papers and magazines, access to libraries, and other plans, secure for most of us as much as we can possibly read.
There are however neighborhoods where there are no libraries, and where money is too scarce to permit subscribing for periodicals or the formation of reading clubs. We can scarcely form any idea of the distress and dullness of life in so many out of the way places where people have so little reading matter, and where the opportunities for intellectual improvement are limited to the occasional sermon of the itinerant preacher. A great deal of attention has been called to such cases of late. By means of societies which have been formed for the purpose, some destitute neighborhoods will henceforth be better supplied than formerly with reading matter.

There is no trouble now in knowing what to do with magazines, illustrated papers, etc., for the representatives of these societies stand ready to send through the mails, anything that may be put into their hands.

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, for they always cleanse the liver, purify the blood, and invigorate the system. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P.
Thorn, Auburndale.

Mr. J. W. Gerry, a well-known busi-

his experience.

"I was troubled with indigestion for many months. My food gave me great distress. Physicians prescribed for me, and although they gave me help for a time, they did not cure. I felt discouraged and could not sleep at night. My friends advised me to give up business, the doctors declaring that I needed a change. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought it might do me good. I am glad to say that I felt the benefit right away, after commencing to take the medicine. Three bottles of —Col. Edward H. Haskell leaves this week on a five weeks' trip to Europe.

—Miss L. M. Cate, a teacher in the Oak Hill school, is visiting in Woburn, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Hovey have opened their new home, "The Burrs," Chestnut terrace.
—Mrs. H. T. Edwards of Parker street has been visiting in New York, the guest of friends.
—The Newton Centre Woman's Club has been admitted to the State Federation of Women's Clubs.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Claffin entertained at last Monday evening at their residence on Grant avenue.
—Mr. L. Dana Chapman will soon occupy his new house, corner of Grant street and Commonwealth avenue.
—Mrs. L. J. Berry of Brookline is building a handsome house on Commonwealth avenue, just beyond Hammond street.
—Mr. Robert Mills of Gibbs street, son of the late Dr. Mills, has been quite ill with appendicitis, but is now recovering.
—Mrs. Robert Hawthorne and Miss Helen Hawthorne returned this week on the steamer "Friesland," after two years in Europe.
—Mr. and Mrs. S. V. A. Hunter left Wednesday for their trip to Europe. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hunter.
—Mr. Oliver J. Hall of W. O. Knapp's grocery store is recovering from his recent severe illness and was able to sit up for the first time Wednesday.
—Among the Newton Baptists who have gone to attend the May anniversary at Asbury Park are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Chester and Miss Chester.
—The Hale Union of the Unitarian church will meet on Sunday evening, at 7.30. Subject, "Crusaders, ancient and modern." All are welcome.
—Miss Strong, the organist at the Unitarian church, has gone abroad for the summer accompanied by her sister. Her place at the organ will be taken by Mrs. Shumway.
—The Oak Hill school has been closed for an indefinite period, owing to the prevalence of diphtheria in that district. A number of cases have been reported among the school children.
—Rev. Mr. Noyes of the First church was elected a director of the Bureau of Ministerial Supplies at the annual meeting of the Mass. Home Missionary Society held in Fall River this week.
—Some time Wednesday evening a large piazza chair and a fire mat were stolen from the residence of Mr. H. W. Tyler on Marshall street. The thief left a pair of tan lace shoes behind him on the piazza.
—Monday morning a milk man from the Ridge Hill Farm, who was driving through here in the small hours en route for Boston, fell asleep and the team collided with a fence breaking the front wheel. He was obliged to borrow an ice wagon to carry his wares to Boston.
—There are letters in the post office for John Buchanan, Ephraim O. Brown, Dennis Cotter, Dennis Callahan, W. H. Cole, Mrs. S. L. DeWitt, Mrs. Helen J. Thurston, Mrs. Hibbard, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. Grace Kempton, Kate J. McDonald and Nellie Valentine.
—George R. Wallace was thrown from his bicycle while coasting down a steep hill on Dedham street, Oak Hill, Sunday. The machine was wrecked by coming in contact with a stone wall, and a high mass of left collar bone broken and face and head severely mutilated.
—On Sunday morning at 10.30, Charles Ward Post, No. 62, G. A. R., will attend divine service at the Unitarian church. Rev. B. F. McDaniel, chaplain of the Epworth League, will deliver the sermon. A cordial welcome to every one. The church will be finely decorated and good music provided.
—The funeral of Martin Shiel, Jr., who died at the Massachusetts General Hospital, took place from his sister's residence, Wednesday morning, and a high mass of requiem was sung at the Church of the Sacred Heart. Deceased was a resident of this place for a number of years and very well known.
—Some time Saturday morning sneak thieves entered the room of Mr. L. H. Woods, a student at the Theological Institution, and abstracted a Waltham watch. The room of another student was also entered and $12 in money taken. The matter was reported to the police who are making a rigid investigation.
—The base ball game which was to have been played on the Cedar street grounds Tuesday afternoon, between the Brookline and the English High schools, has been postponed until tomorrow morning, when it will be played on the South End grounds, Boston. The unit condition of the N. A. A. field after the rain made it impossible to play the match. Both teams were on hand backed by a number of "rooters," and at the request of both teams a squad of officers under Officer Taff were on hand to protect order. Both sides evidently expected to encounter trouble in winning the game.
—On the rolling, broken ground of the Newton Centre Golf Club's links, on Langley road, an open golfing tournament for records was held Saturday afternoon. The players included about a score of club members. Two ladies were among the number. Mr. J. D. Green made the best record of the afternoon, 65 strokes. The day's records will figure in the handicapping for the tournaments which have been scheduled for June, July and August. They were as follows: B. B. Back 69, F. H. Hovey 68, Clifton Hunter 67, A. E. Albert 66, W. B. Claffin 79, H. D. Ward 72, F. H. Butts 80, D. F. Kidder, Jr. 88, Edward M. Noyes 67, C. W. Rice 68, G. E. Gilbert 69, J. D. Green 65, E. L. Allen 68. Next Saturday the men's handicap is holes, medal play, tournament will be held.
—Saturday evening Conductor Partridge of the Newton & Boston Street Railway met with a most peculiar accident, which it is feared may result very seriously. How it happened no one at present can tell, and it will not be known until the injured man recovers and is able to tell the story himself. The best account of the affair was related by a passenger on the car, who said that the car had left for the terminus at Homer street and was turning the corner of Water street when some one heard a faint cry and turned around to the rear platform and noticed the absence of the conductor. He called to the motorman and at the same time pulled the rope and rang in two fares by mistake. The car was soon brought to a stop, though not until it had gone a considerable distance. The male passengers, who numbered about six, ran back and picked the man up. He was found to be unconscious and was removed to his home on Ripley street. Later it was discovered that he had been seriously injured about the head and sustained other bruises. His condition at present is reported as critical.

—A most successful musical took place on Saturday afternoon in Bray's small hall, the occasion being Miss Forbes' annual pupils concert. The hall was bright and fragrant with spring flowers. Apple blossoms, roses, butter-cups, narcissus and pinks filled the platform. Large bunches of lilacs stood on the broad window seats, while the beautiful bouquet of roses which graced the table, testified to the interest of Herr Emil Paar, who himself was unable to be present. The pupils played entirely from memory, and with a touch, both musical and elastic, showing evidence of their careful training. The fifth number on the program was omitted, owing to the illness of Robert Kneisel, son of the leader of the Boston Symphony. The audience was composed of friends from Jamaica Plain, Boston, Brookline and the various Newtons. Among those present was Mrs. Emil Paar, whose two sons are among Miss Forbes' pupils. An hour of unusual pleasure was enjoyed.

—The musical extravaganza entitled "Lady Nancy" was given very successfully in Bray's hall last evening before a fashionable audience. It was a benefit performance tendered to Mrs. George F. Spaulding, the author of the opera and given by the Mungus Club of Wellesley, assisted by members of the N. A. A. The libretto is founded on the old story of Lord Lovell and his blushing bride, Lady Nancy, brought up to date by lyrics and topical songs written for the occasion. The music was written three years ago for two very successful performances in Brookline, and has been added to and rewritten. It was a very friendly audience that greeted the players and the excellent singing was heartily applauded, curtain calls and encores being frequent. The wedding scene, in the third and last act, was the leading feature of the operetta, when these specialties were given: "Topical Song," "Dainty Step," "Patsy Brannigan," "Ernest M. A. Macfarlane," "Belasarte girl," "Mr. George F. Spaulding," "Messrs. Clarence E. Hay, baritone, and T. E. Stutson also assisted the club, Mr. T. Wallace Travis was musical director, and Howe's orchestra furnished music. The play was finely staged and well presented in every particular. Mr. Henry B. Coughlan, as Nancy, being especially clever.

—Mr. D. W. Spooner has sold his house on Bradford road near Woodland street, to Mr. Merrill Mr. Spooner has started a cellar for another house on a lot near by.
—Now that bicycles have become so numerous, every town requires a bicycle store. Newton Highlands is fortunate in having one of the best in the state. See ad. on this page.
—The next meeting of the Monday Club will be with Miss Sweetser. This will be the annual meeting and a full attendance is desirable. After the transaction of business tea will be served.
—The pastor will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. In the evening at 7 o'clock the Epworth League anniversary will be observed with fitting exercises. Brief addresses will be given on various phases of the work.
—The address by Col. Thomas, private secretary to His late Excellency, Gov. Greenhalge, given at the Methodist Episcopal church, last Sunday evening, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The colonel's remarks were very pertinent, and he brought out the strong points and leading events in the life of the late respected governor in a very forcible manner. The entire audience hung upon his words with the greatest attention during the entire evening, and at the close of the lecture, all present were very much impressed with the oration.
—The Congregational Society held their last social of the season on Wednesday evening and a good number were present to enjoy the entertainment which had been arranged. The first number on the program was a piano solo finely rendered by Mrs. Shumway. This was followed by voice selections by the church quartet, Mrs. Tewksbury and Miss Emerson, Messrs. Pennell and Ayer, which were all given in their usual finished manner and were greatly appreciated. Miss Mary Fenno of Newtonville, a young lady of great promise, delighted the company with her readings, her selections "The Volunteer Organist" and "What Johnnie Wanted," especially eliciting forthrilliest applause. The very natural manner in which Miss Fenno impersonates her different characters leads us to predict for her a most brilliant future.

—Mrs. O'Connor, who has been spending several weeks at Tampa, Florida, arrived home on Monday morning in good health.

—Mr. C. Peter Clark has been appointed assistant general manager of the New England road, to date from June 1st. In 1876, Mr. Clark obtained from President William T. Hart of the New York & New England railroad a position in the passenger department of that company, and remained with the property in different departments seven or eight years. Having become interested in an improved block signal system introduced upon that road, he later accepted a position with the Union Switch & Signal Company, where he remained for several years. He was later connected with the Star Union line of the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Boston, and after the death of Mr. S. C. Putnam in 1892, was appointed general freight agent of the Old Colony Railroad and Old Colony Steamboat Company by Mr. J. R. Kenrick, having retained that position under the management of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company since the lease. Mr. Clark is now 38 years of age. Of quick perception, and possessing to a marked degree the qualities of energy and executive ability, he has worked his way up entirely by his own efforts, and his promotion is a source of gratification to his many friends and business associates.

High School Notes.

The date for the joint debate with Brookline High has been set for Friday evening, May 20th. Contrary to past debates three judges will be selected and a decision rendered.

The officers of the High School Battalion will attend the annual drill of Lasell Seminary at Auburndale next Monday.

In spite of the warm weather a number of athletes are in training for the out door games of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association to be held in Cambridge the middle of June. The entries closed this week.

The ball nine added two victories to its already very successful list the past week, by winning two important games. On Monday the nine defeated Hyde Park High school at Hyde Park by a score of 17 to 3. The Newton boys had their batting clothes on and hammered the ball over the lot, Cotting and Duane leading. They also put up a good fielding game. At Newton Centre on Wednesday afternoon they defeated Waltham High 9 to 6. The second Brookline game will take place at Brookline next Wednesday and ought to attract a large crowd. Brookline has practically won the pennant in the Intercollegiate League without having lost a game, while Newton defeated her last month in a practice game, 14 to 7.

Police Court.

There were 23 cases in the Newton police court Monday morning. John Connolly, for disturbing the peace and assaulting his wife, was sentenced to 10 days; John Gunhouse of Upper Falls was fined $10 for a second offense of drunkenness. A wheelman was fined $10 for violating a city ordinance by racing with an electric car, and Patrick Maddox was fined $10 for disturbing the peace and $5 for drunkenness.

In the Newton police court, Tuesday morning, Sarah McDonough of West street, Nantum, was complained of by Officer J. J. Davis for violating the liquor law. The case was continued until May 23.

—Mr. E. P. Burnham's bicycle office is now in the Newton coal office store, in Eliot block.

—Mr. E. T. Fearing and family leave this week for Devereaux, Marblehead Neck, to spend the summer.

—At the meeting of the members of the Ward One Branch Republican Club, held at Eliot lower hall, May 27th, the following officers and executive committee were elected: John T. Langford, chairman; W. E. Harding, secretary; John S. Potter, treasurer; executive committee for one year, D. Waldo Stearns, John H. Hamilton, Edw. F. Barnes, Edw. Sawyer and F. W. Stone; executive committee for two years, Reuben Forknall, E. J. H. Estabrook, Edw. O. Childs, H. W. Downs and D. Fletcher Barber.

—A runaway horse was killed at the Washington street crossing about 8:30 Thursday morning, being struck by an express engine and thrown some 40 feet. The Concord wagon attached to the horse was smashed into kindling wood, and the affair created great excitement. The team belonged to Howard B. Coffin and had been up on Hunnewell Hill for orders. It had been left in front of a house, when the horse, one that had only been purchased the day before, started for the stable at a moderate speed. The gates have been removed at the crossing and this may make the railroad liable for the damage.

—Mr. W. O. Delano and family are away for the summer.

—Mrs. Wm. M. Ferris has returned from her trip to the West.

—Mrs. Hurley of New York is visiting her father, Mr. Andrew S. March.

—Miss Francis Owens of the High school will sail on Saturday for a visit to Holland.

—The residence of Mr. E. S. Worden on Pearl street has been remodelled and enlarged.

—Mr. Frank G. Phelps of Saugerties, N. Y., paid a short visit to friends here this week.

—Mrs. W. F. Bowman of The Hunnewell is spending a week with friends at Springfield.

—Mr. C. B. Galland will remove from the corner of Park and Elmwood streets to one of his houses on Church street.

—Mr. L. E. P. Smith is reported to have sold his house, corner of Park and Vernon streets, to a Boston gentleman, who buys it for a home.

—Mrs. Geo. W. Brown, who has been occupying Mr. E. F. Barnes' house on Bellevue street, intends to return to New York next week.

—80 fresh eggs $1; choice creamery butter, spring lamb and beef roasts, at hard time prices, Fowls 12 and 15 cents, at Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Corey of Copley street and Miss Margaret Wallace of Newtonville sailed, last Saturday, on the Campania for two months trip through the British Isles and France.

—The two houses formerly situated on Mr. J. N. Bacon's land in the rear of Cole's block, have been removed to Emerson street. They have undergone a number of changes and are much improved.

—The New England Hardware Dealers, of which association Mr. D. Fletcher Barber is president, were most sympathetically entertained, last week, by the manufacturers of New Britain, Conn.

—The summer exodus will begin next week, and it is said that it will be much larger than usual this year, as everyone wants to avoid the dirt and discomfort attending the depression of the tracks.

—Messrs. Taylor & Whitman expect to start excavations for their new block on the Hyde corner, within a month. Cellars have already been dug for the old buildings, in the rear of Bacon's block, and they will be moved as soon as the stores in the Nonantum block can be got ready.

—There will be a Memorial service at the Channing church, Sunday, May 31, at 3 p. m., to which the G. A. R. Post 62, the Daughters of Veterans, the Clafin Guards and the High School Battalion have been invited. Rev. F. B. Hornbrook will conduct the service. All are welcome.

—H. H. Hunt of West Newton has the contract for the trestle work to be built by the Boston & Albany in Newton, during the depression of the tracks, and to build also three temporary foot bridges over the tracks, one at the tunnel in Newton, another at Central avenue, Newtonville, and a third at Highland street, West Newton.

—Mr. E. F. Barnes has leased one of Mr. Hubbard's houses on Hunnewell Terrace to Mr. Harry Mansfield, who has removed there from Mr. Galland's house on Park street, which will be moved away, on account of the widening of the street. The date is not yet fixed, however, as the city and Mr. Galland have not yet been able to come to terms.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." King Hall

Magnificat, "None Dimittis." King Hall Anthem, "In humble faith and holy love." Garrett

Antem, "I am Alpha and Omega." Stainer Recessional, "Holy, Holy, Holy Lord." All seats free.

—A number of servant girls in this city have been victimized during the past few days by a very clever swindler. The fellow was disguised as a priest and represented that he was collecting funds for a Catholic mission. He succeeded in securing a considerable sum before his case was reported to the police, and it was discovered that he was an impostor. He is described as of light complexion, medium height, and about 30 years of age.

—The change of time on Monday in the B. & A. trains made a greater commotion than usual, on account of the radical departure from the old time table. Changes of a few minutes make a good deal of difference with the suburbanite, who never allows much margin, and most of them lost their regular trains on Monday. There are now two trains out from Boston, 9:20 a. m. and one at 12:30, noon, which will be a great convenience to shoppers wishing to get home to lunch. The new time tables have been in great demand all the week.

—The big race meet at Charles River Park, tomorrow, will have some wonderful attractions, in the way of famous riders. Among the lesser events, Stephenos Rappleye of Chestnut Hill and F. P. Monroe of Newton Highlands are entered for the one mile novice; Fred W. Malle and Gardner H. Crafts of Newton Centre, for the third mile open. Among the professionals who will appear are E. C. Bald, the famous Columbia man of last year, Walter C. Sanger, H. A. Seavy of Waltham, and the Butlers of Cambridge.

—An imaginative Cambridge reporter made a very touching and pathetic story about an old man who had returned to this section after ten years' absence, and how he had been so long that his wife, whom he supposed to be dead, was alive and still living in one of the Newton villages. The Cambridge police were so touched that they gave him five cents to pay his fare to Newton. The Newton police were better posted, however, and recalled the man as one they had to watch last year, as his wife had separated from him, on account of his bad habits, and had claimed the protection of the Newton police.

—Over five hundred neighbors and friends of Mr. John Flood were present at the reception and "barn raising" given by him Wednesday evening. The guests filled the lower rooms of the house, which were prettily decorated with bouquets of flowers and enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Flood in its fullest measure. The guests included nearly all the members of Charles Ward Post 62, Commander S. J. Whitney, Major Ranlett, Col. Tripp, Adj. G. G. Sert, John Ryan, Rev. Mr. McDaniel, Messrs. Sylvester, Bradshaw, Montgomery, Holmes and many others. From the city came Alderman Downs, Councilmen Sprague and Cranitch. A number of prominent residents, including Dr. T. E. Carroll, ex-Councilman Briston, Dr. O'Donnell, Mr. D. J. Gallagher and Mr. John Joyce. Previous to the supper a pleasing program was given, which was continued in the barn later in the evening. A humorous poem written for the occasion by Conrad Bradshaw was read, and the members of the post sang songs to the accompaniment of the piano. The program, which was laid in the barn, was followed by congratulatory remarks by leading members of the post, Alderman Downs, Councilmen Sprague and others. All present extended

—Mrs. Geo. W. Brown, who has been occupying Mr. E. F. Barnes' house on Bellevue street, intends to return to New York next week.

—80 fresh eggs $1; choice creamery butter, spring lamb and beef roasts, at hard time prices, Fowls 12 and 15 cents, at Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Corey of Copley street and Miss Margaret Wallace of Newtonville sailed, last Saturday, on the Campania for two months trip through the British Isles and France.

—The two houses formerly situated on Mr. J. N. Bacon's land in the rear of Cole's block, have been removed to Emerson street. They have undergone a number of changes and are much improved.

—The New England Hardware Dealers, of which association Mr. D. Fletcher Barber is president, were most sympathetically entertained, last week, by the manufacturers of New Britain, Conn.

—The summer exodus will begin next week, and it is said that it will be much larger than usual this year, as everyone wants to avoid the dirt and discomfort attending the depression of the tracks.

—Messrs. Taylor & Whitman expect to start excavations for their new block on the Hyde corner, within a month. Cellars have already been dug for the old buildings, in the rear of Bacon's block, and they will be moved as soon as the stores in the Nonantum block can be got ready.

—There will be a Memorial service at the Channing church, Sunday, May 31, at 3 p. m., to which the G. A. R. Post 62, the Daughters of Veterans, the Clafin Guards and the High School Battalion have been invited. Rev. F. B. Hornbrook will conduct the service. All are welcome.

—H. H. Hunt of West Newton has the contract for the trestle work to be built by the Boston & Albany in Newton, during the depression of the tracks, and to build also three temporary foot bridges over the tracks, one at the tunnel in Newton, another at Central avenue, Newtonville, and a third at Highland street, West Newton.

—Mr. E. F. Barnes has leased one of Mr. Hubbard's houses on Hunnewell Terrace to Mr. Harry Mansfield, who has removed there from Mr. Galland's house on Park street, which will be moved away, on account of the widening of the street. The date is not yet fixed, however, as the city and Mr. Galland have not yet been able to come to terms.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN FIND IT DIFFICULT TO PREVENT REPORTERS FROM ATTENDING DRUGGIST SEAR'S HEARING.

At the hearing called for Monday evening by the board of aldermen on the petition of Sherman N. Sears, a druggist of Newton Lower Falls, for a sixth class liquor license, the press representatives, friends of Mr. Sears and spectators who were present, were treated to a genuine surprise, at which they were very indignant. The proceeding was one without an equal in this or any other city government and was denounced in no measured terms by all those present.

The hearing was called for 7.30 and the witnesses on both sides arrived on time.

At 8 o'clock, in the absence of Mayor Cobb, Pres. Degen called the board to order, and stated that the meeting of the board had been called simply to hear testimony in regard to the license. The hearing, he said, would be behind closed doors.

Mr. Sears was present with his counsel, John B. Goodrich, and a score of witnesses to testify to the excellent character of his establishment at Lower Falls. Half a dozen witnesses on the other side were present.

Chairman Degen's announcement came as a surprise to all these people, and most of them left the council chamber with a protest. Representatives of the press, however, called attention to the fact that the aldermen had no right to consider licenses in executive session. To this protest Pres. Degen replied that it was an adjourned meeting from an executive session.

The doors were closed, however, but were opened again in a few minutes and the reporters returned.

Pres. Degen said that it was at first understood that this was a continuation of the executive session of the meeting, but it had been decided to call a meeting of the board and go into executive session.

The hall was again cleared and the first witness, Patrolman Bert Seaver, entered. He was closeted with the board for some time, and the second witness, Mr. Bernard Early was called.

Soon after the press representatives entered and vigorously protested, refusing to leave the chamber, and finally the board acknowledged its error by going into a committee of the whole and into a private session.

The hearing continued under protest. Following Mr. Early Rev. O. K. Miller was heard. Then Mr. Sears was called into the chamber. He refused to speak until his counsel was allowed to appear with him. Mr. Goodrich was finally admitted, but was not allowed to make any argument.

Mr. Sears presented letters from Rev. H. U. Munro, C. H. Spring, Daniel Warren, W. S. Saunders, P. L. Temple, M. T. Hatch, Fred Ford and other prominent residents and business men of Lower Falls, endorsing his application for a license.

His friends claim that he has not been fairly used by the board. They denounce the proceeding of the board as a star chamber affair, and claim that he is being obliged to fight in the dark.

It is stated that some of the witnesses against Mr. Sears were unwilling to make their charges in public. Mr. Sears' friends also claim that the attitude of the board will tend to discredit its action before the public.

The license committee has already made a thorough investigation of the charges against Mr. Sears, and a majority of its members have voted to report in favor of granting the license.

The large majority of Lower Falls residents are strongly in favor of granting the application, especially as Mr. Sears' is the only drug store in the village.

The action of the board is without precedent in Newton, and it is claimed, is contrary to the section of the charter which provides "that the sessions of both branches of the city council shall be public, except when action is taken in appointments or removals." At midnight the board was still behind closed doors.

Common Council.

The common council held a meeting in the council chamber at City Hall, Monday evening, at which a docket of considerable importance was acted on concurrently with the action of the aldermen's appropriation of $3,200 for maintenance of certain parks, $5000 for additional miscellaneous expenses and $400 for Memorial Day. The city charter was taken from the table and referred to the charter committee.

Newton A. A. 10, Harvard 25.

The Newton A. A. nine defeated the Harvard second nine in a loosely played game at Newton Centre, Saturday afternoon. Harvard was outclassed from the start, although both teams played ragged ball. Dowd pitched a great game, and kept the hits well scattered. Johnson went into the box in the seventh inning, and the Harvard men succeeded in hitting him a little better. The Harvard nine went to pieces in the first inning, and allowed N. A. A. to score four runs on errors. The score:

SCHOOL BOARD.

SHORTEST MEETING ON RECORD.

Wednesday evening's meeting of the school board was one of the shortest on record. It was called to order at 7.50 o'clock and adjourned shortly after 8. Mayor Cobb was in the chair and ten members were present.

The only papers received from the common council was a communication giving the board leave to withdraw on their petition asking for an extra appropriation of $3000. On motion of Mr. Hollis it was received and placed on file.

Superintendent Aldrich in his monthly report urged that two new rooms be added to the Thompsonville school house. At present, he said, there are two rooms, which include different grades. The lower has 34 pupils and the upper 28. The kindergarten, which was established in 1893, has been located in the chapel building which has for several reasons proved unsatisfactory. It was necessary that the whole building should be enlarged and he hoped that the city council would be petitioned to do this. Report referred to committee on school houses.

Mr. Bond, for the finance committee, reported that the school expenditures for the month of May were $14,067.40, and that $881.00 had been expended for furnishing the new Adams school.

The report of the committee on text books and supplies was received and placed on file.

Mr. Noyes then introduced an order, making type-writing, stenography and French elective courses at the High school. It was passed.

An order that the salary of the janitor of the Rice school be $75 was passed; an order that the salary of the janitor of Eliot and Jackson schools be $35, passed; an order appropriating $14,067.40 to meet the expenditures for the month of May expenses; passed; an order appropriating $881 for furnishing the new Adams school, passed; an order that the salary of the janitor of the Ash street Williams school be $12 a month, passed; an order that a sum of money not exceeding $100 be appropriated to meet the expenses of the June military drill at the High school, passed; an order that the present term of the school at the High school close June 23, and the primary and grammar, June 26, passed.

A member from Auburndale introduced an order asking the city council to complete the upper rooms at the Williams school, with proper means of ingress and egress, that they may be used as recitation rooms. The member said that at present the teachers were obliged to use the dressing rooms as recitation rooms. He thought that the improvements could be made at a cost of less than $800 and perhaps $600, and that it was absolutely necessary that it be done. The order was referred to the committee on school houses.

Mr. Hollis introduced an order instructing the finance committee to consider the $3000 appropriation asked for, and what curtailment would be most expedient. Referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Bond said that the appropriation for salaries of teachers and janitors had been cut down and that the finance committee wished further time to give the matter sufficient consideration. He introduced an order postponing the election and appointment of teachers until the June meeting, which was passed.

How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife, second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her face the clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and surest remedy for colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls; B. B. ## BRAVE LASELL GIRLS.

OUT IN THEIR WAR CANOE ON THE CHARLES RIVER THEY RESCUED A MAN FROM DROWNING.

The Lasell girls are very modest, else the following story of their cool-headedness would have been known before this.

One day last week, while the canoe club of Lasell was taking its daily spin on the Charles river, one of the canoes being somewhat in advance of the other, there occurred an accident to the occupants of a third canoe near the leading boat.

Two men were in this canoe, which, owing to a thoughtless movement on the part of one of them, tipped, throwing both men into the river. One immediately extricated himself, the other might have badly had it not been for the presence of mind and skillful management of the Lasell girls in the advance boat.

These immediately put their craft about, and, approaching the unfortunate man, allowed him to lay hold upon it and thus keep himself from going under, after which they made for the shore; seeing, however, a rescuing party coming out in a boat from the boathouse near by, they desisted and waited until their canoe was relieved of its extra burden and the man taken charge of their spin down the river.

Their coolness, good sense and dexterity in handling their boat probably saved the life of the man whom they aided. The steersman of this canoe was Miss Blanche Kelley, the president of the senior class of this year. The others of the crew were Misses Goll of Chicago, Chandler of Malden, Jones of Kansas City, Mo., a student of Ishpeming, Mich.; Robinson of Columbus, O.; Evans of Fort Worth, Tex.; Parish of Chicago, and McDowell of Medina, O.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a quality every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. ## The College Alumnae of Mt. Holyoke.

A successful effort on behalf of the Endowment Fund of Mt. Holyoke College was made on Wednesday by a gathering of the friends of the college at the Newtonville club house. This was under the auspices of the Boston Mt. Holyoke Alumnae Association, which Mrs. Phillips of Newton Highlands is president. The best families of Newton, Boston and vicinity were represented. The musical entertainment consisted of a charming concert by 24 undergraduates of the college, after which refreshments were served in the dining hall of the club house. The affair was a success both socially and financially.

UGLINESS IN MODERN CITY LIFE.

ADDRESS BY MISS L. T. AMES AT MEETING OF NEWTON WOMAN'S FEDERATION OF CLUBS.

The annual meeting of the Federation of Newton Woman's Clubs was held in the Unitarian church parlors, Newton, last Friday. Miss Lucia T. Ames made remarks upon "City Improvements," and prefaced them by saying that the Newtonites were fortunate in having a city that could hardly be improved upon. Why have we so much ugliness in modern city life? she queried. In ancient times the world used to regard beauty, but today our spirit of Puritanism, which eschews ceremony in churches and advocates plain walls and simplicity itself, must be held accountable for the ugliness we have in our cities. The white city of Chicago showed what could be done by a people untrammelled by jobbery and politics. Again, the spirit of commercialism must bear part of the blame for our marvellous cities. Space, air and light added to foresight in our building laws and a study of harmony, as well as the putting of beauty where it is appreciated, can alone offset the terrible ugliness that we see in cities and suburbs.

Miss Ames deplored women sitting down to play whilst in the mornings when they could do so much toward improving our cities by creating public sentiment. Mayor Cobb of Newton in his remarks said it took a great deal of money to go from a rural district to a city equipped with all the art and beauty of cities that boast of centuries of cultivation, and taxpayers were apt to let you know that, too. He believed in harmony, and would like to see a few ordinances made for the ladies, notably in the matter of wearing high hats to the theatre, so as to block out the view of those who sat behind them, and for their wearing the brightest of colors in combination without regard to the least harmony. So, while the ladies could do a great deal toward beautifying the cities, he thought reform in the lines he suggested, excellent as starting points, and conducive of greater harmony than even beautiful boulevards and higher taxation.

Mr. Eckstein, of the Auburndale Improvement Society advocated planting trees on the new boulevard. Several ladies and gentlemen discussed the subject in detail.

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer it promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhoea, it affords instant relief. ## The Newton &amp; Boston Division Line.

The perambulating committees of Boston and Newton had a scorching time last Friday hunting up the stone bounds of their respective cities. Boston was represented by Aldermen Lee, Barry and Bryant, City Clerk Galvan and Chief Surveyor Morrison, while Newton had Aldermen L. E. G. Green and Thomas White, City Clerk I. F. Kingsbury and City Engineer H. D. Woods looking after her interests. There were 26 stone monuments of statutory dimensions along the boundary line.

The work began at Faneuil, on the Boston & Albany railroad, where, down in the marsh on the south bank of Charles river and opposite the United States arsenal, was located the first monument, No. 18, standing erect like a sentinel. The thread of the river is the boundary line, but the stone was placed on the bank so as to be on that line which from it run in a southerly direction over the railroad, up a hill, to monument No. 19. This was found at the farther side of a big field belonging to Andrew N. Burton. No. 20 was on Washington street, about 1700 feet west of Oak square, Brighton. At this point the lines make an angle and goes straight through No. 21 monument, near 143 Tremont street, No. 22 on Nonantum street, at the dividing point, 151 Brighton and 5 Newton.

On Tremont street the West End people were putting in double tracks from the Newton boundary to which that street in Newton has been widened to 50 feet. The boundary from No. 22 goes over Nonantum Hill, and through the Strong estate to No. 23, on Kenrick street, about 100 feet west of the nursery entrance. Strong's pond contains the boundary line from No. 23, but the Boston aldermen, not having rubber boots, refused to perambulate it. Through the territory near the Upland and the Home for Sheltering Animals, the boundary line continued to No. 24, in the middle of old South street, now Commonwealth avenue extension. About 100 feet west of this is No. 25. These are at the junction of Newton's new boulevard and Boston's Commonwealth avenue. As they now form a dangerous obstruction to travel, they will be cut down flush with the roadway.

Around the curve of the avenue, in the midst of trees and about 200 feet distant from No. 25, at the junction of these thoroughfares, is monument No. 26, a stone of fact. Up to No. 35, inclusive, the monuments are located among the trees and bushes on the bank of the southwest driveway, around the Chestnut Hill reservoir. These 10 bounds are handsome granite monuments, each a foot square.

No. 36, on the southerly side of Beacon street, about 1000 feet east of Hammond street, and at the corner of a private way was reached after a delightful drive. Then the boundary follows, practically, the southerly side of Beacon street around the reservoir, until a tangent point is reached, about 80 feet west of the Newton circuit of the Boston & Albany railroad, to No. 37, which stands almost opposite the summer residence of Mr. H. H. White; thence, in a straight line to No. 38, on the easterly bank of the railroad, a short distance south of Reservoir lane. This stone was the junction point of Boston, Newton and Brookline, and here the section of the Newton and Boston dividing line ended.

The boundary monuments from this one up to and including No. 99 are on the dividing line between Brookline and Boston, and the next Newton and Boston monument is No. 100, about midway on the Brookline southerly line, adjoining Newton.

A lunch was provided at the Chestnut Hill reservoir. To get to No. 100, a cut across Brookline, by carriage, was made, and it was found that the road, after a long tramp through a hen and pig farm, was also had served the triple purpose of making the junction of Boston, Newton and Brookline in that section. The rest of the Newton boundary which runs south and west, through the Newton Highlands, Roxbury, southwesterly to No. 101 on Arnold street, near La Grange, thence to No. 102 on La Grange, near Arnold. It was a long ride through a Grange and Weld streets to No. 103, on Dedham street, Newton, and Baker street, Boston.

No. 104, on the bank of the Charles river, near and west of Cow pasture, completed the perambulation of the Newton line.

One Minute is the standard time, and One Minute Cough Cure is the standard preparation for every form of cough or cold. It is the only remedy that produces immediate relief. Arthur Hudson, Newton; Bernard Billings, Newton Upper Falls; W. P. Thorn, Auburndale.

Intemperance as a cause of Hard Times.

Mr. W. H. Partridge read a very interesting paper on the above subject at the last meeting of the Single Tax Class at 230 Bellevue street on the 12th inst. The following is a partial summary of his stout arraignment of the liquor traffic: "Conservative estimates declare that it worse than wastes annually $2,400,000,000. An amount almost equalling the national debt at the close of the war $2,815,000,000. An annual waste six times the amount of the National revenue, an annual waste that would equal in 25 years the entire national wealth $60,000,000,000, an annual waste exceeding by $500,000,000 the banking capital of the country. It means a river of beer and spirits 236 miles long, 200 feet wide and 10 feet deep constantly annually by our people, 17 gallons to every man, woman and child. It means $46,000,000 wasted every Saturday night. No wonder that Gladstone said that 'intoxicating liquors destroys more people than war, pestilence and famine combined,' that Von Moltke, Germany's great general, should proclaim that 'beer was a greater enemy to Germany than all the armies of France.'"

LASELL'S ANNUAL DRILL.

THE TENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE FAIR SOLDIERS.

Sixty girls in natty suits of military blue turned the velvet lawn at Lasell Seminary into a parade ground, Monday afternoon, and won rounds of applause from hundreds of admiring friends by their military bearing and graceful evolutions at the word of command.

It was the annual summer drill of the Lasell battalion, and, as one jaunty girl soldier expressed it, the battalion was favored with "Lasell weather." Nearly 1000 friends of the students and invited guests of the seminary witnessed the drill, which was held on the grounds south of the seminary building.

The grassy slopes forming the sides of the natural amphitheater in which the drill was held were covered with a mass of humanity, brilliant with scarfs and streamers of yellow and blue, the colors of Cos A and B, and the gray walls of the seminary buildings were hung with festoons of the same color, while every tree trunk and post within the enclosure had been decorated with the colors of one or the other of the rival companies. The "crow's nest" in the elm tree was, however, shared in common by a score or more of "sem" girls in costumes of brilliant yellow and baby blue. Huge "B's" and "A's" appeared at intervals at the windows of enthusiastic supporters of the respective companies. The faculty of the seminary watched the drills from the broad piazza in the rear of the seminary.

Prominent among the spectators were the officers of the Newton High school battalion in full uniform, and officers from the "Tech," English High, Chauncy Hall and Worcester Academy battalions. Others present were: Mr. E. B. Hayward, Oxford, Mass.; Mr. Herbert Lord, Everett; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Lovell, Boston; C. H. Ostrander, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Mrs. William Schermer, Jr., Cincinnati, O.; C. H. Hurd, Uxbridge, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mansfield, Woonsocket; Mrs. Henry P. Moulton, Scituate; Mr. Stanley, Pawtucket; and Mrs. J. S. Wilson, Nahant.

At 3 precisely Maj. George H. Benyon, the military instructor, escorted the judges, Capt. H. P. Ballard and Lieut. Herbert A. Clarke, 8th regiment, M. V. M., and Lieut. Frank L. Locke, into the field, and a few minutes later a burst of applause and a frantic waving of yellow scarfs gave notice that Co. A had begun the competition for the company prize.

The marching in company front was particularly good, the alignment was even, and the cadence excellent, while in the manual of arms the girls drilled like veterans.

Co. B followed, and from the applause with which it was greeted it was evident that the second company was looked upon as a sure winner.

Capt. Chandler's company drilled with more snap than its predecessor, but failed to score as many points in the manual of arms. Its wheeling in company front was far ahead of that seen in the recent school parade in Boston.

Next in order was the junior competitive drill. Thirty-one first year drillers appeared in the first round, under the command of Capt. Chandler. Ten minutes of sharp drill and the squad left the field to return with its ranks thinned down to 19. In the third round only Misses Burroughs, Ollinger, Pierce, DeLong, McDowell and Cecil Lovell appeared. This round brought hard work for the judges. The girls handled their muskets like veterans, and a choice seemed impossible. After 20 minutes of steady drill the squad was dismissed.

The prettiest and most novel feature of the program, the sword drill, followed. Capt. Chandler commanded, and the squad included Lieut. Julia Tulley, Serg. Ethel Lord, Serg. May Muth, Capt. Kate S. Pennell, Lieut. Emma H. Goll, Serg. Alice W. Clarke, Serg. Gertrude H. Jones and Serg. Anna P. Warner. They were armed with single sticks, and the grace with which they executed the difficult sabre strokes won rounds of applause from their observers.

When the sword squad had left the field it was taken possession of by the senior competitive squad, commanded by Capt. Tulley. In the final round, Misses Lord, Muth, A. Kimball, Buckman, Hayward, Jones and Hackett appeared.

Battalion dress parade was the next in order, and the drill closed with the beautiful ceremony of saluting colors.

After dress parade the prizes were awarded amid a frantic waving of company colors by the girls in the balconies and cheering by the girls in the blue and the Lasell girls take no points in cheering from High school boys.

Much to the surprise of the knowing ones the first company prize, an embroidered satin banner, was presented to Co. A. The senior competitive prize, an oxidized silver badge with the monogram "S. S.", was presented to Serg. Gertrude Jones of A company, and the junior prize, a silver maltese cross, engraved with the initials "L. S.", was awarded to private Nora J. Burroughs of Co. A.

The drill over, the spectators dispersed, excepting a few of the guests who stayed to dinner, as did also the judges and Major Benyon, whom Captains Pennell and Chandler, Acting Adjutant Goll, Sergeant Jones and Private Burroughs pleasantly entertained at table that evening.

Altogether the day was memorable in Lasell annals, both for its ideal weather and the satisfactory character of the exercises.

The roster of the battalion and companies is as follows:

Battalion roster: Acting major, Capt. Josephine B. Chandler, Malden; acting adjutant, Lieut. Emma H. Goll, Chicago; acting sergeant major, Serg. Gertrude A. Jones, Kansas City, Mo.; acting color sergeant, private Bessie Bailey, Marion, Ind.

COMPANY ROSTER.

Co. B—Captain, Josephine B. Chandler, Malden; lieutenant, Julia Tulley, Council Bluffs; first sergeant, Mary B. Cruikshank, Hannibal, Mo.; second sergeant, Ethel Lord, Everett, Mass.; third sergeant, Marie L. Barnes, Duxbury, N. H.; corporal, Julia T. Aldrich, St. Louis; corporal, Frances R. Bowman, Council Bluffs; corporal, Sadie M. Farnsworth, Council Bluffs.

The companies are composed of the following privates:

Co. A—Emma L. Aull, Kansas City, Mo.; Martha A. Baker, Jamaica, West Indies; Mabel E. Barber, Omaha; Nora J. Burroughs, Edwardsville, Ill.; Gertrude A. Clark, Northampton, Mass.; Carol M. Case, Highland Park, Conn.; Elizabeth Edson, Washington; Rena M. Goodwin, Biddeford, Me.; Lillie Hockman, Hagerstown, Md.; Maria Holcomb, New Bedford; Oliver Healey, Brooklyn; Lucilla B. Knapp, Auburn; Jeannette C. Lovell, Boston; Ethel H. Lasell, New York; Edith F. Montlon, Salem; Katharine McDowell, Medina, O.; Katherine S. Mason, Boone, Ia.; Harriet R. Ollinger, Milton, Fla.; Georgia E. Peck, Minneapolis; Ethel

J. Pillsbury, Tilton, N. H.; Katharine H. Pierce, Milford, Me.; Louise W. Richards, Weymouth, Mass.; Violet I. Wellington, North Oxford, Mass.; Nellie S. Wilson, Nahant.

RENEWED OLD ACQUAINTANCES.

ANNUAL REUNION OF WEST NEWTON ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL SCHOOL ALUMNI.

The annual reunion of the West Newton English and Classical School Alumni Association was held last Friday evening in Pierce Hall, Boston, and the event will long be remembered by those who participated. There were present more than 100 persons, including the alumni and the members of the senior class, and representatives of the classes from 1874 to 1896.

Among the members of the alumni present were old scholars who had come many miles to participate in the reunion. Some came from different parts of New England, the West, and even from South America and Cuba.

Prior to the social features of the reunion, which consisted of a supper and dancing, there was a business meeting, at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Eugene Fay; secretary, Mrs. Florence H. King; treasurer, Edward C. Burrage; executive committee, Henry M. Nourse, Mrs. William H. Gould, Elizabeth P. Thurston, George D. Davis, Mary P. Metcalf and Lyman A. Bowker.

After the meeting, at which there were several informal speeches, a collation was enjoyed, after which there was dancing until 1 o'clock.

The Time for Building

Up the system is at this season. The cold weather has made unusual drains upon the vital forces. The blood has become impoverished, and impure, and all the functions of the body suffer in consequence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great builder, because it is the One True Blood Purifier and nerve tonic.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with all who use them. All druggists, 25c.

School Troubles.

To the Editor of the Graphic:—It is well and praiseworthy for all citizens to feel an interest in every department of our city, police, streets, sewage, water supply, and especially in the schools.

It indicates a correct condition in the body politic when those to whom are delegated these important trusts are held to a strict account for the discharge of those trusts. This is right. There is, however, a limit to any legitimate interference with the experts who are in charge, and who know far more than the citizens upon the subjects "delegated to them."

It would be foolish and presumptuous even in the city council to attempt dictation, as to road bed construction, to our able superintendent, Mr. Ross.

In Mr. Aldrich we have a gentleman of the highest ability and strictest integrity as superintendent of our schools, a thorough master of the situation. An expert in all departments of public school work, well-known among educators as such throughout our state. The school committee of our city, gentlemen and women, are selected by the different wards as best prepared to wisely advise with the superintendent.

Under this management the character of our public schools has been constantly raised until they rank among the very best in Massachusetts. The good people of Ward Three, having a laudable ambition to have their children enjoy the best possible opportunities, urged our school committee and superintendent to transfer certain classes from the Adams to the new school building.

I judge that the citizens as a whole have entire confidence in this school committee and superintendent, that they are acting for the highest and best interests of the city and its schools in deciding as they have that the not old and thoroughly renovated Adams school shall not be abandoned. Therefore, while according the best of motives to my numerous friends in Ward Three, I suggest to them that it is sensible and just in our citizens to leave such matters with our excellent superintendent and his able advisers, the school board of Newton.

NATHANIEL T. ALLEN.
West Newton, May 26, 1896.

It Goes Without Saying

that when you are suffering from catarrh, you want relief right away. What is the use of experimenting with blood purifiers upon a disorder resulting from climatic changes? Use a local remedy for a local disease. Use Ely's Cream Balm, which relieves at once the attacks of catarrh and cures chronic cases. 50 cents at all druggists. This remedy can be safely used by all without injurious results. It contains no mercury or injurious drug of any kind.

Reformers and the Schools.
[Boston Herald.]

Charles Dudley Warner in the latest Editor's Drawer of Harper's Magazine protests against making our common schools vehicles of certain fads and reforms. He cites as instances of this, the effort on the part of state legislatures to force in text books on physiology, which are prepared with the sole idea of teaching the danger of alcohol. "They are not scientific works," he says; "they are not, as a rule, true; they are exaggerated and extravagant to an extent that must react upon any sound mind that is forced to feed on them."

It is not temperance that is taught in them, but fanaticism. It forces the pupils into a study of diseased conditions, to the exclusion of more wholesome study. Mr. Warner holds that the mind is improved by the study of good, and not of evil. "I should expect," he declares, "much better moral results in a school where the teachers had character and were themselves examples of rectitude and enlightened discrimination than in a school that had occupied itself for years in the contemplation of a drunkard's stomach. I should expect better results for the cause of temperance."

Mr. Warner pleads for good teachers and healthy work under them, and the point he makes here may profitably receive the attention of certain well-meaning people who have had their minds too exclusively fixed on one theme to the exclusion of the development of children's natures on a broader scale.

Food, when it sours on the stomach, becomes imminently and unwholesome. It poisons the blood, and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

Why is the woman attractive and another not? It is not entirely a question of age or features or intellect. The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. Everybody doesn't realize just what it is that makes her womanly. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Health brings all these things, but health means more than most people think of. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Upon her strength in this way depends to a large extent her general health, her good looks and her attractiveness. Some women are born stronger than others. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." It is easier for some women to retain health and strength than it is for others. Some seem able to do anything they like, whenever they like, without serious results. Still, there is no reason why women should not enjoy perfect health. Those who do not need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It is absolutely certain. There are some who have neglected themselves so long that a complete cure is next to impossible, but even these will find comfort and improved health in the use of the "Favorite Prescription." It has cured hundreds of women who have received no relief whatever from years of treatment with good physicians. It is absolutely unique in the history of medicine. Such a remedy can be discovered only once. There is nothing in the world like it, nor has there ever been. Hundreds of things that every woman ought to know, are contained in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, which will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS.

The board of aldermen have been getting more and more in the habit of late years of dropping into executive sessions on any pretext, without regard to the fact that by so doing they are acting in violation of law. The charter expressly provides that all sessions of the city council shall be public, "except when action is taken upon appointments or removals." It was not intended that there should be any secret chamber proceedings or anything done for which the members could not be held responsible, and in fact this provision is in every city charter. The reason is obvious, as in the government of a city all citizens are directly interested and they have a right to know what is being said and done by their representatives.

In the case in question on Monday night, it was clearly proper for the applicant for a license to be present at a hearing on the question of granting it, at a regular meeting of the board, and citizens had a right to attend, as well as the newspaper reporters. Witnesses on both sides were present and the applicant for a license had every right to hear what objections might be made against him.

It is said that the action of the board was due to the fact that the objectors did not wish their names made public nor their testimony. If they had good grounds for their objections they should have the courage to state them openly, as the public have a direct interest in the matter, and if the applicant is an unmitigated liar to receive a license, the public ought to know it and the reasons therefor. The applicant was backed by men of the highest standing in Lower Falls, men who are usually well posted on affairs in that village, and these men were also entitled to know what was to be said against the applicant, or whether there was any ground for the objections other than the desire to have total prohibition prevail in that village, no matter whether spirits were for actual medicine or not.

Secret charges against an applicant are not usually worth much consideration, and objectors ought to have the courage of their convictions. It is always very difficult to secure reliable testimony in such cases, as so much of what one hears is simple gossip that it has to be sifted carefully, and many a witness would unfortunately make assertions in a secret session that he would not make in open meeting.

As for the secret session business, the general impression is that it has gone far enough in Newton and that the aldermen should hereafter pay more attention to the regulations laid down in the charter, especially when they are as specific as they are in this case. They should be more ready to take the people into their confidence, as the people of Newton are most of them of average intelligence and quite as able to form an unbiased opinion on questions affecting the city as the members of the city council. Deciding matters in secret session has sometimes been disastrous to the political fortunes of those engaged in such business. The charter expressly gives the people the right to be present at any meeting of the city council, unless appointments are being considered.

BUILDING IN NEWTON.

A surprisingly large amount of new buildings have been put up in Newton the past year, which will mean an addition to the city's valuation of nearly three quarters of a million, according to the figures on the books of the inspector of buildings.

Since the first of January, 1895, permits for 138 new houses have been taken out, ranging in value from $2,000 to $6,000; six permits for business blocks, the highest cost of which is set at $20,000; and 29 permits for new stables, to say nothing of the additions to present buildings.

On the book the estimates for these figure up a total of $645,445, but these estimates are very conservative, as in many cases they will not represent half the cost. It would be a fair estimate to say that the city's increase in valuation from new buildings alone, will be over a million dollars.

With the great amount of land in all parts of the city that is being developed, it is predicted that this same increase can be looked for every year for many years to come, which ought to have some influence in keeping the rate down.

The death of Col. Frank H. Forbes at West Newton removes one of the veteran newspaper writers of Boston, who had won a high position for his excellent work. He was a recognized authority on all points connected with the earlier history of Boston and vicinity, and his articles over the signature of "Franklin" in the Saturday Evening Gazette always attracted attention. In the palm days of the Traveler he was one of its editorial writers and has since been one of the regular reporters of the State Senate. Besides this he has sent a weekly Boston letter to the Hingham Journal, which was the special feature of that paper, and the first thing its readers looked for. He has also written occasionally of late years for the GRAPHIC, his articles being always highly prized. He was a very shrewd observer, and could see through pretension and mere vain show at a glance, but his cynical comments on such things, though sometimes biting, were never unkindly, and he will be greatly missed by newspaper readers. One of his most interesting reminiscences connected with Newton was the beginning of the old Boston & Worcester railroad, and how the first plan of entering the country west of the Charles river at Needham, now Wellesley, was to be through Watertown and Waltham, but which was frustrated by the landholders of Watertown, who did not want a steam railroad through their town. The land through Newton was given for the purpose, and Watertown was left.

SOME of the residents of the lower part of Waverley avenue take exceptions to the comments in last week's GRAPHIC on the application of the Commonwealth Avenue Street Railway Co. for a location on that thoroughfare. They claim that from Sargent to Tremont street the property owners are opposed to a street railway, and say that they will make a very strong fight against it. There is no question that a street railway is always a nuisance in a narrow street, and every one will sympathize with the residents on the lower end of the avenue in their efforts to prevent such a nuisance in front of their houses. A communication in another column calls attention to the necessity of widening the street if a location is granted there, as the street is now very narrow, and on account of its winding about, the tracks would be especially dangerous. Evidently the hearing to be held next Monday will be even more exciting than we predicted.

THE gerrymandering of the Senatorial districts is troubling the Waltham Free Press. Waltham is put in a narrow district some 40 miles long and a few wide, including Medford, Winchester, Lexington, Lincoln, Weyland, Sudbury and Marlboro. The Free Press says "this condition of things is brought about, not in the interest of the voters, and in accordance with the spirit of the constitution of the State, but to accommodate the ambitions of would-be office holders. We hope the people will make note of every man who votes for such a scheme and see that he stays at home in the future." Newton has about as much ground for complaint, as it is put with Watertown, Weston, Natick, Sherborn, Framingham, Ashland, Holliston and Hopkinton, the ends of the district having nothing in common, but the manipulators evidently paid no attention to that.

THE annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation was changed from December to June, to allow of the stockholders being present, and the Trustees hope that a large number will attend this year. It is appointed for June 10th, in the cemetery chapel.

MEDFORD has just completed a new High school building, costing only $175,000, and yet it is a very large and handsome structure. Our public property committee, who are talking of $250,000 for an addition to our High school, ought to visit Medford.

EVIDENTLY "the sun do move," as at the school board meeting, Wednesday, a resolution was passed to have the finance committee consider methods of retrenchment. Even this is encouraging.

Property Owners Object to Railway on Waverley Avenue.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:
I notice in your paper of the 22nd inst., your comments upon the two railroad hearings, to be held at the City Hall, June 1st.

I am surprised that you think that the proposal to put electric cars on Grant and Waverley avenues will be welcomed by the property owners on said streets. The fact is, that more than 70 per cent. of the residents or property owners on Waverley avenue seriously object to the scheme.

In the first place, Waverley avenue is so narrow, that electric cars could not be run upon it, without widening the street; in many places it is scarcely 20 feet wide from gutter to gutter, and to widen it, means an immense cost to the taxpayers of Newton for land damages, etc., and many places would be utterly ruined.

People came here from Boston and built good houses upon the street to escape the noise and nuisance of electric roads in Boston, supposing they would have a quiet place for a country home, and why should they be driven farther into the country, to accommodate a railroad that pays nothing for the privilege of using the street, and its managers cannot but admit, that such a road cannot pay its stockholders anything upon so great an investment for years to come. The city is already expending more money for widening streets, and other improvements, than is relished by its taxpayers, and why increase it, at the expense of its property holders, for the benefit of a street railway, that pays the city nothing?

The one resident on Skinner Hill referred to in your article, who moved to Wellesley, (who by the way has two daughters in school there), knew when he built on the upper part of Waverley avenue where he was locating, and because he and some others so far removed from the Albany railroad station, have houses or land to sell, is it any wonder that a large majority of residents on the street, whose places would be badly injured, should be decidedly opposed to the scheme?

Many who have good places, declare that they will sell and move out of Newton, if permission is granted to locate the road through Waverley avenue.

If a road is necessary, why not open a new street between Centre street and Waverley avenue as was proposed by the boulevard commissioners a few years ago, then if people want to settle on the line of said street, with electric lines through it, they can do so. Such a plan would probably cost but little more than widening of Waverley avenue, but it would open up undeveloped land, and when built upon, would increase the taxable property of the city, while the other plan would decrease the value of every place on the line, certainly below Sargent street, besides causing a large expenditure, and the removal of many families from the city.

In several places the grade would be very steep on Waverley avenue, and there would be much danger at the crossings.

Waverley Avenue.
Newton, May 28, 1896.

MEMORIAL DAY.

THE EXERCISES AS ARRANGED BY CHARLES WARD POST.

The exercises of Memorial Day will begin in the morning, by the sending out of detachments by Chas. Ward Post (2), to decorate the graves in the (outlying) cemeteries: West Newton cemetery at 7:30; Highlands cemetery at 8:30 a. m.; St. Mary's, Lower Falls, 10 a. m.; Newton cemetery, 8:15 a. m. Commander Whitney will decorate the graves of members at Mt. Auburn.

Dinner at 11:30 at the post headquarters. The Daughters of Veterans will have charge of the arrangement of flowers at headquarters, and also of the dinner.

The procession will form at 1:30 p. m. on Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, and move at 2 o'clock, up Walnut street, to Newton cemetery, according to the full program printed last week. After the exercises at the monument, the route will be Walnut street to Beacon, to Lake avenue, to Walnut, to Lincoln, to Hyde school, where the dress parade will take place.

A banquet and camp fire will be held at Lincoln Hall, after the dress parade. On Sunday, the Post will attend service at the Congregational church, Auburndale, at 10:30 a. m., and at Channing church, Newton, at 3 p. m. Dinner will be served at headquarters at 1 p. m.

Clafin Guard Veteran Association.

ADDRESSED THE SCHOLARS.

PROMINENT GRAND ARMY MEN SPEAK AT THE DIFFERENT SCHOOLS.

This morning and afternoon prominent members of Charles Ward Post (2), addressed the scholars of the different schools telling of their interesting war experiences and of the observance of Memorial Day. This has been the custom for the past two or three years, and one that has always met with the hearty endorsement of the school committee and the citizens. Among those who have kindly volunteered their services were Messrs. A. T. Sylvester, C. W. Sweetland, W. D. Wetherbee, W. W. Montgomery, W. D. Tripp, B. F. McDaniel, John Ryan, W. T. Shepard, C. S. Ober, H. D. Egan, C. W. Randall, C. C. Bragdon, W. E. Huntington, Daniel Greene, J. B. Chapin, S. E. Howard, J. B. Gould, J. A. Hamilton and J. L. Malle.

Details consisting of two or three of these gentlemen were made by Commander Whitney and the different parties visited at the schools as follows: Bigelow, 9 a. m.; High, 10 a. m.; new Adams, 10:30 a. m.; Clafin, 11:30 a. m.; Pierce, 2:30 p. m.; Williams, 2 p. m.; Hamilton, 2 p. m.; Wade, 2 p. m.; Hyde, 3 p. m.; Mason, 3 p. m.; Rice, 2 p. m.; and Thompsonville 1 p. m.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is apparent. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at J. G. Kilburn's Drug Store, Nonantum and Bernard Billings', Newton Upper Falls.

Memorial Day.

NEWTON, May 12th, 1896.

—The regular meeting of Mt. Ida Council, Royal Arcanum, was held in Denison hall, Monday evening. Four candidates were initiated and two admitted by card.

—80 fresh eggs $1; choice creamery butter, spring lamb and beef roasts, at hard time prices. Fowls 13 and 15 cents, at Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street.

—Miss Katherine Oliver gave the second reading in the Congregational church parlors, Wednesday evening, to an appreciative audience. Her selections were from "The Little Minister."

—Mr. N. W. Shepard of Boston has purchased a house on Wildwood avenue, leading from Waterbury street, and has placed it in charge of the Loomis real estate agency for renting.

—Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Mildred Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Thompson, to Mr. Herbert Morgan Chase, Wednesday evening, June 10, in the Congregational church.

—Among the June weddings is announced that of Miss Nellie Maria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fenn, to Mr. Vivian Greenidge. The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening, June 10, in the Universalist church.

—Special services all day at the Methodist Episcopal church. Preaching by the Pastor, Rev. Franklin Hamilton, both morning and evening. Morning topic, "The Coronation," at 10.45. Evening topic at 7.30, the first of the new series of talks to young people, "On the Duty of Being Mad." Special music. Seats free to all. Everybody is welcome.

—St. Tamina Day was observed by Norumbega Tribe, No. 76, I. O. R. M., at their last council. An interesting paper on the life of the great pagan saint, the Red Men, was read by Past Sachem J. G. Kilburn, and amusing letters were read containing local hits on several of the brothers. Visitors were present from Waltham and Newton Highlands. Adoption degree at next council on three pale faces.

—The Song Recital by Miss Edith Marion Bradford, which had been postponed on account of her illness, occurred May 12th. There was one feature distinguishing it agreeably from other recitals given in Newtonville, and that was the absence of a reader; the omission was appreciated by the true lovers of music. The program was charmingly rendered, the songs for Miss Bradford well showing the wide range of her voice and the care which has been given to its training. "Awake, Awake, Awake," "Handel's," "Gavotte," "Awake, Awake, Awake," were well done. The former, however, was originally arranged for high soprano, and the transposition of it to suit a contralto voice, due to the fact that Miss Bradford is a contralto, was difficult, but was well done. The high notes required a soprano voice, but were well executed. In the lighter pieces, "Scotch Johnnie," was especially well given. The "Slumber Song," "Matti," well calculated to show Miss Bradford's voice as contralto, the very low note was distinct and mellow. It is hoped she will keep the purity of her low tones and not injure them by straining after high ones. Miss Harriet Whittier, the soprano of Rev. E. E. Hale's church, filled the place of Miss Dinklee, who was ill. The "Cuckoo Song" was charmingly rendered, and the manner, in the duet, in which she united with Miss Bradford, after the latter's solo, was perfect. Too much cannot be said in praise of the work of Mr. Carl O. R. M. The recitals were beautiful and were artistically executed. He was well sustained by the gentleman accompanist. "Legende," "Wienawski," a difficult arrangement, was admirably done and carrying of what might be termed three parts was given clearly, delicately, and with a great deal of expression, and his quiet, unassuming manner was very pleasing. Indeed, the simple, earnest manner of all the performers was a charm in itself. In aiding and supporting the vocalists Miss May Ayer showed herself a thoroughly well trained pianist.

—The Madrigal Club gave its first series of concerts in Denison hall, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The cosy hall was comfortably filled at both performances by friendly and appreciative audiences who listened with pleasure to the varied program presented. The concerted singing by the club members of "The Miller's Wooing" and "The Moonlight" was especially good. Mr. S. G. Grahame Nobbs is deserving of considerable praise for the excellent training which was shown by the singing of this and "The Trial by Jury." Mr. S. Homer Eaton read Ruth McEnery Stuart's "Maria's Motin" very acceptably and received merited applause. The third number was the rendering of "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," by Miss Josephine P. Martin, which was very effective. Mr. Arthur Shepherd's pianoforte solo was remarkable for its brilliant execution. The "Trial by Jury," which followed, was given with a smoothness worthy of a professional performance. The cast was one of even excellence, each part being taken in a manner calculated to produce the most effective points. The pretty bridesmaids and impressive juries sang their songs in a bright and pleasing manner, that was equalled by the fervor and earnestness of the chorus. Cast for Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury": Judge, Mr. S. Homer Eaton; Plaintiff, Miss Cora E. Davis; Counsel for Plaintiff, Mr. Howard M. Fletcher; Defendant, Mr. S. Grahame Nobbs; Foreman of Jury, Mr. A. Lyman Wakefield; Usher, Mr. Charles W. Wells; Bridesmaids, Miss Josephine P. Martin, Mrs. E. D. Hale, Miss Kittie Thompson, Miss Julia S. Doane; Jurymen, Messrs. Chase, Cummings, Hazleton, Persons, Thompson; Chorus, Mrs. Ayrauan, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Wells, Misses Crain, Manning, Rogers, Ross, Persons, Pettie, Sylvester, Thompson, Messrs. A. D.

—It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched, and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

—Tuesday evening a very pleasing old folks singing meeting was given at the Methodist church. There was a large attendance and the affair was decidedly a success. Among the individual singers who took part, special mention should be made of Miss Pluta, whose voice was especially pleasing.

—On Tuesday afternoon Miss Kate Plummer gave her annual pupils' recital at the residence of Mr. E. L. Pickard. The mothers and a few of the pupils' friends made a very enthusiastic audience. Among the others, four little children, all under eight years of age, were present. Mr. Plummer has been training for some months, attracted universal attention, all agreeing that they did their teacher great credit by the part they took in the recital.

—At the Evening Club on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Wm. C. Bates of Newton gave a delightful exposition of the Donna Pietsos of Dante, partly her own and partly from Prof. Carpenter's essay. The subject was shown to have a fascination which few had known even among the earnest devotees of Dante. Mrs. Bates was elected an honorary member. A committee of arrangements was chosen to make preparation for a reception to Mrs. John Sherwood of New York. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, June 2d, for the election of officers and other business, at Mrs. Parker's.

Lasell Notes.

—On Thursday afternoon of last week the class in dress-cutting, having finished the course of lessons in that useful art, gave an exhibition of their handiwork in this line, and of their skill in executing each girl wearing on the occasion a dress of her own making, and the class measuring several of the visitors' present, and drafting patterns from the measurements taken.

—The organ recital took place at evening in the gymnasium, Misses Baker and Chapin rendering very effectively several fine pieces of organ music, and Misses Cadmus and Burroughs rendered to the pleasure of the entertainment by singing a number of songs. This recital was one of a series which Miss Plummer's pupils have given at intervals through the year, and which have all been well received.

—Saturday evening was emphatically the Canoe Club's evening, being the time of their annual picnic on the Charles. There were eight or ten canoes, each girl of the club having had the privilege of inviting a friend; the weather was just right, and the supper at Lily Point, a complete success. The hours were from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. Miss Ransom, the Captain, was present with the picnic, and apparently nothing was lacking to make the occasion a delightful one.

—John Bragdon spent Sunday at home.

—Miss Alice Hazelet of Williamsport, Pa., is visiting Mrs. Wagner.

—On Saturday the girls of the cooking class, who desired to compete for the bread making prize, made their loaves. The result of the test will not be made public until Commencement Day, but all the bread is said to have been of excellent quality.

—Miss Emma Hall of Rome, where she has for some years been engaged in the mission work of the M. E. church, lectured to the students on Saturday afternoon. Miss Hall spoke of Rome as it was in its palmy days, and dwelt particularly upon such parts of it as are connected with St. Paul's stay in the city. From this she passed to the work there, with which she has such close relations, and closed by presenting to her audience its needs and needs.

—The prize drill took place on Monday. See another column.

HOW CARL THE GARDENER BECAME KING CHARLES.

(Copyright, 1896, by Walter B. Guild, Boston.)

CHAPTER III.

The witch's daughter, not wishing to be known in case she should be seen, had appeared this time with very light hair and a light complexion. In fact, she looked altogether different from her appearance when Carl had met her before.

Because she thought that no one could guess who she was she pretended that she had never before seen Carl, but that she was traveling on that road and was intending to go to the castle the next day at twelve o'clock.

She told Carl that the witch had many slaves, and that they could all be liberated by any truthful young man who should remove the enchanted chair from the castle.

Carl knew this to be true, and the witch's daughter, who thought to deceive him by telling him much of the truth, gave other information which was of great value. Carl knew it all to be truthful, for the fairy rabbit had whispered to him that whenever the witch's daughter tried to deceive him she would make a special sign which he would easily understand.

Thinking that Carl was completely deceived, and not only that he did not know her, but that he was filled with admiration of her beauty, the witch's daughter told him that she or any one entering the witch's castle between twelve and one o'clock at noon the next day would be invisible.

Because this was true, the fairy rabbit made no sign, but she had warned Carl that whether he be seen or not seen, whoever entered the witch's castle at noon would immediately be enchanted and become a slave of the witch. She had also warned him on no account to enter the castle at any hour which the witch's daughter might name.

Carl thanked the beautiful young lady and said that he would be pleased to see her the next day about one o'clock, and having taken careful directions as to the whereabouts of the castle he bade her a very pleasant good night.

Promptly at twelve o'clock next day Carl was at the appointed place, but he had rubbed the cup so that he and the horse were both invisible!

Just before one o'clock, too late for him to enter the witch's castle in time for the enchantment to take effect, Carl rubbed the other side of his cup and appeared to the witch's daughter, who was very impatiently awaiting his coming.

She, of course, scolded him for being so late, but said she would meet him tomorrow between twelve and one o'clock and told him to be sure and be on time.

Carl now called his friend, the fairy, and the fairy, still appearing as a rabbit, told him that she would upset the hourglass in the witch's castle and would move the noon mark so that the witch and her daughter would not know the exact time. She then showed Carl a small tree and said: "When that tree makes a shadow so that the point shall touch your rock, then you will know that it is one o'clock and that the hour of enchantment is passed. You must, then, having made yourself invisible, follow the witch's daughter."

Carl waited patiently for the witch's daughter to appear. The hourglass had been upset, and accordingly she came later than she had intended. She urged Carl to come immediately to the castle with her and felt very sure that this time, just as she had succeeded in doing with others who had come to remove the enchantment, she would be able to make him a slave.

Carl carefully watched the shadow, which was very near the point that would show the hour of safety, and talked with her very pleasantly. In this way she patiently waited, and thinking that it would do him no good to tell him all he wanted to know.

When Carl was sure that it was safe for him to follow the witch's daughter, he told her to lead the way.

She started immediately, but before they had gone far Carl rubbed the magic cup and became invisible. Then the white rabbit brought him a pair of enchanted slippers, which made no noise, and as the witch's daughter had told him to be very quiet this did not cause her to suspect that Carl was not there.

Suddenly she turned to speak to Carl and did not find him. She then whistled loudly, and the handsome black horse, who used to be the Prince of Southland, appeared at her call.

But after she had ridden a few minutes she knew it would be too late. Accordingly she rode the black horse to the castle and left him hitched to a tree some distance from the gate.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NEWTON FEDERATION AT WEST NEWTON.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held its first annual meeting in the Unitarian church, West Newton, on Friday, May 22, 1896, the president, Mrs. Walton, in the chair.

The morning session was devoted to business. Reports were made by the secretary, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, Newtonville; the treasurer, Miss Anna C. Ellis, Newton Centre; the chairman of the educational committee, Mrs. Chandler Holmes, Newtonville; the chairman of the committee on municipal affairs, Mrs. Dr. S. A. Sylvester, Newton Centre; the chairman of the committee on household economics, Mrs. Henry H. Carter, Newtonville, and the chairman of the City Improvement Committee, Mrs. N. T. Allen, West Newton. The president of each club belonging to the Federation reported upon the work of her club during the past year, and the reports showed that the women of our city are active and interested in the best things.

The afternoon session was under the care of the City Improvement Committee, Mrs. Nathaniel T. Allen, chairman. The speakers were Miss Lucia T. Ames of Boston who spoke upon "A Beautiful City Life," Mr. King of West Newton upon "Low Rates of Taxation at the Expense of the Beauty of our City," Mayor Cobb upon "The cost of beautifying our city and the desirability of making haste slowly," Mr. Edward J. Auburndale upon the general disposition of the citizens to make improvements. A general discussion followed.

For the information of those who may not know this Federation intimately a few extracts from the secretary's report may be set out of place.

"A year ago this month on May 17, 1895, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was organized.

The following named clubs form this Federation: The Social Science Club, Newton; Woman's Guild, Newtonville; Educational Club, West Newton; Auburndale Evening Club; Monday Club, Newton Highlands; Shakespeare Club, Newton Highlands; West End Literary Club, Newton Highlands; Woman's Club, Newton Centre; Reading Club, Newton Centre; The Ladies' Home Circle.

The following officers have served during the past year: President, Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, West Newton; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, Chestnut Hill, Mrs. D. N. Peloubet, Auburndale, Mrs. G. G. Phipps, Newton Highlands; secretary, Mrs. W. C. Boyden, Newtonville; treasurer, Miss Anna C. Ellis, Newton Centre. Eight meetings of the executive board have been held and five Federation meetings. The first Federation meeting, the birthday of the Federation, May 17, 1895, was held in West Newton at which meeting Mrs. Phipps of Newton Highlands presented a paper upon "The Objects of Women's Clubs."

The second meeting held Oct. 21, 1895, at Newton Centre, was a reception to Mrs. Harcourt of Chicago, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. After an introduction by Mrs. Walton addresses were given by Mrs. Henrietta, Mrs. Mary Livermore and Mrs. Ered. The third meeting held Nov. 13, 1895, at Newton Centre, was under the charge of a program committee of which Mrs. Sawyer of Chestnut Hill was chairman. The speakers were Mr. Winfield S. Slater upon "The City," Mr. Gordon of the Y. M. C. A., Boston, upon "The Gateway of a New Civilization," and Mrs. Chant of London upon "The Civic Duties of Women."

The fourth meeting held on Jan. 22, 1896, in Newton, was under the charge of the educational committee, Mrs. Chandler Holmes, chairman. The speakers were Miss Lucy Wheelock upon "Education Through Self-Activity," Hon. John W. Dickinson upon "The End to be attained by Public School instruction and the means to this end," and Mr. Aldrich, Superintendent of Newton public schools, who spoke upon "The Kindergarten and its relation to the Home and Primary School."

The fifth meeting held on March 11, 1896, at Newtonville, was under the charge of the household economics committee, Mrs. Henry H. Carter, chairman. The speakers were Mrs. Alice Peloubet Norton upon "Bacteriology," Miss Margaret Worcester upon "Relations of Mistress and Maid," Mrs. G. G. Phipps upon "Co-operative Housekeeping," Mrs. Henry H. Carter upon "The Work and Aims of Household Economics Committees in General."

A report of the Industrial School at Nonantum was read by Mrs. Merrill of the Social Science Club. The meetings of the executive board have been very well attended. The ladies have shown themselves earnest and ready to work.

The work has been carried out in various lines through the standing committees. These committees are, the educational committee, Mrs. Holmes, chairman; the committee on municipal affairs, Mrs. Sylvester, chairman; the committee on household economics, Mrs. Carter, chairman, and the city improvement committee, Mrs. Allen, chairman. Each committee has worked well.

The executive board are indebted to various churches and homes for their courtesies in offering places of meetings. The reports of the committees will show the extent of their work, and it is true that we live in deeds not years, we may congratulate the dedication today upon reaching its first birthday.

Certainly the board of union strengthened by this dedication, as well as the good work done, is a matter of congratulation.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Elms Junction, she was brought down with Pneumonia exceeding in its progress, terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at J. G. Kilburn's Drug Store, Nonantum, and Edward Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

AN HONEST DOCTOR.

He Strongly Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Best Medicine Ever Invented for Women—Advises His Patient to Use It.

The following letter from Mrs. E. R. Weber, of 1707 Jefferson St., Baltimore, Md., should dispel all doubt from the minds of the most skeptical people.

"I was a great sufferer of falling of the womb and kidney trouble. My dear old doctor said I would never be a well woman until I had undergone an operation, and even then, I would always have trouble; that the womb was too weak to go without a support. I had been six weeks in bed and they were getting ready to perform an operation, when I picked up a paper that had been laid on the bed, and glancing at it, saw your advertisement.

"I begged my husband to let me try a bottle. He at once got it and I began its use. My improvement was rapid, and soon I was able to be around, feeling like a new woman. My doctor was surprised, and thought my recovery was due to his remedies. I showed him the Vegetable Compound and told him that my recovery was due to that alone. He looked at it and then said, 'Mrs. Weber, I do not believe in patent medicines, but I will say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine that God ever invented for woman.'"

Continue to use it. I did so and am entirely cured of all my troubles, and am strong and well. It will prove to all suffering women the blessing it is to me, if they will try it."—Mrs. E. R. Weber, 1707 Jefferson St., Baltimore, Md.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of
smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is
taken internally, acting directly upon the

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. James Early, postmaster, has been absent from business two days from malaria.

—Mr. James Cooney has had his residence beautified by the addition of a piazza fronting the street.

—Councilman Perry has closed his residence here, his wife having taken a vacation during the summer.

—Mr. James Buchanan, superintendent of the Dudley mills, has been in New York the past week on a business trip.

—An accident happened to the engine at the Dudley mills, Monday, putting it out of service until Thursday, and necessitating a shut down during that time.

—The action taken by the board of aldermen in having the hearing granted Mr.
Sherman N. Sears on his application for a druggist's license by taking testimony in privacy was a subject for conversation among everybody here, who openly denounce their action as unfair. Mr. Sears had endorsements from leading temperance men about here, whose signatures he surely could not have produced if his license privilege was abused.

WABAN.

—Miss Fanny Magee is improving rapidly from her illness.

—Mr. W. F. White has passed a few days in Andover this week.

—Ex-Councilman Childs' house has just received a new coat of paint.

—Mr. J. A. Block of the Waban school has been spending a few days in New York.

—The foundations for a new house are being laid on Woodward street near Mr.
Seaver's house.

—Canoeing on the river is getting to be very popular. Waban sends some delegates nearly every day.

A LONG BUSINESS CAREER.

JOHN C. CHAFFIN RETIRES AFTER SIXTY YEARS OF ACTIVITY.

Mr. John C. Chaffin on Monday retired from active business, as a member of the firm of John C. Chaffin & Co., whose men's furnishing goods store has been for so many years at the corner of Franklin & Washington streets, Boston. This closes an active business career of nearly sixty years.

In 1837 he entered the employ of his brother, Darwin Chaffin, who was the pioneer in this line of business, and the first man in Boston to open a shop exclusively for gentlemen's furnishings. Darwin Chaf-fin's place was opened in 1835 at No. 90 Washington street, a point which today is opposite the Rogers building. At that time the famous old landmark, Joy's building, occupied this site. Mr. Chaffin died in 1844, and his business was closed up after his death. John C. Chaffin started in business for himself in 1846, in a small brick building one and a half stories high, at the northeast corner of State and Washington streets. This place possibly may be remembered as having been occupied previously by John Bigelow & Son. Mr.
Chaffin remained there for about three years, and at this time the "Pagoda building" was erected. This was famous in those days as the highest building on Washington street, if not in the whole city.
This is the building now standing on that corner, and Mr. Chaffin's store was the first floor, where the banking house of F. H.
Prince & Co. was for many years the occupant. Throughout the war Mr. Chaf-fin was found at this place, and afterward he leased the building at the corner of Washington and Franklin streets, which he later purchased.

At the time of the great fire his building was one of the fated ones in the district, and was destroyed, with the entire stock of goods. Although well insured, Mr.
Chaffin suffered heavily like others; but he was undaunted, and immediately rebuilt on the same site. His building was the first one to rise triumphant from the ashes of the burnt district, and was the first in which business was resumed after the fire. From then until the present day he has continued in a prosperous way, and has won the respect of the people of this city from his long and honorable business career.

It will be interesting to learn that he has numbered among his best and regular patrons some of the most famous names of his time, many of whom have long since died, while Mr. Chaffin himself seems fully able to take an active part in life for many years to come, should he care to do so.

Among his customers have been the following-named men: Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Charles Sumner, Harrison Gray Otis, Josiah Quincy, the grandfather of the present mayor of Boston, John Wendell, Holmes, James Russell Lowell, Henry W. Longfellow, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Robert C. Winthrop, Governor Andrew, Governor William Claflin, Governor
George N. Briggs, General Butler, General Banks, Joseph Jefferson, William Warren, Rufus Choate, Sidney Bartlett, ex-President Franklin Pierce, Nathaniel Thayer, Levi Everett, Salmon P. Chase, Eli Storr, Secretary C. S. Hamlin, Peter C.
Brooks, Patrick Grant, Hollis H. Hunne-well, R. G. Shaw, Charles Sprague, Chas.
Levi Woodbury, and many other equally famous names. Besides all these, Mr.
Chaffin has had for patrons nearly all the mayors of Boston, who have been in office in his day. Mr. Chaffin's junior partner, George S. In, will remain at the old store and continue with F. W. B. Sellers & Co.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liverrman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago my spring brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely.
The first application of Chamberlain's Pain
Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by
A. Hudson, Newton; B. Billings, Newton
Upper Falls; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville;
J. H. Green, Newton Highlands; B. B.
Buck, Newton Centre.

NONANTUM.

—Herbert Skinner is reported quite ill.

—Berkman Bros. have opened their new store in Murphy's block.

—Mrs. Abbott and family of Pittsfield have removed to this place.

—Miss Elizabeth Frye of Beverly, has been visiting relatives in this place.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dyson, formerly of this place, but now of Hudson, will sail June 6, on the "Gallia" for England.

—Gen. Martin of Boston will address the meeting of the P. S. A., Sunday afternoon, June 7. He is expected to deliver an interesting discourse on the Civil War.

—Michael Driscoll, 4 years old, wandered away from home Saturday afternoon and was found later, by Officer McAleer, sound asleep in Harrington's lumber yard.

—Last Sunday, Mr. W. H. Partridge delivered an interesting temperance lecture at the meeting of the P. S. A. Next Sunday afternoon a memorial service will be held.

—Officers Burke and J. J. Davis seized an express train belonging to Nally of Watertown, Friday afternoon, and arrested the driver, Patrick O'Brien, on a charge of illegally transporting liquor.

—The case of Delia Flaherty, who was charged by her parents with being a state born child, came up in court Saturday morning and the young girl was placed in the charge of Probation Officer Lattie.

—Ex-Mayor B. B. Johnson of Waltham will deliver a memorial address next Sunday at the Buelah Baptist Mission. The scholarship of the Sunday school are preparing to celebrate its first anniversary Sunday, June 6.

Another Hearing on the Adams School.

The old Adams school question was given another hearing before the public property committee Friday evening, to enable the school board to present its side of the question.

Alderman Tolman presided and all the members of the public property committee were present. Seven members of the school board were on hand.

President Edward Hollis presented the school authorities' case. He stated that the old building was in far better condition than many other school houses, not only in Newton but in the state. He sold the land might bring $8,000, while the value of the property was about $20,000. If the school house was abandoned another brick school house would be needed within a year or two, making three brick buildings in Newtonville. The Hyde school house was already overcrowded and the growth of the Adams school was equally rapid.
The only additional expense caused by the maintenance of two buildings was fuel.
The committee had plans, he said, for speedily utilizing the whole of both buildings. Mr. L. E. Coffey and Mrs. Martin followed in support of Mr. Hollis.

ing up medicine leads everything ever produced. It is positively the best. Others may make the same claim. But there's this difference: We prove it. Not by antiquity, but by Merit. Not by what we say, but by what Sarsaparilla does.
It has a record of Cures unequalled in medical history.

It positively, perfectly and permanently cures when all other medicines fail.
That the keen discrimination of the people recognizes its merit and the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, is shown by the fact that they buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to the exclusion of all others.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a larger sale than all other blood purifiers. It wins confidence everywhere because the statements in its advertising and testimonials are verified by all who take it. No other medicine has ever received such praise, or so many voluntary testimonials of wonderful cures. No other medicine possesses the peculiar combination, proportion and process used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla, and which give it merit peculiar to itself. This is the secret of its wonderful power, of its wonderful sales, of its wonderful hold upon the confidence of the people. This is why it cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh, Rheumatism, all Humors, Kidney and Liver troubles, Dyspepsia, That Tired Feeling, builds up the nerves, creates an appetite and strengthens the whole system. Its merit, its sales, its

HE CAUGHT AT A STRAW.
And Found a Bulwark of Strength and Safety.

C. B. Downs, of the freight department of the Boston & Maine Railroad at Portsmouth, knows what it is to suffer from hunger with food within reach, which he could eat, but not digest. He lives at 39 Daniel Street, and tells his experience in the following words:—

When I was 14 years old I began to be troubled with indigestion, which as I grew up became worse instead of better, until I found it hard to keep any food on my stomach. Everything
I ate caused me pain and distress, but I did not look like a dyspeptic and so did not get much sympathy.

I tried as many as a dozen different things, but they all failed to cure me, and like a drowning man I was ready to catch at any straw offering the least hope of rescue. Then I tried Puritana and was not only relieved by it from the pain, but in a short time completely cured of my indigestion.

I could eat sausages without their hurting me, and I found that Puritana had given me a new stomach that would digest any food. I believe that I was the first person in Portsmouth to use Puritana, but not the last, as I know that since then many people have taken it, with wonderful results.

James H. Crowley, of Concord, N. H., is not only an athlete but one of the fastest amateur runners in the State.
What he says below shows how a man's strength will go if the stomach is not right.

I had dyspepsia for years. Sometimes I could hardly stand up, and I could not eat anything without pain and agony. Of course I tried to get relief, but met with failure after failure until there seemed to be no hope left. At last I was persuaded to give Puritana a trial.

The result was marvelous. It not only relieved me, but it made me perfectly well. Instead of being doubled up with pain, Puritana has given me a stomach like an ostrich, that will digest almost anything.
There is nothing too strong for me to Seminary, Andover, as president of the Boston Mt. Holyoke College Alumnae Association.

—The funeral of Mr. Thomas Needham took place on Wednesday. Prayers were held at his late residence. The public service was at Mr. Auburn chapel, Rev.
Mr. Phipps officiated.

—At the Congregational church next Sunday morning, Rev. Lawrence Phelps will preach a memorial sermon and music will be rendered by the choir appropriate to the occasion.

—Next Sunday, being Trinity Sunday, services at St. Paul's church will be at 10.45 and 5, the pastor officiating. It is desired at the afternoon service to make young people especially welcome.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Dr. Lowe is reported quite ill.
—Mrs. E. A. Trask of Medford is visiting friends in this place.
—Mr. Fred Hurd of Medford spent Sunday in this place visiting relatives.

—Mr. Wm. Lowe's residence on Chestnut street is being painted and improved.

—A. Rankellor has leased the house, corner of High and Winter streets, and will soon occupy it.

—Mr. J. J. Gould has disposed of his estate on High street and intends to remove to Newtonville.

—Several young men of this place have organized a cycling club and will soon hold a meeting and an election of officers.

—The many friends of Mr. A. E. Soule will be glad to learn that he has returned from the hospital and is improving in health.

—Mrs. T. A. Welch, for many years a resident of this place, died Friday morning at her home on Ellis street. The funeral services were held Sunday and the interment was at Needham.

—Mr. Julius Peterson entered the races at the bicycle park in Waltham, Saturday.
For the first time on the track he made an excellent showing and his friends are confident of his future success.

—Mr. H. W. Fanning observed his 80th birthday last Saturday and received the heartiest congratulations of relatives and friends. The old gentleman is enjoying the best of health and bids fair to add a number to his four score years.

—Dr. Hildreth has returned from a successful fishing trip in Maine. The genial doctor and his brother like the fishing and record at Rangeley Lakes by making a catch of seven brook trout, which weighed, collectively, 21 pounds. Three of the fish together weighed 15 pounds. Dr. Hildreth has two excellent photographs as mountains, one of the fishing party and one of the trout.

—The franchises granted to the Needham & Newton Street Railroad Company for street locations in Newton and Needham by the Newton and Needham board of selectmen, expire the 1st of June, and no move has yet been made to lay the tracks. It is understood that the Needham selectmen have a bond of $1000 filed with them by the company, to be forfeited unless the road is in operation on that date. The recent death of one of the principal projectors of the proposed railroad is believed to be the cause of the delay. An extension of the franchise will probably be asked, and the board of directors hope for a favorable reply.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Rev. R. G. Miller, brother of the pastor, will preach next Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

—At the M. E. church, next Sunday evening, the Whitney family of Newton will give one of their delightful temperance services. Dr. C. N. Whitney is an able temperance orator, Mrs. Whitney is a fine temperance reader, and Mr. and Mrs.
Whitney, Jr., are accomplished singers.
All will take part.

—Next Thursday and Friday evenings, June 4 and 5, Prof. Abraham Dobbins will deliver his two famous stereoscopic lectures on "Ben Bur" and "The Prince of the House of David," illustrated by the finest colored views of the Methodist Episcopal church. Senator J. D. Miller of Leominster, after hearing these lectures, last week wrote in the Daily Enterprise
"Prof. Dobbins did remarkably well. The story was very interesting and the illustrations were good. The lectures were

Poison Ivy.

The Newton Horticultural Society have put a man at work on the city streets to destroy Rhus toxicodendron, or poison ivy, and it is hoped to banish this noxious plant from the city. If any of our readers know of places where it is found, along any street, they will confer a favor by sending a postal to Chas. W. Ross, L. H. Farlow or J. F. C. Hyde.

NEWTON CLUB.

The tennis tournament, which was arranged to be played on the club courts, Memorial Day, has been postponed until a later date.

Mortgagee's Sale Of Real Estate.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William J.
O'Brien and Catherine E. O'Brien to Lester D.
Waltson, of October 18, 1895, and recorded with Middlesex (So. Dist) Deeds Lib. 242, page 12, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Monday, the twenty ninth day of June, 1916, at 12 o'clock, p. m., afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows, to-wit:

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and State of Massachusetts, called West Newton, being a portion of the Lot marked A on a Plan of Property in West Newton, belonging to John B. Smith, deceased, made by E. S. Smith, dated October 1893, recorded with Middlesex (So. Dist) Deeds, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the Northeasterly line of River street, equidistant from the Northwesterly and Southeastern lines of said Lot A and running Southeasternly by said River street, 675 feet six and one half feet to Lot marked B on said Plan; thence running Northeasternly, by said Lot B, sixty five feet; thence Northwesterly by land of said Catherine E. about thirty seven and one half feet to a point in the centre of a line drawn from the extremity of said line, measuring sixty five feet across said Lot A to a point distant sixty five feet Northwesterly from said River street, measured on the Northwesterly line of said Lot A; thence Southwesterly by land of said Catherine E. about sixty five feet to the point of beginning.

Being a portion of the premises conveyed to said Catherine E. by Annie L. Gannon, by deed recorded as aforesaid, November 7, 1885. Said Plan is recorded in Plan Book 83, Plan 26.

Five Hundred Dollars of the purchase money to be paid at time of sale; other terms made known at time and place of sale. For further particulars inquire of the Massachusetts Title Insurance Company, Devonshire Building, Boston.

day afternoon by the Misses Mason at their home on Ward street, Newton Centre.

A gymnastic drill for the benefit of the Teacher's Annuity Guild will be held in the High school gymnasium on Saturday, June 13, at 7.30 p. m. The tickets are 50 cents each and may be obtained from the officers of the Calisthenic Battalion.

The Newton-Brookline debate takes place this evening in the drill hall. Mayor Cobb will preside and the judges will be Albert L. Harwood, William H. Lincoln and Prof. George R. Hovey. Several musical selections will be given by the High School Orchestra. The bill is: Resolved—That the United States should recognize a state of belligerency in the Island of Cuba.
This is a question of great importance and any one would find it interesting to hear it discussed. Brookline takes the affirmative side and Newton the negative.

The men entered in the interscholastic athletic meet to be held on June 5th, are Owens and Burdon in the 100 yds. and 220

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.
To all persons interested in any of the real estate of Thomas Carey late of Newton in said County, deceased, intestate.
Whereas, Susan Carey of Newton in the County of Middlesex, has presented to said Court a petition, representing that she as the widow, is interested in the real estate of said deceased lying in this Commonwealth; and that the whole of said real estate does not exceed in value the sum of five thousand dollars; and praying that the whole of said real estate which is described in said petition may be assigned and set out to her by the Court according to law.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of June, A. D.
1896, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested who can be found within the Commonwealth, fourteen days, at least, before said Court, and if any one cannot be so found, by publishing the same in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton once in each week, for three successive weeks, the last publication to be on or before said Court.
Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of May in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.

Proposals are invited for furnishing the City of Newton with two thousand tons of coal, more or less, of furnace and stove, to be delivered promptly at such times to Feb. 1, 1897, and in such quantities as the Committee may direct, into the bins at the Almshouse, City Hall, Armory, Police Stations, Public Library, the several Schoolhouses and Fire Department buildings and City Stables.

About 500 tons will be required on the South side of the City and the remainder on the North side. Bids will be received for delivery on either the North or the South side of the City or the whole. The coal must be of best quality, hard white ash, Lehigh or Schuylkill, properly screened and free from slate. The Committee reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Proposals to be addressed to the Committee on Fuel and Street Lights, City Clerk's office, West Newton, and will be received until Saturday, June 13, 1896, at 12 o'clock M.
Per order Committee.
